To Students and Prospective Students:

It is my pleasure to welcome new and returning students to campus and to introduce the campus to prospective students considering additional training and a professional education in the arts. I was attracted to the North Carolina School of the Arts because of its commitment to excellence, its one-on-one training for students and its alumni successes. The education they received – and that you will receive – is second to none.

The North Carolina School of the Arts has established a reputation as the premier institution for advanced and comprehensive study in the arts beginning at the high school level and continuing through the graduate level. Within the faculties are recognized professionals, scholars, educators and practitioners. Studies in general education and specialized courses will excite and motivate students given the small class size, the quality of the faculty, and the professional focus in the arts schools. We enhance that experience with more than 300 performances annually and numerous guest artists. Many of our Dance, Drama, Film and Music students extend their education through trips to New York, Los Angeles, Washington, D.C., and Europe as part of their education at NCSA. Our Design & Production students boast one of the highest placement rates in an industry where dozens of companies compete for students as they approach graduation.

I think you will find the facilities on campus to be some of the best in the country. In fact, in some disciplines, they are the best. We are adding new facilities and renovating existing facilities to enhance your experience and to showcase your talents. The campus is student-friendly and our mission is to provide quality service, safety and, ultimately the highest level of education in the arts available anywhere. There will be many challenges for you along the way because we expect the best. If you have talent, commitment and enthusiasm, then the North Carolina School of the Arts is the best place on earth for you to be.

This school offers you a once-in-a-lifetime experience, and we are delighted that you have selected NCSA to pursue advanced study in the arts. Where else will you find students singing in the cafeteria, performing in the hallways, dancing in the streets, filming in the community and collaborating across art disciplines? This is a special place and you will sense the excitement, dedication and professionalism the moment you enter your first class.

Wade Hobgood
Chancellor

MISSION STATEMENT

The North Carolina School of the Arts is a specialized institution, offering programs at the secondary and baccalaureate levels in dance, design and production, drama, film, and music, and at the master's level in design and production and music. The school is the only state institution which is dedicated entirely to the professional training of students who possess exceptional talent in the performing arts. According to the Enabling Act, the mission is distinctive.

“... The primary purpose of the School shall be the professional training, as distinguished from liberal arts instruction, of talented students in the fields of music, drama, dance, filmmaking, and allied performing arts, at both the high school and college levels of instruction, with the emphasis placed upon performance of the arts, and not upon academic studies of the arts.”

Its program in the performing arts includes general education programs offered by the Division of General Studies. The School will continue to strengthen and improve its existing programs, and will continue to place emphasis upon recruitment of North Carolina students. The School will also emphasize the further development of those community service activities that contribute to the cultural enrichment of North Carolina, principally through concerts and performances of its faculty and students. These activities form an important element in the professional training of its students.

THE HISTORY OF THE NORTH CAROLINA SCHOOL OF THE ARTS

The North Carolina School of the Arts is a free-standing campus within the University of North Carolina, and is quite different from its 15 sister institutions. Truly a cluster of conservatories, the School is a complex institution with a single, bold mission: to train talented young people for professional careers in dance, drama, music, filmmaking, and theatrical design and production. This training, coupled with the requisite liberal arts education, enables the School to offer undergraduate degrees as well as master's degrees. In addition, the School offers the high school diploma with arts concentration in dance, drama, music, and visual arts. While courses are offered that give students an historic perspective and context in each of the arts disciplines, the primary emphasis in all programs is on performance and production with more than 300 performances each year in campus facilities and on tour. International programs established in the early years in music and dance have continued to provide unique performance experience for students. The School strives to foster an environment akin to that of an artistic colony where students are encouraged to develop their artistic abilities to the fullest. The School also provides a professional training ground where students actively and realistically are involved in preparing for the practical aspects of making a living as artists.

The premise upon which the School was founded in 1963 was indeed unique. Many good ideas, including the establishment of this special conservatory, coalesced during the tenure of Gov. Terry Sanford. State funds were appropriated to begin a performing arts school and a North Carolina Conservatory Committee was established to recommend to the governor a site for the School. In preliminary reports, the committee recommended that "the host city should obligate itself to support the school." In return, "the school must serve the city as an arts center." Not surprisingly, there was considerable rivalry among the major cities of the state to be the site of the new school. The citizens of Winston-Salem, home of one of the first arts councils in the nation, vied for the School with particular zeal. In a two-day telephone campaign, volunteers raised nearly a million dollars in private funds to renovate the old Gray High School building - the city's contribution to the effort. An enticing incentive to the final host city was a challenge grant from the Ford Foundation to prompt the Legislature to appropriate public dollars to support the operation of the arts school.

Dr. Vittorio Giannini, a Juilliard composer, served as the founding president of the North Carolina School of the Arts. Giannini's vision of arts education shaped the School at its beginning and continues to make the School unique among its peers. During its formative years, the School also was guided by people of vision, particularly its Board of Trustees, which was chaired by Dr. James H. Semans and included Smith Bagley, Hugh Cannon, Wallace Carroll, James McClure Clarke and R. Philip Hanes, among others.

Robert Ward, Pulitzer Prize-winning composer and former member of the faculty of Juilliard, succeeded Dr. Giannini as the second president after Giannini's untimely death in November 1966. Ward led the School through its first decade, when policies and programs were still being developed. During his tenure, the School more than doubled its faculty and enrollment; established a School of Design & Production, separate from the School of Drama; and created a high school Visual Arts Program. Ward also presided over the incorporation of the School into the University of North Carolina in the early 1970s, when 16 public senior institutions became constituent institutions of the University of North Carolina. The title of "president" at the School was subsequently changed to "chancellor."

A third composer, Dr. Robert Suderburg, became chancellor of the School in 1974, following Martin Sokoloff, the administrative director, who served as interim chancellor from 1973-1974. Suderburg's tenure was marked by major capital improvements at the School, financed through increased contributions from the state and private sources. Among these improvements were the completion of the Workplace and the opening of the Semans Library; the partial renovation of the old Gray High School building; the acquisition of the former Mack Truck facility; and the renovation of the old Carolina Theatre, now the Stevens Center.

Dr. Jane E. Milley, a pianist and former dean of the School of Fine Arts at California State University at Long Beach, assumed her post as chancellor at the School of the Arts in September 1984, following Lawrence Hart, former dean of Music at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, who was interim chancellor during the 1983-84 school year. During her tenure, faculty salaries were increased; the School received funding from the North Carolina General Assembly for construction of Performance Place and renovation of the Gray Building and Design & Production facilities. She secured increased state funding to operate the Stevens Center; acquired additional student housing; enhanced the visiting artists program; and received approval to develop a Master of Music program and to begin planning for a new School of Film.

In the spring of 1990, Alex C. Ewing was appointed chancellor. He assumed the position in July 1990, following Philip R. Nelson, former dean of music at Yale University, who served as interim chancellor during the 1989-90 school year. Ewing had been associated with NCSA since 1985, when he became chairman of the Board of Visitors. In 1988 he established the Lucia Chase Endowed Fellowship for Dance at the School, in memory of his mother, a co-founder and principal dancer with American Ballet Theatre. A man of diverse talents, Ewing almost single-handedly revitalized the Joffrey Ballet during his tenure as general director in the 1960s; he also owned one of the largest herds of champion Hereford cattle in the country. As chancellor, Ewing oversaw the success of the School's $25 million campaign for endowment and scholarships. He also orchestrated a combination of local, state and national support to secure the establishment of NCSA's fifth arts school, the School of Filmmaking, in 1993. Ewing took a special interest in NCSA's campus plan, successfully lobbying for the rerouting of Waughtown Street (a major city thoroughfare that divided the campus) and establishing a new main entrance to the campus, at 1533 S. Main St. Other capital projects he spearheaded included a new Sculpture Studio, a new Fitness Center, and the start of the Student Commons renovation. Ewing also established fully-staffed alumni and career services offices.

After Ewing's retirement, Wade Hobgood, dean of the College of the Arts at California State University at Long Beach since 1993, was named chancellor in February 2000, assuming the position on July 1, 2000. A native of Wilson, N.C., Hobgood attended East Carolina University, where he earned a Bachelor of Fine Arts and Master of Fine Arts in communication arts. He also has completed the Institute for Educational Management at Harvard University, as well as postgraduate work in Japanese studies and philanthropic studies. Hobgood began his academic career in 1977 as an assistant professor of art at Arkansas State University. He returned to North Carolina the following year to accept a faculty and design director post at Western Carolina University in Cullowhee. In 1984, Hobgood began a seven-year stint at Winthrop University in South Carolina, where he served as chairman of the Department of Art and Design, associate dean of the School of Visual and Performing Arts, and acting chairman of the Department of Music. In 1992, Hobgood was recruited to Stephen F. Austin State University in Texas as dean of the College of Fine Arts, a post he held until joining CSU Long Beach in 1993.

The School has seen its enrollment grow to more than 1,000 students from more than 40 states and a dozen foreign countries. Its faculty numbers more than 120. While its well-known graduates have won critical and public acclaim in concert halls, in films and on stages around the world, others have contributed to the quality of life in Winston-Salem and in large cities and small communities throughout North Carolina, the Southeast and the nation.

THE SCHOOL OF DANCE

The purpose of the School of Dance is to identify and train young, talented dancers from diverse cultural backgrounds for careers in professional companies throughout the world.

Recognizing that it is necessary to begin training at an early age when the body and mind are flexible, the School enrolls talented young students at the high school level as well as at the college level. In addition, younger ballet students of exceptional ability may also be admitted in the eighth grade. High school students who successfully complete all School of Dance requirements will receive an accredited state of North Carolina high school diploma. College graduates may receive either the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree or the Arts Diploma.

The curriculum, while based on the traditional training of ballet and contemporary techniques, remains flexible to absorb and reflect the current directions in dance, including the body therapies. Extensive performance opportunities further develop the student's versatility, a trademark of NCSA alumni.

The varied background of the permanent dance faculty and the extensive exposure to guest artists, currently working in all avenues of dance from classical ballet to the apex of contemporary dance, provide the students with an exciting palate of inspiration.

The faculty supports and assists the divisions of General Studies and Student Life to provide an artistically and culturally diverse environment that nurtures and develops the whole person.

Standards of Achievement and Evaluation

Admission

Admission to the School of Dance at the North Carolina School of the Arts is based on talent and potential as assessed in an audition before the arts faculty in addition to academic transcripts, test scores and personal references. All college applicants must meet the minimum admission requirements of the University of North Carolina.

Class Placement

Ballet students are placed by the faculty into eight levels based on age and technical proficiency. All new contemporary students are placed into the M4 level.

Progress from level to level is based on faculty recommendations, jury classes, written progress reports and end of term conferences detailing the student's strengths and weaknesses.

Attendance Requirements

Punctual and regular attendance in all classes is expected.

In order to receive a grade for a dance class, a student must actively participate in at least 75 percent of the classes. If the student's absences are excused due to injury or illness, then on the advice and counsel of the dean, the student may be either given an "Incomplete" for the course and will make up the work the following term or be permitted to drop the course. No consideration will be made for students with unexcused absences.

There are no unexcused absences allowed in the School of Dance. An unexcused absence may result in Arts Probation, end of term grade of "F" for the course(s), reconsideration of eligibility for scholarship assistance, and ultimately, dismissal from the School. Each situation will be addressed on an individual basis by the dean in consultation with the dance faculty.

Students who cannot be present on the scheduled registration date must, in advance, notify the Dance Office and the Registrar in writing. Dance classes missed will be considered as unexcused absences unless permission to arrive late is given by the dean.

Specific regulations will be distributed at the beginning of the year and posted in the department.

Grading

Grades are based on technical proficiency, comprehension, progress, attitude and attendance. In general, the faculty consider a grade of "B" (3.00) to be the average within each level. Each student's grade reflects progress from that point. Students are expected to maintain a grade point average of 2.8 in their arts classes. A grade of "C+" (2.50) is considered a failing grade and does not meet the artistic standards of the School of Dance.

The School of Dance arrives at final grades based on the average of grades given by the student's teachers. Note: See section "Office of the Registrar" for grading system.

Arts Probation

Students earning less than a 2.80 grade point average in arts classes for a given term are placed on Arts Probation for the following term.

Students on Arts Probation are not permitted to perform during that term, are not to be considered for merit scholarship funds, and must achieve a 2.80 average by the end of the term to be removed from Arts Probation. Students on Arts Probation for two or more terms may not be asked to return to the School.

Continuance in the Program

Dance students are expected to adhere to the policies of the School of Dance and General Studies and the policies in the Campus Life Handbook.

The rigors of training demand a strong, disciplined mind and body. Students are expected to demonstrate substantial, technical and artistic growth through their daily classes and rehearsals. Each student's growth towards technical and artistic excellence is evaluated on a continual basis. To further evaluate the progress of the student, jury classes before the dance faculty and individual student/teacher conferences are held. Progress reports are written on each student. Invitations to continue in the dance program are extended by the faculty on a per-term or yearly basis. Students whose continuation in the program for the subsequent year is in question are notified in writing following the winter term. Students not invited to return may appeal the decision in writing to the dean of the School of Dance within three weeks of notification.

Withdrawal or Termination from School

At the beginning of the academic year, each student, regardless of age, and a parent or guardian of a middle or high school student is required to sign a form indicating that they have read the School of Dance policies and that the student agrees to abide by these policies. A parent or guardian signature is not required for college students. A student who does not adhere to the policies may be terminated from the School.

In certain cases, such as serious illness or injury, when the student cannot actively participate in his/her dance classes for an extended amount of time, it may be recommended that the student withdraw from the School of the Arts. Each case must be discussed with the dean.

Performance Policy

Performance is an integral part of the training program. If a student is selected to perform by the faculty, he/she must perform unless an exception is made by the dean. Failure to meet obligations during any production may result in dismissal from the performance and/or possibly from the School.

Other Policies

Other specific policies may be distributed and posted as needed.

Middle and High School Programs with Concentration in Dance

Ballet students must be at least 12 years old and in the eighth grade to be admitted to the program. Contemporary students must be in the 11th grade to be admitted, although special consideration may be given to exceptionally gifted 10th graders.

All middle and high school students follow the academic curriculum prescribed by the state of North Carolina for its high school diploma. Many students who complete their high school studies at the School of the Arts can fulfill the college undergraduate requirements in fewer than four years based on technical development.

Middle and High School Course Descriptions

DAN 001, 002, 003: Ballet Technique (Ballet Concentration)

DAN 001, 002, 003: Contemporary Technique (Contemporary Concentration)

Contemporary dance training with emphasis on establishing a strong, traditional technical foundation while avoiding stylization in movement. Classes consist of multi-level and spatial combinations designed toward developing a technically facile dancer/performer. Adjunct classes in floor barre, body conditioning and Pilates-based training are strongly emphasized and are part of the technique grade.

DAN 004, 005, 006: Ballet Technique (Contemporary Concentration)

Fundamentals of ballet technique. Classes are designed toward developing a greater comprehension of the technique with an awareness of how it assists in developing the full potential of the contemporary dancer/performer in the competitive field of dance.

DAN 004, 005, 006: Contemporary Technique (Ballet Concentration)

Fundamentals of contemporary dance technique. Special emphasis is given to the ballet student in the area of developing more spinal/torso flexibility, a sense of weight and dynamic use of space. Classes are designed to assist the student in obtaining expanded aesthetic sensibility and allow for further discovery in self-expression.

DAN 011, 012, 013: Pointe/Variations/Repertory

Basic technique of ballet on pointe. Ballet repertory and variations will be introduced to the student.

DAN 014, 015, 016: Men's Repertory/Variations

A class in which special attention is given to the technical requirements of the dance as it pertains to the role of the male dancer. Men's ballet vocabulary, repertory and variations will be introduced to the student.

DAN 020: Character Dance

Basic ethnic dance styles as used in dance performances.

DAN 031, 032, 033: Ballet Partnering

Basic technique of partnering in dance performances.

DAN 034, 035, 036: Contemporary Partnering

This course is designed primarily to build strength and confidence in the dancer while manipulating, lifting and supporting each other in a kinetic relationship. Traditional as well as improvisational material is presented in order to allow for possibilities of interaction in partnering that are not limited by gender alone.

DAN 071, 072, 073: Dance Composition

Principles of techniques of choreography for students in contemporary concentration.

DAN 074, 075, 076: Improvisation

Offers students a deep exploration of movement which acts to extend their choreographic vocabulary for dance composition. It also offers the opportunity to develop sensitivity working with groups in an instant "performance" situation.

DAN 077, 078, 079: Theatre Dance

A variety of dance and dance related courses such as Yoga, Tai Chi, Acting for Dancers and Jazz are explored. The experience broadens the dancer's vocabulary, provides them with additional choreographic materials and promotes open-mindedness and discovery.

DAN 081, 082, 083: Contemporary Repertory

Emphasis is placed on developing both technical and practical skills necessary to adjust to a wide variety of contemporary repertory. Faculty direct classes working from video or personal experience in works of traditional and more contemporary choreographers. Consideration is given to solo as well as group choreographies. Repertory classes are part of scheduled workshop performances.

Continuation of DAN 077, 078, 079. Prerequisites: DAN 077, 078, 079.

DAN 090: Performance Attendance

Required of all dance students. Attendance at a minimum of one entire performance of each concert series – Fall Dance, "The Nutcracker," Winter Dance, Spring Dance, Emerging Choreographers, each end of term workshop – and lecture/performance by guest dance companies. In addition to required attendance, students may be required to submit a written critique to his/her major teacher. Pass/Fail.

DAN 098: Introduction to NCSA

DAN 0599: Intensive Arts Projects

Special projects, programs, classes, seminars and performances developed by each of the arts areas, during the two-week period immediately following the Thanksgiving break. These may be either intradisciplinary or interdisciplinary among the arts areas and/or General Studies. Students must enroll in this course each fall term they are in attendance at NCSA. The course will be graded Pass/Fail.

Ballet and Contemporary Bachelor of Fine Arts and Arts Diploma Programs

The Bachelor of Fine Arts and Arts Diploma are awarded on the attainment of professional standards as determined by the faculty of the School of Dance.

All arts courses required for the Bachelor of Fine Arts are also required for the Arts Diploma. No General Studies courses are required for the Arts Diploma, but elective courses may be taken.

To receive the B.F.A. or Arts Diploma, college students must be enrolled and actively participate in the program for a minimum of three years. Upon petition, consideration will be given on an individual basis for advanced placement in select dance courses for:

- NCSA high school graduates who enroll in the NCSA college program
- fourth-year college students who present evidence of the successful completion of one year with a professional dance company as recognized by the Dance faculty.

Traditional as well as improvisational material is presented in order to allow for possibilities of interaction in partnering that are not limited by gender alone. Required for women in fourth year, men all four years.

DAN 151, 152, 153 Music and Motion (1 Credit each Term)

Provides students with the knowledge of basic elements of music as they relate to the study of dance and choreography. These concepts are developed through improvised and choreographed studies, playing of percussion and keyboard instruments, music listening, and concert reviews. The course culminates in a student-directed presentation of music and dance.

DAN 251, 252, 253 Music Perspectives (1 Credit each Term)

An overview of music history relevant to the performer/choreographer, including music from the Renaissance to the present. Library research and concert reviews serve to broaden knowledge of musical styles, develop listening skills, and aid in music choices for choreography. Students select a dance/music related topic for a collaborative research performance project with Dance Perspectives at the end of the year.

DAN 161, 162, 163 Dance Perspectives (2 Credits each Term)

A multi-level survey of the evolution/revolution of dance throughout the 20th Century. Through the use of current dance periodicals, library research, videos and text, the course culminates in live performance bringing dance lineage to life in the present day.

DAN 171, 172, 173 Dance Composition and Improvisation (2 Credits each Term)

Through improvisation the students are offered a deep exploration of movement, which acts to extend their technical vocabulary for dance composition. These two skills are taught concurrently in order that the freshman student is made aware of how they integrate in the choreographic form.

DAN 177, 178, 179 Theatre Dance (1 Credit each Term)

A variety of dance and dance related courses such as Yoga, Tai Chi, Acting for Dancers and Jazz are explored. The experience broadens the dancer's vocabulary, provides additional choreographic materials and promotes open-mindedness and discovery.

Faculty direct classes working from video or personal experience in works of traditional and more contemporary choreographers. Consideration is given to solo as well as group choreographies. Repertory classes are part of scheduled workshop performance.

DAN 271, 272, 273 Dance Composition (1 Credit each Term)

The class prepares the student toward the creation and organization of movement materials into small studies that have as their base the substance of dance: time, space and motion. Emphasis is placed on the development of basic theatrical communicative skills enabling the student to utilize these elements toward greater self expression. Solos and duets allow for simple exploration while providing incentive toward more demanding work in the third year.

DAN 274, 275, 276 Improvisation (1 Credit each Term)

The course is designed to build on earlier foundations of movement exploration and present opportunities for further investigation in personal movement vocabulary as a means toward developing spontaneous performance skills.

DAN 277, 278, 279 Theatre Dance (1 credit each Term)

Continuation of DAN 177, 178, 179. Prerequisites: DAN 177, 178, 179.

DAN 371, 372, 373 Dance Composition (1 Credit each Term)

Development of choreographic skills on a more advanced level. Group choreographies will be encouraged in order to acquire a more facile technique in larger works. Students will also be expected to articulate their ideas on paper, in the form of a grant presentation, as part of the requirement.

DAN 374, 375, 376 Improvisation (1 Credit each Term)

Extending the exploration of movement for choreographic intent through expansion of the theatrical vision. Selection of environments and spaces outside of the formal studio which will provide new stimulus for improvisational work.

DAN 390: Performance Attendance (1 Credit each Year)

Required of all dance students. Attendance at a minimum of one entire performance of each concert series: Fall Dance, "The Nutcracker," Winter Dance, Spring Dance, Emerging Choreographers, each end of term workshops – and lecture/performance by guest dance companies. In addition to required attendance, students may be required to submit a written critique to his/her major teacher. Pass/Fail.

DAN 199, 299, 399 Directed Studies (3 Credits each Year)

Based on technical proficiency, students may be selected for special projects such as performing with the modules or additional performances away from the School which would require additional work and time from the regular curriculum. No more than 3 credits per year. Pass/Fail grade. Prerequisite: technical proficiency.

DAN 499: Emerging Choreographers (2 Credits each Term)

All graduating seniors in contemporary dance are required to choreograph a work. Those designated for public performance on the Emerging Choreographers program shall be juried by the dance faculty.

DAN 599: Intensive Arts Projects (2 Credits)

Special projects, programs, classes, seminars and performances developed by each of the arts areas, during the two-week period immediately following the Thanksgiving break. These may be either intradisciplinary or interdisciplinary among the arts areas and/or General Studies. Students must enroll in this course each fall term they are in attendance at NCSA. The course will be graded Pass/Fail.

Summer Session

The School of Dance offers an intensive program for intermediate and advanced students which includes technique classes in ballet, contemporary, pointe/variations, ballet men's class, repertory, composition, improvisation, creative movement, partnering, jazz, character, music and body conditioning. The outstanding School of the Arts faculty is augmented by guest teachers.

THE SCHOOL OF DESIGN & PRODUCTION

Recognizing the importance of designers and craftsmen as collaborative artists and artisans in the performing arts, the School of Design & Production offers a unique and comprehensive program of instruction and practice in eleven different concentrations in theatrical design, production and project management and theatre crafts. Students design and execute the sets, properties, costumes, lighting, wigs, makeup, and sound, and manage all production aspects for more than 20 shows each year. Design & Production works hand-in-hand with the schools of Dance, Drama, Filmmaking and Music in mounting their productions and projects, including operas, musicals, plays, films, ballets and contemporary dance performances.

The Undergraduate Program

The Bachelor of Fine Arts professional training program is open to college students who wish to specialize in one of five design concentrations or one of five production concentrations. The B.F.A. is earned in a four-year conservatory program.

Design Concentrations:

- Costume Design
- Lighting Design
- Scene Design
- Sound Design
- Wig and Makeup Design

Production Concentrations:

- Costume Technology
- Scene Painting
- Stage Management
- Stage Properties
- Technical Direction

Undergraduate students usually pursue the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree; however, with the permission of the faculty, students may be permitted to pursue the Arts Diploma. Students following design concentrations must pursue the B.F.A.

Bachelor of Fine Arts Requirements

The B.F.A. requires 131 to 145 credit hours in courses in Design & Production and other related arts areas, and must include 48 credit hours in Production.

The B.F.A. also requires 36 credit hours in General Studies courses, which must include GES 101, 102, 103; GES 211, 212, 213; THH 241, 242, 243; LIT 290; one Math/Science elective; one Social Science elective; and one Literature/Philosophy elective. ARH 101, 102, 103 is required for students in the Scene Design, Costume Design, Costume Technology, Scene Painting, Stage Properties, and Makeup curricula.

Arts Diploma Requirements

Undergraduate students interested in taking arts classes but foregoing general studies classes may pursue the Arts Diploma. All Design & Production courses that are required for the Bachelor of Fine Arts are required for the Arts Diploma. Additional general studies courses may be taken but are not required. The Arts Diploma is earned in a four-year conservatory program.

Standards of Achievement and Evaluation

Continuance in the Program

Students are accepted based upon their demonstrated level of achievement and the faculty's estimation of their professional promise. Throughout matriculation, students are continually evaluated and advised regarding their progress and artistic development. At the end of each term, the faculty as a group discusses each individual student's strengths, weaknesses, needs and progress. That information is then shared with the student via his/her adviser.

In addition, all students are required to present their work to the entire faculty at Portfolio Review at the end of the spring term each year. The faculty uses this presentation to further develop an understanding of the student's progress and steer the student's future in the program. Continuation in the program from year to year is not automatic. Students must be invited to continue, and will be invited only so long as they demonstrate substantial and continual growth toward artistic excellence.

Minimum Grade Requirements

To remain in the program, the student must maintain a cumulative 2.0 average in both General Studies and arts courses through the first year, and in the following years, a cumulative average of 2.0 in General Studies courses and 2.5 in arts courses.

Arts Probation and Letters of Warning

A student, who fails to maintain a 2.0 in arts classes in any single term during the first year, or a 2.5 in arts classes for any single term in subsequent years, will be placed on Arts Probation for the following term. Students who, in the judgment of the faculty, fail to demonstrate sufficient professional development in the arts will receive a Letter of Warning and may also be placed on Arts Probation.

Transfer Students

Transfer students are placed according to ability and experience at the discretion of the dean, following review of prior courses and interviews with faculty members. Where applicable, placement tests will be administered and appropriate advanced credit will be given. A transfer student must spend a minimum of two years at the School of the Arts to qualify for the Bachelor of Fine Arts in Design & Production.

Special Programs/Requirements

Supplies and Materials

Students are personally responsible for obtaining their own supplies and equipment for classes and crew (such as drafting equipment, shop hand tools and drawing and design supplies), as well as required (or recommended) textbooks for courses. Expenditures will be heaviest during the first year, as students make major investments that they will use for the rest of their professional careers. Students not already owning some of the major equipment and supplies needed should be prepared to spend $750 or more during the early part of their first year.

Apprenticeship

Students in their fourth year may, with the permission of the dean and the approval of the faculty, receive credit for one or two terms of arts courses for apprenticeship in a professional company. These students continue to pay regular tuition to the North Carolina School of the Arts.

The Graduate Program

The Master of Fine Arts professional training program is open to college graduates who wish to specialize in one of four design concentrations or one of five production concentrations.

Design Concentrations:

- Costume Design
- Scene Design
- Sound Design
- Wig and Makeup Design

Production Concentrations:

- Costume Technology
- Scene Painting
- Stage Automation
- Stage Properties
- Technical Direction

The M.F.A. is earned in a three-year conservatory program where extensive classroom and studio work is balanced with practical production experience. Studio and production assignments escalate in scale and complexity to prepare students to take full responsibility for productions as designers and technicians during the last two years of the program.

Classes are small and the 19 resident faculty members are working professionals and full-time participants in the training program. The faculty regularly gives guidance and evaluation to each student throughout the three-year program. As part of the training process, the faculty occasionally participates in NCSA productions as designers and technicians. Guest master teachers add to the curriculum with workshops in specialized areas. The studio and production work in which the student participates is of the highest professional level in both design creativity and technical execution.

Standards of Achievement and Evaluation

To be eligible for the degree, a student must successfully complete a minimum of 60 hours of graduate credit. Students will be placed in classes according to their abilities demonstrated by their portfolio, placement tests, or courses taken previously as indicated by transcripts. Most students will need three years to complete the program.

Grading System

There is no grade of "D" at the graduate level.

A graduate student may accumulate only a maximum of eight (8) credit hours of the grade of "C" (including "C+" and "C-") and remain enrolled in the graduate program. A graduate student receiving a grade of "F" in any course will be dropped from the program. No student will receive the M.F.A. with a grade of Incomplete.

Portfolio Review

A portfolio showing will be made at the end of each year with a final Portfolio Review before the full faculty at the end of the term in which graduation occurs. Evaluation of career potential will be an ongoing process, and students will be invited to continue in the program only so long as they demonstrate substantial growth toward artistic excellence.

Thesis Requirement

In their final year, students will complete a fully documented thesis production from either a design or technical point of view. The production will actually be produced and presented before the public, and documentation will include, but not be limited to, historical period research, design concepts, renderings, color samples, paint elevations, complete construction and mechanical drawings, cost estimations, schedules, and photographs of the completed production. With approval of the faculty, a student may elect to complete a research thesis rather than a production thesis, particularly in concentrations where research may be a more appropriate challenge for the candidate rather than engagement in a particular production.

Supplies and Materials

Students are personally responsible for obtaining their own supplies and equipment for classes and crew, (such as drafting equipment, shop hand tools and drawing and design supplies), as well as required (or recommended) textbooks for courses. Expenditures will be heaviest during the first year, as students make major investments that they will use for the rest of their professional careers. Students not already owning some of the major equipment and supplies needed should be prepared to spend $750 or more during the early part of their first year.

Financial Assistance

A number of scholarships, grants and assistantships are available to graduate students and are awarded directly by the School of Design & Production. Students are automatically considered for these awards, and need do nothing specific to apply. The Dean makes the awards, which are both need- and merit-based, in consultation with the faculty.

All courses listed may not be offered each year. Lists of courses offered in a given year or term may be obtained from the School of Design & Production office.

DEP 100, 200, 300, 400: Production (4 credits each term)

Practical application of all phases of technical production and design for staged productions. During the first year, assignments to crews and design projects will be varied to ensure broad exposure and experience. Advanced students will be assigned to the areas of their concentration.

DEP 110: Scenery Fundamentals (1 credit)

An introduction to the fundamentals of scenery construction, theatre rigging, tools and shop procedures, and safety.

DEP 114, 115, 116: Welding and Metalworking I (2 credits each term)

A three-term sequence exploring the use of metal as a scenic material. Concentration is on safety, tools, and the various welding and metalworking processes. 114 is prerequisite to 115. Students may only enter 116 with consent of the instructor and the successful completion of 114 and 115.

DEP 120: Costume Fundamentals (1 credit)

An introduction to sewing for stage costumes, including shop procedures, organization and basic techniques of pinning, marking, cutting and machine and hand sewing.

DEP 130: Lighting Fundamentals (1 credit)

An introduction to the mechanics of stage lighting, including instrument maintenance, control boards, color media, basic electricity and shop procedures. In addition, basic stage management and a discussion of a performing arts organizational chart will be discussed.

DEP 137: Introduction to Lighting Design (2 credits)

An introduction to and survey of the principles of lighting design for the non-designer, focusing on the history, development, function and future of lighting design for the stage.

DEP 141, 142, 143: Drafting for the Theatre (2 credits each term)

Intensive training in the various elements of technical theatre and stage design graphics. Included in the first term are ground plans, elevations, sections and orthographics. Second and third terms concentrate on lighting graphics, pictorial drawings, perspective techniques, and presentational styles. Students must successfully complete each term in sequence.

DEP 151, 152, 153: Color and Design (2 credits each term)

An investigation of the basic principles of two-dimensional art and graphic forms through various media and a study of color and color theory through projects in traditional and individual expression.

DEP 154, 155, 156: 3-D Design and Sculpture (2 credits each term)

The study of three-dimensional design and sculpture for the theatrical designer. Sculptural problems will be explored using various media – clay, wire, paper, wood.

DEP 157: Introduction to Scene Design (2 credits)

An introduction to and survey of the principles of scene design for the non-designer, focusing on the process of theatrical design as influenced by the Western physical stage.

DEP 161, 162, 163: Drawing (2 credits each term)

A practical study in developing drawing skills. Special focus is given to space, movement, perspective, and the human form.

DEP 167: Introduction to Costume Design (2 credits)

An introduction to and survey of the process of costume design for the non-designer.

DEP 170: Introduction to Makeup (2 credits)

An introductory exploration of the basic materials and methods used in stage and film makeup.

DEP 171, 172: Costume History (2 credits each term)

A survey of clothing and accessories throughout the Western world from ancient times to the present.

DEP 174, 175, 176: History of Decor (2 credits each term)

A survey of architecture, interiors and furniture throughout the Western world, from ancient times to the present.

DEP 177, 178, 179: Hair History and Styling (2 credits each term)

Brief overview of the history of hairstyles and styling techniques with an emphasis on applications for theatre and film.

DEP 181, 182, 183: A Practical Introduction to Theatre Sound (2 credits each term)

Terms 1 and 2 are a practical introduction to sound, sound equipment, and sound systems utilized by the theatre technician in theatrical production, including a basic introduction to film location recording. Term 3 is an introduction to and survey of the principles of theatre sound design, focusing on the considerations, processes, and breadth of sound design for the stage.

DEP 190: Introduction to Stage Management (2 credits)

The course is designed to acquaint the first-year stage management students with their role on the various productions throughout this campus. Students will become familiar with the guidelines of the Stage Management Department as well as the structure and guidelines of all the various schools and departments with which they will be working.

DEP 191, 192, 193: Film Production Fundamentals (2 credits each term)

A thorough understanding of the entire process, tools, terminology and safety of film production will be taught through lectures, demonstrations, screenings and practical experiences.

DEP 199, 299, 399, 499, 699: Tutorials and Contracts (credits to be announced)

Credit is given for apprenticeships and tutorials originated by the student with faculty approval, for special projects which will significantly enrich the student's growth and development in areas not regularly covered in established courses.

DEP 211, 212, 213: Scene Painting I (2 credits each term)

A study of basic techniques employed by the scenic artist. Emphasis is placed on equipment, procedure and practical application to framed scenery, drops and three-dimensional units.

DEP 214, 215, 216: Welding and Metalworking II (2 credits each term)

A honing of welding and fabrication skills learned in Welding and Metalworking I. Basic machine shop operations will be covered including general tool and shop maintenance. DEP 214, 215, 216 must be completed in sequence or students must obtain consent of the instructor. Prerequisites: DEP 116 or consent of the instructor.

DEP 217, 218, 219: Stagecraft (2 credits each term)

An in-depth study of the tools and techniques of scenery construction, backstage operating systems, and construction materials.

DEP 221, 222, 223: Costume Construction I (2 credits each term)

A study of flat patterning and construction techniques, with emphasis on practical application in theatrical costuming.

DEP 231, 232, 233: Lighting Design I (2 credits each term)

Introduction to the principles, theories, and equipment employed by the lighting designer for the stage. Areas of investigation include color, light sources, control systems and script analysis.

DEP 234, 235, 236: Stage Electrics (2 credits each term)

A survey of the mechanics of stage electrics and the role of the production electrician. Topics will include electrical power distribution, trouble-shooting, pulling the show package and cost estimates for rental packages.

DEP 240: Introduction to CAD (2 credits)

An introduction to computer-assisted drafting (CAD) and its use in theatre. The student's basic CAD skills are developed as a foundation for intermediate and advanced study in their area of concentration. The course will focus on one of several software applications for CAD.

DEP 241: Advanced Drafting (2 credits)

A course which concentrates on improving the speed and style of the designer's drafting. Also included is a review of mechanical perspective.

DEP 244, 245, 246: Shop Practice and Technique (2 credits each term)

Exploration of typical shop organization and methodology, including techniques to improve craftsmanship and productivity.

DEP 247, 248, 249: Stage Properties (2 credits each term)

A study of basic procedures, techniques, and materials that can be used by the designer and technician in the construction of stage properties. Basic introduction to organization and procurement of stage properties. DEP 247 and 248 are prerequisites to DEP 249.

DEP 251, 252, 253: Scene Design I (2 credits each term)

Introduction to Scene Design, emphasizing the design process from script analysis to presentational material, through the investigation of styles of theatre and stage spaces and the application of design variables.

DEP 254, 255, 256: Drawing and Painting for the Designer: Scenery (2 credits each term)

An exploration of techniques and media used in rendering scenic elements for theatre and film.

DEP 261, 262, 263: Costume Design (2 credits each term)

An examination of the fundamental techniques of costume design through a series of historical and problem-oriented projects. Emphasis will be placed on imagination, problem-solving, and growth in both rendering and presentation of work. Costume History (DEP 171, 172, 173) required as a prerequisite or concurrent course.

DEP 264, 265, 266: Drawing and Painting for the Designer: Costumes (2 credits each term)

An exploration of techniques and media used in rendering costumes for theatre and film.

DEP 274, 275, 276: Makeup I (2 credits each term)

An introduction to basic makeup techniques concentrating on creating characters with painting techniques.

DEP 277, 278, 279: Wig Construction (2 credits each term)

An introduction to the techniques used to build hairpieces for the theatre and film. Topics will include ventilating beards, mustaches and wig fronts. Prerequisites: DEP 177, 178, 179.

DEP 281, 282, 283: Sound Design I - The Craft (2 credits each term)

An in-depth study of the tools and techniques used to construct reinforced sound and sound scores for the theatre. Topics include system calculation, drafting and design, color codes and conventions, digital and analogue pre-production, communications, and documentation. Prerequisites: DEP 181, 182, 183, 240.

DEP 284, 285, 286: Audio Electronics (2 credits each term)

A practical introduction to troubleshooting, repair, and servicing of individual components and audio systems used for theatre sound. Consideration will also be given to the redesign and remanufacture of equipment from other fields for use in theatre sound. Prerequisite: Sound Concentration.

DEP 291, 292, 293: Stage Management I (2 credits each term)

An introduction to the fundamentals of stage management as related to current productions as well as professional union requirements. The basic techniques of the stage manager are presented, including the prompt book, rehearsal and performance procedures. In addition, stage management forms and formats will be studied to strengthen organizational skills.

DEP 310: Theatrical Rigging Practice (2 credits each term)

An intermediate level class in theatrical rigging practice. The student will build on a foundation laid in DEP 219: Stagecraft, learning how to design and use rigging systems in theatrical and arena settings. Emphasis will be placed on proper selection and use of rigging hardware and equipment.

DEP 311, 312, 313: Scene Painting II (2 credits each term)

A review of basic processes and techniques will be the foundation for development of more complex assignments. Specialized applicators, dyes, and multi-step processes will be introduced.

DEP 314, 315, 316: Advanced Theatre Technology (2 credits each term)

A continuation of Stagecraft (DEP 217-219) with special emphasis on complex problem-solving and new technology. Included is a brief study of structural engineering with a concentration on problems in scenic construction and mathematical problem-solving.

DEP 317, 318, 319: Technical Direction (2 credits each term)

A more specific examination of theatre technology, including the role of the technical director in production, rigging, special effects, equipment specifications and developments in theatre technology.

DEP 321, 322, 323: Costume Construction II (2 credits each term)

Advanced projects in theatrical patterning and construction with an emphasis on developing problem-solving skills. Possible subjects include corsetry, petticoats, trousers, and draping.

DEP 331, 332, 333: Lighting Design II (2 credits each term)

Theory and practice of lighting the stage for various styles of productions. Emphasis is placed on concept development, design collaboration and script interpretation. Instruction in new systems and mechanical/electrical systems as well as new developments in lighting design.

DEP 340: Intermediate CAD (2 credits)

An intermediate level course in computer-assisted drafting (CAD) for the theatre. The student will continue to build upon basic skills by producing more complex projects and will begin to focus on specific applications. The course will focus on one of several software applications. Prerequisite: DEP 240 or instructor's approval.

DEP 341, 342, 343: Production Management (2 credits each term)

An investigation into the structure of theatre administration and personnel management as it relates to technical theatre, technical direction and stage management.

DEP 344, 345, 346: Furniture and Woodworking (2 credits each term)

Practical study of the construction, upholstery, repair and refinishing of furniture for the stage, and the art of fine woodworking.

DEP 347, 348, 349: Advanced Stage Properties (2 credits each term)

A course revolving around student-generated projects. The purpose is to give the Properties specialist the opportunity to discover and execute projects that they may not have gotten in the production setting or previous classroom experience. This class also engages in perplexing projects that may occur in the productions currently under construction.

DEP 351, 352, 353: Scene Design II (2 credits each term)

A continuation of projects in Scene Design incorporating all of the various theatrical forms, such as opera, ballet, and musicals, as well as drama. Emphasis is on the speed of conceptualization and rendering.

DEP 361, 362, 363: Costume Design II (2 credits each term)

A continuation in costume design intended to give the student the opportunity to explore its many facets, from theatre to dance. All projects are geared toward a strong portfolio.

DEP 364, 365, 366: Advanced Drawing II (2 credits each term)

A studio course using various media and focusing on figure drawing and exterior architectural studies.

DEP 374, 375, 376: Makeup II (2 credits each term)

Continued development of painting skills for dance, opera, drama and film. The student will execute makeups with a variety of makeup materials. Prerequisites: DEP 274, 275, 276.

DEP 377, 378, 379: Wig Construction II (2 credits each term)

Continued development of construction skills by executing more complex projects, including full wigs and character hairpieces. Prerequisites: DEP 277, 278, 279.

DEP 381, 382, 383: Sound Design II - The Art (2 credits each term)

An in-depth study of the interrelationships and considerations needed to fully explore sound design for the theatre. Areas of study include actors, aesthetics, space, time, shape, historical period, music, director, designers, technicians, audience, script analysis, perception, and politics. Comparative reference will be made to sound design for the screen. Prerequisites: DEP 181, 182, 183.

DEP 390: Text Analysis and Directing (2 credits)

A basic introduction to a directorial approach to a production. Conceptual approaches, style, character, and basic blocking techniques are examined.

DEP 391, 392, 393: Stage Management II (2 credits each term)

A course designed specifically for stage managers to increase their awareness of the training of, and problems faced by, performers, directors and choreographers, as they relate to the functions and duties of the stage manager in production.

DEP 410: Advanced Rigging Practice (2 credits each term)

An advanced level class in theatrical rigging practice. The student will study specific techniques in flying scenery, chain motors, trusses, and equipment, as well as safe climbing practices. This course will build upon a foundation laid in DEP 310: Theatrical Rigging Practice.

DEP 411, 412, 413: Scene Painting III (2 credits each term)

A further development of the scene painter's skills with concentration on brushwork, drawing and product selection. New processes and skills relating to the fields of decorative painting and painting for film will be introduced.

DEP 417, 418, 419: Professional Career Development (2 credits each term)

Group discussions on current productions, resumes, portfolio formats, cover letters, personal budgets, establishing credit, taxes and mock interviews. This course is designed for students in their final year, preparing for the job market and life after NCSA.

DEP 421, 422, 423: Costume Construction III (2 credits each term)

Advanced projects in theatrical patterning and construction with an emphasis on developing problem-solving skills. Possible subjects include tailoring, millinery, and sleeves.

DEP 424, 425, 426: Costume Construction IV (2 credits each term)

A series of term projects in the areas of dance costume, mask-making, dressmaker detail, computer-assisted pattern drafting, advanced draping problems, and shape changing through padding. Instructor will select one area each term, depending upon individual student needs and interest. Prerequisite for computer-assisted pattern drafting: DEP 240 during the term immediately preceding enrollment in DEP 425.

DEP 431, 432, 433: Lighting Design III (2 credits each term)

A continuation of Lighting Design II, with special emphasis on discussion and critique of actualized productions. Lighting Design students in this class will, when qualified, design lighting for major mainstage productions.

DEP 440: Advanced CAD (2 credits)

An advanced level course in computer-assisted drafting (CAD) for the theatre. The student will continue to build upon intermediate skills and focus on advanced applications such as three-dimensional drawing and programming. The course will focus on one of several software applications. Prerequisites: DEP 340 or instructor's approval.

DEP 451, 452, 453: Scene Design III (2 credits each term)

An advanced study of the philosophy and techniques of design as they apply to full and complete design packages, including final-year production assignments.

DEP 461, 462, 463: Costume Design III (2 credits each term)

An advanced study of the philosophy and techniques of design as they apply to full and complete design packages, including final-year production assignments.

DEP 481, 482, 483: Sound Design III - The Business (2 credits each term)

Students are guided in their active participation in the running of a business that allocates resources and personnel to, and is responsible for, the sound requirements for all theatrical productions on campus. Additional areas of guidance include contracts, copyright, unions, health and safety, Americans with Disabilities Act, health insurance, pensions, continued learning, and stress management.

DEP 498: Stage Management Seminar (2 credits each term)

Group discussion and individual projects relating to current productions for the senior stage management student; and development of the student's skills to survive in the marketplace.

DEP 500, 600, 700: Graduate Production (4 credits each term)

Practical laboratory application of all phases of design and technical production. Students enroll each term they are in residence.

DEP 510: Advanced Rigging Projects/Practicum (2 credits each term)

An advanced level course in theatrical rigging. The student will study specific techniques in flying scenery, chain motors, trusses, and equipment, as well as safe climbing practices, through hands-on projects and training. This course will build upon a foundation laid in DEP 410: Advanced Theatrical Rigging.

DEP 511, 512, 513: Graduate Scenic Art I (2 credits each term)

A study of basic techniques employed by the scenic artist. Emphasis is placed upon equipment, procedure and practical application to framed scenery, drops and three-dimensional units.

DEP 514, 515, 516: Motion Control (2 credits each term)

Motion control for the stage. In-depth study of the use of control systems and equipment in relation to moving scenery. Computer and other control systems will be covered.

DEP 517, 518, 519: Motion Control II (2 credits each term)

A continuation of the skills and knowledge from Motion Control. More in-depth study in design and programming of complete systems.

DEP 520: Advanced Stagecraft (2 credits each term)

An advanced level class in stagecraft. The student will study advanced techniques in complex scenery layout and construction. This course will build upon a foundation laid in DEP 217, 218, 219: Stagecraft.

DEP 524: Textiles (2 credits)

The study of textiles: fabric construction, properties and characteristics.

DEP 527, 528: Costume Shop Management (2 credits each term)

A study of the skills needed for successful costume shop management, including time management, supervision, leadership, stress management, space management, and health and safety.

DEP 540: Computer Graphics (2 credits)

How to capture and manipulate graphics for use on stage, using digital photographs, scanners and clip art.

DEP 547, 548, 549: Graduate Stage Properties I (2 credits each term)

A study of basic procedures, techniques and materials that can be used by the designer and technician in the construction of stage properties. Basic introduction to organization and procurement of stage properties. DEP 547 and 548 are prerequisite to DEP 549.

DEP 551, 552, 553: Graduate Scene Design I (2 credits each term)

Review and analysis of the principles of scene design for the stage, with emphasis on the use of various stage spaces, research, visual presentation, and integration with costumes and lighting.

DEP 561, 562, 563: Graduate Costume Design I (2 credits each term)

Review and analysis of the principles of costume design for the stage, with emphasis on research, style and character and their integration with scenery and lighting.

DEP 570: Introduction to Prosthetics (2 credits)

An introductory exploration of the basic materials and methods used in creating three-dimensional prosthetics.

DEP 577, 578, 579: Advanced Prosthetics (4 credits each term)

An in-depth exploration of prosthetics techniques and materials. Students will design, sculpt, build and apply human and creature prosthetics using a variety of materials including gelatin, latex and urethane. Prerequisites: DEP 570, 374, 375, 376 (undergraduate); DEP 570, 774, 775, 776 (graduate).

DEP 581, 582, 583: Graduate Sound Design I (2 credits each term)

Individually tailored review and analysis of the tools, techniques, interrelationships and considerations needed to design sound for the theatre. Comparative reference will be made to sound design for the screen.

DEP 591, 592, 593: Graduate Film Production Fundamentals (2 credits each term)

A thorough understanding of the entire process, tools, terminology and safety of film production will be taught through lectures, demonstrations, screenings and practical experiences.

DEP 599: Intensive Arts Projects (2 credits)

Special projects, programs, classes, seminars and performances, developed by each of the arts areas, during the two-week period immediately following the Thanksgiving break. These may be either intradisciplinary or interdisciplinary among arts areas and/or General Studies. Students must enroll in the course each fall term they are in attendance at NCSA. The course will be graded "pass/fail."

DEP 610: Graduate Technical Projects (2 credits)

Students undertake self-directed study in technical projects or topics of their choosing, with the consent and supervision of the faculty.

DEP 611, 612, 613: Graduate Scenic Art II (2 credits each term)

A review of basic processes and techniques will be the foundation for development of more complex assignments. Specialized applicators, dyes and multi-step processes will be introduced.

DEP 614, 615, 616: Advanced Theatre Technology (2 credits each term)

An advanced course in scenery construction techniques and material technology with an emphasis on mathematical problem-solving. A brief study of structural engineering is included, with concentration on its application to stage machinery and scenic units.

DEP 617, 618, 619: Graduate Technical Direction (2 credits each term)

Study in-depth of the functions and responsibilities of production and scene shop supervisors through studio/laboratory sessions.

DEP 620: Motion Control III (2 credits each term)

Advanced study of Motion Control in a Seminar setting. Includes investigations in equipment, software and procedures for control of effects on stage and in the entertainment industry.

DEP 621, 622, 623: Graduate Costume Construction I (2 credits each term)

Advanced projects in theatrical patterning and construction with an emphasis on developing problem-solving skills. Possible subjects include corsetry, petticoats, trousers and draping.

DEP 641, 642, 643: Production Management (2 credits each term)

Study of general management for the theatre with emphasis on the duties of the production manager through lecture and discussion sessions.

DEP 644, 645, 646: Graduate Shop Practice and Technique (2 credits each term)

The exploration of typical shop organization and methodology, including techniques to improve craftsmanship and productivity.

DEP 647, 648, 649: Graduate Advanced Stage Properties (2 credits each term)

A course revolving around student-generated projects. The purpose is to give the Properties specialist the opportunity to discover and execute projects that they may not have gotten in the production setting or previous classroom experience. This class also engages in perplexing projects that may occur in the productions currently under construction.

DEP 651, 652, 653: Graduate Scene Design II (2 credits each term)

Development of skills in conceptualizing the scenic design and preparing it for execution. Emphasis is placed on developing facility and speed with the designer's graphic skills and solving the design problems of multi-set productions in theatre, opera, dance and musical theatre through lecture/discussion/critique sessions.

DEP 661, 662, 663: Graduate Costume Design II (2 credits each term)

Continued development of skills needed to produce larger and more complex costume design projects. In-depth involvement with production concepts and solutions through lecture and critique.

DEP 674, 675, 676: Graduate Makeup I (2 credits each term)

In-depth study of makeup skills, including painting techniques and simple prosthetics.

DEP 677, 678, 679: Graduate Wig Construction I (2 credits each term)

An introduction to the techniques used to build hairpieces for theatre and film. Topics will include ventilating beards, mustaches, and wig fronts. Prerequisites: DEP 177, 178, 179.

DEP 680: Graduate Sound Projects (2 credits each term)

Students undertake self-directed study in sound projects or topics of their choosing, with the consent and supervision of the faculty.

DEP 681, 682, 683: Graduate Sound Design II (2 credits each term)

An in-depth study of, and research into, acoustics and perception as related to theatre sound design. Senior involvement in running a business that is responsible for providing the sound for all the productions on campus. Comparative reference will be made to sound design for the screen.

DEP 711, 712, 713: Graduate Scene Painting III (2 credits each term)

A further development of the scene painter's skills with concentration on brushwork, drawing and product selection. New processes and skills relating to the fields of decorative painting and painting for film will be introduced.

DEP 721, 722, 723: Graduate Costume Construction II (2 credits each term)

Advanced projects in theatrical patterning and construction with an emphasis on developing problem-solving skills. Possible subjects include tailoring, millinery, and sleeves.

DEP 724, 725, 726: Graduate Costume Construction III (2 credits each term)

A series of term projects in the areas of dance costume, mask-making, dressmaker detail, computer-assisted pattern drafting, advanced draping problems and shape changing through padding. Instructor will select one area each term, depending upon individual student needs and interest. Prerequisite for computer-assisted pattern drafting: DEP 240 during the term immediately preceding enrollment in DEP 725.

DEP 751, 752, 753: Graduate Scene Design (2 credits each term)

Directed study in scenic design for theatre, opera, ballet and musical theatre for the most advanced student.

DEP 761, 762, 763: Graduate Costume Design III (2 credits each term)

Directed study in costume design for theatre, opera, ballet, and musical theatre for the most advanced student.

DEP 771, 772, 773: Graduate Wig Design Seminar (2 credits each term)

A course devoted to the techniques of design and construction of unusual "hairgoods." Many of the projects focus on problem-solving and boldly going where no one has gone before.

DEP 774, 775, 776: Graduate Makeup II (2 credits each term)

Development of advanced makeup techniques, including prosthetics, bald caps and applying makeup to others. Prerequisites: DEP 674, 675, 676.

DEP 777, 778, 779: Graduate Wig Construction II (2 credits each term)

DEP 781, 782, 783: Graduate Sound Design III (2 credits each term)

Advanced projects and research into the most complex areas of theatre sound design with comparative reference being made to sound design for the screen. Senior involvement in running the business that is responsible for providing the sound for all the theatrical productions on campus.

DEP 799: Thesis (2 credits)

Preparation and submission of a fully documented production thesis in the student's area of concentration: costume design, costume technology, scene design, scene painting, stage automation, stage properties, sound design, technical direction, or wig and makeup design. The production will be fully produced and presented before the public. Documentation will include design concepts, research material, renderings, fabric/paint samples, elevations, complete construction and mechanical drawings, cost estimates, schedules, and photographs of the completed production. With permission of the faculty, a student may elect to complete a research project, conducted under the close supervision of the thesis advisor, rather than a production project.

VISUAL ARTS PROGRAM

The high school Visual Arts Program is open to entering juniors and seniors only. This exploratory program deals with visual communication and includes instruction and practice in drawing, graphics, color theory, two-dimensional design, sculpture, ceramics, and photography. These courses are supplemented by survey classes in Art History, tracing the visual arts from prehistory to contemporary philosophies. Studio assignments introduce the student to a variety of media and will also question the nature of the creative process and art objects. This is achieved through a carefully planned arts curriculum emphasizing a discipline that promotes intellectual, aesthetic and emotional growth. The Visual Arts faculty also realizes and stresses the importance of the academic program as an integral part of each student's education. All art assignments are scheduled to allow ample time for academic studies.

Visual Arts Faculty

Clyde Fowler, Jr., Director of Visual Arts Program; Drawing, Advanced Drawing (1975)
B.F.A., Virginia Commonwealth University. Studied drawing at the National Academy of Fine Arts in New York and at Art Students League, also in New York. Represented in the 40th annual North Carolina Artists Exhibition, North Carolina Museum of Art, Raleigh. One-person and group exhibitions at the Southeastern Center for Contemporary Art, Sawtooth Center for Visual Design, Wake Forest University, Weatherspoon Gallery-University of North Carolina at Greensboro, High Point Theatre Gallery.

Pamela C. Griffin, Color and Design, Drawing, Rendering (1982)
B.F.A., Syracuse University; M.F.A., Tyler School of Art, Temple University. Instructor/guest lecturer, Goods Gallery, Port Washington, N.Y.; Cazenovia College, N.Y.; Syracuse University, N.Y.

Greg Shelnett, Visual Arts; Sculpture, Ceramics (2000)
B.F.A., East Carolina University; M.F.A., University of Georgia. Associate professor of art, University of Mississippi; faculty exchange, Victoria College of the Arts, Melbourne, Australia; assistant professor of sculpture, University of Georgia. Exhibits include Fielding Wright Art Center, Cleveland; Ministry of Finance Gallery, Melbourne, Australia; UALR Gallery, University of Arkansas at Little Rock; Mississippi Museum of Art, Jackson; Connemara Conservancy, Plano, Texas. Works commissioned for Amnesty International, Washington, D.C.; Victorian College of the Arts, Melbourne. Member, American Foundrymen's Society, College Art Association, International Sculpture Center.

Standards of Achievement and Evaluation

Admission to the Program

Enrollment in Visual Arts is primarily limited to North Carolina residents who qualify for in-state tuition status, as defined in the North Carolina General Statute 116-143.1.

This program is designed for high school juniors and seniors who have artistic interest, dedication and enthusiasm which they wish to pursue in a structured course of study. The presentation of a portfolio (10-15 pieces of work) and an interview are prerequisites for admission. Although many students have had previous art training, this is not a requirement. Final decisions concerning admission are based on the artistic potential of each applicant, letters of recommendation, and a high school transcript.

Continuance in the Program

To remain in the Visual Arts Program, the student must maintain a 3.0 average in studio art classes and an average of 2.0 in the General Studies courses. Failure to meet this requirement will result in a one-term probationary period in which the student must attain a 3.0 average in each studio art class to continue in the program. Students are evaluated by the faculty each term and are invited to continue only as long as they demonstrate substantial growth toward artistic excellence.

High School Diploma

The state of North Carolina high school diploma with special concentration in visual arts is awarded to students who satisfactorily complete the requirements of the Visual Arts Program and of the state of North Carolina for high school graduation.

First-Year Program (2 Units per Year)

Each term, students will normally have two two-hour art studio classes every day, which will include drawing, fundamentals of design and color, sculpture, and three-dimensional design. Classes will stress individual development and critique to develop analysis and self-evaluation.

Second-Year Program (2 Units per Year)

Daily art studio classes will continue on an advanced level. Students also are required to take Art History (ARH) 101,102,103.

Course Descriptions

VIA 011,012,013: Drawing

A practical study to expand the students' ability to experience and to state their world in graphic terms, and to better understand the options and obstacles that confront an individual when drawing. Projects will be designed to explore various concepts and theories of drawing, as well as to expose the student to a wide range of media and material.

VIA 014,015,016: Advanced Drawing

A continuation of beginning drawing, designed to help the student broaden an understanding of the concepts, potentialities and processes involved in drawing.

VIA 021,022,023: Design (Level I)

An introduction to the basic elements of design, focusing on the application of these elements in a series of two-dimensional projects, which involve visual problem-solving and design decision-making. A wide variety of black-and-white (and color) media are used.

VIA 024,025,026: Advanced Design (Level II)

A continuation of Level I Design, stressing the refinement of technique, and further sophistication of form and content. Projects include two- and three-dimensional works in many types of media.

VIA 031,032,033: Sculpture and Ceramics (Level I)

The first year is devoted to problems in three-dimensional design (first term), using paper, cardboard, string and other materials; leading into an introduction to sculpture (second term), using plaster, wood and other sculpture media. Third term is devoted to beginning ceramics, using different techniques of hand-building. Students assist with mixing glazes and firing.

VIA 034,035,036: Advanced Sculpture and Ceramics

A continuation of introductory ceramics with advanced problems in hand-building. Wheel work is optional and is taught on an individual basis. Students assume more responsibility for glaze mixing and firing of the kilns. Second term is devoted to exploring new sculptural problems and ideas using a variety of media, both traditional and experimental. Third term: advanced studio problems in either sculpture or ceramics for half the term. Second half of the term is devoted to a senior project that will satisfy the course demands of all three art classes.

VIA 098: Introduction to NCSA

VIA 120: Introduction to Photography

An examination of the principles of black-and-white photography including the aesthetic balance of light and shadow with emphasis on image message and control. This course is available to advanced students in the Visual Arts Program who maintain a "B" average in Art History.

VIA 0599: Intensive Arts Projects (2 Credits)

Special projects, programs, classes, seminars and performances, developed by each of the arts areas, during the two-week period immediately following the Thanksgiving break. These may be either intra-disciplinary or inter-disciplinary among arts areas and/or General Studies. Students must enroll in the course each fall term they are in attendance at NCSA. The course will be graded "pass/fail."

Summer Session

The curriculum for this five-week program is designed to train talented students in the skills and tools of visual communication. Studio classes are carefully planned to explore the mechanical, philosophical and intellectual aspects of the art experience in terms of the individuality of each student. Written and verbal critiques are given by the faculty to help each young artist more fully realize the potential of his or her creative abilities. Students completing the program will qualify for high school or beginning college credit, and rising high school juniors and seniors may apply for admission into the North Carolina School of the Arts Visual Arts Program for the following academic year.

THE SCHOOL OF DRAMA

The School of Drama is committed to training talented young men and women to be exciting, experienced, accomplished professional actors and actresses. The School responds to a definite need in the profession for actors to be technically well equipped and versatile, as well as creatively inspired. This vital fusion of talent and skill is the concern of the highly qualified professional faculty, which gives close personal attention to each student's development and goals. The School of Drama affirms classical values in its training process. An actor graduating from the drama school will possess a finely honed technique and an artistic sensitivity, capable of discerning standards of quality and integrity. As part of this process, the faculty supports the pursuit of courses in the Division of General Studies in order to provide an artistically and culturally diverse environment that nurtures and develops the whole person. Above all, the actor will be grounded in a behavior that is ethical, disciplined and responsible.

Applicants to the School of Drama may enroll in the college Arts Diploma program or the college degree (Bachelor of Fine Arts) program. Students in the degree program combine intensive training in drama with a full academic program. Students in the diploma program concentrate solely on intensive training in drama. The School of Drama also offers a High School Drama Program for rising in-state high school seniors (12th grade) and a limited number of out-of-state students, leading to the high school diploma.

The Professional Actor Training Program Bachelor of Fine Arts/College Arts Diploma

The Acting Program

Standards of Achievement and Evaluation

Each student committed to a career in theatre engages in a rigorous course of study with required classes in voice, movement and acting. The curriculum also includes more specific skills, including mask work, stage-fighting, verse-speaking, dialects, comedy techniques, singing, musical theatre, and period and style. The schedule for each day includes class work relevant to afternoon and evening rehearsal periods. Major works from the classical repertory through the 20th century are studied. A full schedule of workshops and major productions provides vital performing experience. Every year, students completing the four years of actor training are invited at the recommendation of the dean to participate in a presentation in New York for major agents, casting directors, artistic directors and management from all branches of theatre, film and television.

Admission to the School of Drama

College students are admitted to the program by audition and interview. Audition applicants should prepare three monologues (one classical, preferably from a play by Shakespeare, and two contrasting monologues from contemporary plays). Please be prepared to sing eight to 16 bars of a song without accompaniment. It is recommended that the audition song come from the standard musical theatre repertory. The three pieces and the song must not exceed five minutes total. Each selection should stand on its own as a monologue. Do not use foreign dialects or character voices. Dress appropriately for a rehearsal situation. Costumes and props are unnecessary. Candidates recommended by the Faculty Audition Committee are screened by the Admissions Committee in regard to academic record, potential and social maturity.

Continuance in the Program

Students are invited to continue in the program by the dean only as long as they demonstrate substantial growth toward artistic excellence. The School of Drama reserves the right to dismiss from the program without probation or an official letter of warning any student whose social or professional behavior prevents the School's classes and rehearsals from proceeding in a creative and productive fashion, and interferes with the training of other students.

The School of Drama has developed a program which is designed to provide a full, rounded and highly professional education in actor training. The drama school is aware that its particular professional program is not suitable for everyone.

It is the observation of this faculty that each student in the School of Drama is unique and must develop at his/her own pace. It would be detrimental to ask a student to continue to move forward in the program if his/her personal rate of growth does not coincide with the work demanded. In such cases, the student is asked to withdraw and apply to a training program more suited to his/her developing talents. This is in no way a reflection of the student's abilities, but a recognition of the limitations imposed by the drama school's four-year training program.

After the first two years of training, every student receives a certificate which attests to having fulfilled the preliminary actor training requirements in voice, speech, movement and acting. Those students who are deemed adaptable for the second two years of the actor training program are invited to continue for advanced training.

Classification

College students are classified according to their placement level in the arts program. The normal pattern of progression is one year in each level. Most entering students (college freshmen or college transfers) are placed in the first-year program. (See Advanced Placement.)

Year One

Studio 1

The first year is a probationary year. Students are expected to maintain a minimum 2.5 average each term in order to be continued for the next term.

Years Two, Three and Four

Studio 2, 3, and 4

Students at each of these levels must achieve a cumulative average of at least 3.0 in drama classes. After grades have been considered at the end of each term, the faculty determines if a student should be placed on arts probation for the following term based on these criteria: (1) ability to absorb instruction, (2) assessment of talent, and (3) ability to work and produce a performance. A student placed on arts probation who fails to meet the stated criteria in the succeeding term will not usually be invited to continue in the program.

Failing Grades

Grades of D or F in required arts courses are failing grades and indicate a serious problem. Depending on the nature and extent of the problem, the faculty may, at its discretion, require either: (1) that the student repeat the course or a suitable alternate course, or (2) that the student repeat the year with or without a period of suspension, or (3) that the student not be permitted to continue in the program.

Evaluation (other than grades)

Students are evaluated each term by the entire faculty and informed of their progress. In addition to assigning grades as an evaluation of a student's work, each teacher is expected to provide a written comment. Students are encouraged to discuss with the faculty, at any time, problems and progress in their work.

Advanced Placement

Transfer arts credit from other programs and institutions is not normally given. The normal manner of acknowledging prior training is by advanced placement credit. Transfer students and entering students with substantial previous professional training may, at the discretion of the faculty, be granted advanced placement and awarded commensurate advanced placement credit.

Directing Option

The Directing Option is an introductory course offered in Studio 3 and Studio 4 which prepares students for advanced work in directing and rehearsal techniques. It includes the preparation of a production book, breaking down a script, analyzing and creating a production approach, and fieldwork in related areas of dance, music, design and visual arts.

Beginning in the third year, a limited number of students can elect a directing option at the invitation of the dean.

Transfer students must have the equivalent of the first two years of actor training in the School of Drama at the North Carolina School of the Arts.

Course Descriptions: The Professional Actor Training Program

DRA 131, 132, 133: Technical Theatre (2 credits per term)

A series of three introductory courses in costuming, lighting and scenery. Students learn the use of equipment and basic construction techniques. Skills and knowledge gained in technical theatre classes are used in crew assignments for School of Drama productions. All first-year drama students have production crew assignments.

DRA 330: Production Work (Directing Option) (1 credit per term)

Students will analyze each aspect of production in terms of directing. In a seminar situation students will also create a production book for a specific play selected by the instructor.

DRA 151, 152, 153: Acting I (2 credits per term)

DRA 251, 252, 253: Acting II (2 credits per term)

DRA 351, 352, 353: Acting III (2 credits per term)

These are core courses in the School of Drama. In Studio 1, the student is encouraged to examine the craft of acting through improvisation, text analysis and basic acting. Studio 2 begins work which is continued in Studio 3. Each term's study is used to reveal problems of acting in various styles, i.e., Modern American, Realism, Restoration Comedy, etc. The student is presented with a comprehensive view of his/her craft and its traditions. Each term culminates in rehearsal and performance. The teaching associated with the core courses is designed to develop creativity and imagination while providing a sound technique with which the actor learns to control his or her performance. The balance between "instinct" and "craft" is an important part of this course.

DRA 161, 162, 163: Voice and Speech I (2 credits per term)

DRA 261, 262, 263: Voice and Speech II (2 credits per term)

DRA 361, 362, 363: Voice and Speech III (2 credits per term)

These classes begin with a basic understanding of voice and speech. Vocal techniques are developed with the help of the Alexander Technique. The creative and interpretive use of the voice is explored; verse and dialect are studied and coaching is given when necessary. These classes support the work done in the acting core courses.

DRA 264, 265, 266: Singing Class (1 credit per term)

All students take singing classes. These include chorus work, reading of music and voice production.

DRA 171, 172, 173: Movement I (2 credits per term)

DRA 271, 272, 273: Movement II (2 credits per term)

DRA 371, 372, 373: Movement III (2 credits per term)

The movement training is designed to produce flexible, strong, well-coordinated bodies which will respond easily and readily to the creative demands of acting. Specific topics include theatre movement, period/style, mask, mime, physical comedy, combat, fencing, gymnastics, jazz dance, tap dance and modern dance.

DRA 180: Special Techniques (2 credits per term)

DRA 280: Special Techniques (2 credits per term)

DRA 380: Special Techniques (2 credits per term)

These courses include special classes designed to give students added insight and experience in areas not normally included in traditional acting classes. Special topics may include: character mask, audition techniques, makeup, directing projects and period/style.

DRA 198: Special Topics (1 credit per term)

This may include research in the source of language and vocabulary. The creative energy of language in communication is explored in texts of non-dramatic material as well as classic material. It may also include an introduction to the phonetic alphabet as a means of heightening the perceptions of sound and pronunciation. This course touches on the philosophic, creative and physical aspects of language. Language formation with emphasis on non-dramatic texts and phonetics is explored.

DRA 290: Rehearsal and Performance (2 credits per term)

DRA 390: Rehearsal and Performance (2 credits per term)

Faculty and guest directors use the rehearsal period and performance to extend training. During the rehearsal period, the actor is taught to develop a responsible, professional attitude and approach to the work. The actor learns to maintain a spontaneous and disciplined performance through the run of the production.

DRA 399: Fundamentals of Directing (Directing Option) (2 credits per term)

Directing students will attend all drama productions, workshops and forums; visit museums and art exhibits as assigned; attend music and dance concerts; write evaluation papers; and do assigned field work and scene work. In the spring term, directing students will direct a one-act play.

DRA 499: Rehearsal and Performance (12 credits per term)

In the final year of training, skills of working as an ensemble and artistic independence are developed. Fourth-year students present a season of classical and contemporary plays. In addition, master classes by distinguished members of the profession are given. Graduating students are presented in New York to management, agents and casting directors for theatre, film and television.

DRA 499: Advanced Directing (Directing Option) (12 credits per term)

The fourth-year director is guided toward independent development in various directing projects and scene work. Directing students will continue to have all the requirements demanded in DRA 399. In addition, fourth-year directors will assist guest directors in preparation and rehearsal of major productions, and will be responsible for the preparation and direction of the first act of a three-act play in the spring term, and the presentation of a non-dramatic performance piece during Intensive Arts. Student directors participate in seminars with guest artists and master teachers.

DRA 599: Intensive Arts (2 credits)

At the end of the fall term, all students participate in Intensive Arts, a two-week period in which adventurous creativity is stressed. Students are encouraged to pursue interdisciplinary studies and to develop individual creative projects.

The High School Drama Program

The High School Drama Program is an intensive course of study, focusing on the craft of acting. The program includes instruction and practice in acting, movement, voice and speech, technical theatre, directing, and film appreciation. The carefully planned curriculum emphasizes development of the student's personal resources, aesthetic growth, capacity for artistic collaboration and awareness of theatre's cultural context, while recognizing the importance of the academic program.

Standards of Achievement and Evaluation

Admission to the Program

Enrollment in the High School Drama Program is limited to North Carolina residents who qualify for in-state tuition status, as defined in North Carolina General Statute 116-143.1, and a select number of out-of-state students.

This program is designed for rising high school seniors who have demonstrated artistic interest, dedication, enthusiasm and talent. Audition and interview are prerequisites for admission. Previous training is not a requirement. Final decisions concerning admission are based on the artistic potential of each applicant, letters of recommendation and a high school transcript, followed by an on-campus interview with the student and his/her parent/guardian.

Continuance in the Program

Students are invited to continue in the program by the dean only as long as they demonstrate substantial growth toward artistic excellence. The School of Drama reserves the right to dismiss from the program without probation or an official letter of warning any student whose social, professional or academic behavior prevents the School's classes or rehearsals from proceeding in a creative and productive fashion, and interferes with the training of the other students. The high school year is a probationary year. Students are expected to maintain a 2.5 average in drama classes and an average 2.0 in General Studies courses in order to be continued for the next term. Students are evaluated by the faculty each term and are invited by the dean to continue their training. After grades have been considered at mid-term and again at the end of each term, the faculty determines whether a high school student should receive an official Letter of Warning, advising the student and the parent/guardians of the lack of substantial progress. Letters of Warning are based on these criteria: (1) ability to absorb instruction, (2) assessment of talent, and (3) ability to work and adapt in both arts classes and resident life situations. A student who fails to meet the stated criteria will not usually be invited to continue in the program.

It should be noted that each student in the High School Drama Program is unique, and progress within the drama program may be limited by emotional or physical immaturity. It is the observation of the faculty that it would be detrimental to ask a student to continue to move forward in the program if his/her personal rate of growth does not coincide with the work demanded. In such cases, the student is asked to withdraw. This is in no way a reflection of the student's future abilities, but it is a recognition of the High School Drama Program's unique curriculum.

High School Diploma

The state of North Carolina high school diploma with special concentration in theatre arts is awarded to students who satisfactorily complete the requirements of the High School Drama Program and the state of North Carolina for high school graduation. Refer to the General Studies section of this Bulletin for high school credits required for high school graduation.

High School Drama Program Curriculum (2 Units of High School Credit per Year)

All courses listed may not be offered each year. Lists of courses available in any given year may be obtained from the School of Drama office. Drama course requirements are selected from the following:

DRA 031, 032, 033: Technical Theatre

DRA 051, 052, 053: Acting Fundamentals

DRA 061, 062, 063: Fundamentals of Voice and Speech

DRA 064, 065, 066: Fundamentals of Singing

DRA 071, 072, 073: Fundamentals of Movement

DRA 080: Special Techniques

DRA 090: Rehearsal and Performance

DRA 599: Intensive Arts

Course Descriptions: The High School Drama Program

DRA 031, 032, 033: Technical Theatre

An introduction to costuming, lighting and scenery. Students learn the use of equipment and basic construction techniques.

DRA 051, 052, 053: Acting Fundamentals

This course begins the process of developing a genuine understanding of the actor's craft. The course explores techniques and theories essential to theatrical performance. Topics include improvisation, fundamentals of acting, scene study and scene presentation.

DRA 061, 062, 063: Fundamentals of Voice and Speech

This course begins the process of building the student's voice for the stage. Classes in breathing, release of tension, voice placement and elimination of regionalism are designed to free the natural sound and develop awareness of the voice as a creative, expressive instrument. The Alexander Technique is introduced as dialects. Speech classes are designed to develop precision of articulation and correct faulty pronunciation.

DRA 064, 065, 066: Fundamentals of Singing

This course is designed to develop relaxation, breathing, balance and posture to train the ear and teach music fundamentals.

DRA 071, 072, 073: Fundamentals of Movement

This course is designed to begin the process of developing an awareness of expressive artistic movement. Topics may include jazz dance, theatre movement, mime and pantomime, gymnastics and physical conditioning.

DRA 080: Special Techniques

This course includes special classes designed to give students insight and experience in areas not normally dealt with in traditional acting classes. Topics may include mask, period and style, audition techniques, stage combat, makeup, clowning skills, directing, writing projects, and film and television fundamentals.

DRA 090: Rehearsal and Performance

Students will perform a project which they have developed. The rehearsal period and performance are used by faculty to extend the training. During the rehearsal period, the actor is helped to develop a responsible, professional attitude and approach to work. The actor is encouraged to progress toward a spontaneous and disciplined performance through the run of the production.

DRA 098: Introduction to NCSA

All new high school students are required to participate in this course, which is an extended orientation to NCSA. The academic, artistic, and social aspects of the campus community are explored. Pass/Fail.

DRA 599: Intensive Arts

At the end of the fall term, all students participate in Intensive Arts, a two-week period in which adventurous creativity is stressed. Students are encouraged to pursue interdisciplinary studies and to develop individual creative projects.

Summer Session

The summer session in drama is an intensive course in theatre, designed to provide learning experiences for high school and college-level students in the context of specialized workshops, seminars and classes. The summer program presents students the opportunity for in-depth study with NCSA faculty and guest teachers. Although enrollment in the summer program does not assure acceptance into the School of Drama's Professional Actor Training Program or the High School Drama Program, students who wish to attend the drama school are encouraged to audition and would be considered if places are available.

The School of Drama offers summer classes in acting, movement, voice and speech, and special techniques. The North Carolina School of the Arts drama faculty is augmented by guest teachers.

The Consortium of Conservatory Theatre Training Programs

The School of Drama is a member of the Consortium of Conservatory Theatre Training Programs, which also includes Boston University, Carnegie Mellon University and Purchase College. The consortium's primary mission is to prepare artists for careers in the professional theatre. The consortium asserts standards for training, encourages public recognition and influences policy in support of the development of theatre arts. The consortium recognizes that its effectiveness depends upon a membership that represents high standards and demonstrated leadership in the field.

THE SCHOOL OF FILMMAKING

The School of Filmmaking trains exceptionally talented students for professional careers in the moving image arts. This program stresses the collaborative creative process of filmmaking in contrast with training specialists in one facet of the filmmaking arts and sciences. The collaborative creative process develops and nurtures the “complete” filmmaker — a storyteller of vision and insight who knows and appreciates the entire spectrum of components that are essential to the creation of a theatrical motion picture. The intense conservatory training concentrates on directing, screenwriting, producing, cinematography, editing and sound, and production design. The School expects students to have or to develop a strong base in liberal arts and the humanities, and the physical and social sciences, with additional intensive course work in film history, film theory and film criticism. The School of Filmmaking works closely with the Schools of Drama, Design & Production, Music, Dance and the Visual Arts Program as essential contributors to the filmmaking process.

The faculty of the School of Filmmaking consists of working professionals from the motion picture and television industry. The relationship between faculty and students is one of “master-apprentice” involving close collaboration in all aspects of the development, production and exhibition of motion pictures. Students work in both digital video and 16mm film on several productions of varying length over the course of their studies. The Bachelor of Fine Arts or the College Arts Diploma is awarded to those students who satisfactorily fulfill the requirements of the program.

Our philosophy is built on a foundation of general skills and knowledge, and an equal period of specialization in a specific discipline. We require all of our students to write, direct, produce, shoot, edit and design films in the first and second years of our program, whether they feel artistically inclined and qualified in those areas or not. We insist that all of our students pass a comprehensive safety examination, and conduct themselves in a safe manner for themselves and their fellow crew in all production situations, both on our soundstages and on location. We also require all students to pass a comprehensive written exam in the third year of the program, to demonstrate their ability to analyze and understand films so they can move to the fourth and final year of the program.

All students must possess the basic capability to see images, hear sounds, and clearly communicate with other students in both class discussions and production exercises. All students must be able to watch and hear required screenings and possess the ability to analyze and discuss them. All students must be able to physically participate in all phases of the video and film production curriculum.

Continuance in the program is by invitation only. Invitations are extended by the faculty based not only upon a student’s grades, both artistic and academic, but also upon an assessment of the student’s ability to interact appropriately within the School community. Particular emphasis is placed on the “professional” demeanor and creative discipline exhibited by the student, and the demonstration of collaborative skills in both classroom discussions and on the set of student productions.

We hold individual portfolio reviews for each student near the conclusion of their first, second and third years, and must determine students’ academic and artistic status on an ongoing basis. Students who are not meeting the School’s rigorous and high standard of professionalism and artistic achievement, or exhibit a lack of creativity or collaborative skills, will be given written notice of those deficiencies and adequate time to change their work habits or behavior before individual portfolio reviews. Faculty will select those students best qualified to maximize their potential in our six individual disciplines.

Attendance is required for all classes, production labs and required screenings, Guest Artist visits and all school and individual class meetings. Failure to attend classes for reasons other than written medical excuses or documented family emergencies will lead to dismissal from the program.

The School of Filmmaking reserves the right to dismiss from the program, without probation or an official letter of warning, any student whose social or professional behavior prevents the School’s classes and production work proceeding in a creative and productive fashion, or interferes with the training of other students. Also, intentional or negligent violations of our policies and procedures, along with the policies and procedures of the North Carolina School of the Arts and the University of North Carolina, and the laws of the State of North Carolina and the United State government, may result in dismissal from our program.

The Undergraduate Program In Filmmaking

The four year undergraduate professional training program is open to college students who wish to pursue program emphasis in the areas of Cinematography, Directing, Editing and Sound, Producing, Production Design or Screenwriting. Students pursue the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree or the College Arts Diploma in Filmmaking and must declare a discipline in their third year with the exception of Production Design which is declared in the second year.

Admission to the School of Filmmaking

College students are admitted to the program by interview. Applicants are required to prepare a ten (10) page writing sample. The in-depth interview, conducted by two faculty members, also includes a writing and visual storytelling exercise. All applicants must meet the minimum admission requirements of the University of North Carolina and the School of the Arts in order to be enrolled in the program.

All students must possess the basic capability to see images, hear sounds, and clearly communicate with other students in both class discussions and production exercises. All students must be able to watch and hear required screenings and possess the ability to analyze and discuss them. All students must be able to physically participate in all phases of the video and film production curriculum.

Transfer Students

Transfer students may receive credit for general studies (liberal arts and sciences) courses taken at other universities subject to the general policies of the School of the Arts. However, all transfer students will be required to complete several credit hours in general studies or related arts courses at the School of the Arts. Following review of prior courses by general studies, transfer students will be advised regarding their general studies program. All transfer students must start their work in the School of Filmmaking with year one courses.

Grading System

The School of Filmmaking uses the following grades with associated grade points for purposes of calculating grade point average:

A+ = 4.5; A = 4; A- = 3.8; B+ = 3.5; B = 3; B- = 2.8; C+ = 2.5; C = 2; C- = 1.8; D+ = 1.5; D = 1.0; D- = 0.8; and F = 0.

Some elective courses may be offered on a Pass-Fail basis.

Year One

The first year is considered a probationary year. Students are expected to maintain a 2.5 cumulative average and a 2.5 term average each term in their filmmaking courses and a 2.0 cumulative average and a 2.0 term average each term in general studies courses in order to be continued for the next term. In addition to the above, the faculty may determine that a student should be placed on arts probation for the following term based on these criteria: ability to absorb instruction, assessment of basic talent, ability to collaborate, and ability to work and produce at a professional level.

Year Two

Students in year two must maintain a 2.8 cumulative average and a 2.8 term average each term in their filmmaking courses and a 2.0 cumulative average and a 2.0 term average each term in general studies courses. In addition to the above, the faculty may determine that a student should be placed on arts probation for the following term based on these criteria: ability to absorb instruction, assessment of basic talent, ability to collaborate, and ability to work and produce at a professional level.

Years Three & Four

Students in years three and four must achieve a 3.0 cumulative average and a 3.0 term average each term in their filmmaking courses and a 2.0 cumulative average and a 2.0 term average each term in general studies courses. In addition to the above, the faculty may determine that a student should be placed on arts probation for the following term based on these criteria: ability to absorb instruction, assessment of basic talent, ability to collaborate, and ability to work and produce at a professional level.

General Studies Minimum Requirements Policy

Students in the School of Filmmaking are required to complete no less than twelve (12) semester hours of general studies by the end of their first year and twelve (12) additional semester hours of general studies by the end of their second year of study. As a third and fourth year student, six (6) semester hours of general studies are required per year to complete the general studies requirement for the B.F.A. degree in the School of Filmmaking. Failure to complete the minimum semester hours for the appropriate year may result in the student being discontinued from the degree program and placed in the diploma program.

Arts Probation

After grades have been considered at the end of each term, the faculty determines if a student should be placed on arts probation for the following term based on the following criteria: (1) ability to absorb instruction (2) assessment of talent and (3) ability to work, collaborate and produce at a professional level. A student placed on arts probation who fails to meet the stated criteria in the succeeding term usually will not be invited to continue in the program

Failing Grades

Grades of D or F in required filmmaking (arts) courses are failing grades and indicate a serious problem. Depending on the nature and extent of the problem, the faculty may, at its discretion, require either (1) the student repeat the course or a suitable alternate course, or (2) that the student repeat the year with or without a period of suspension, or (3) that the student not be permitted to continue in the program. The School of Filmmaking reserves the right to dismiss from the program, without probation or an official letter of warning, any student whose academic, social, or professional behavior prevents the School's classes and production work from proceeding in a creative and productive fashion, or interferes with the training of other students.

Evaluation (other than grades)

Students are evaluated each term by their faculty and informed of their progress. In addition to assigning grades as an evaluation of the student's work, each instructor provides written comments each term beginning in year two. Each class of students participates in an end of the year portfolio review conducted by faculty members. Students are encouraged to discuss with the faculty, at any time, problems and progress in their work.

End of the Year Portfolio Review

The School of Filmmaking faculty will review each student each year in a final portfolio presentation to be held during the final weeks of the Spring Term. As in the other arts schools where end of the year juries or portfolio reviews take place, all filmmaking students will present a portfolio of their year's work and engage in both a review and a general discussion and examination covering all aspects of the student's course work and experiences throughout the year.

The portfolio will include the principal film or video productions the student worked on over the course of the year. In addition, each student may elect to add a limited number of self-chosen examples of assigned work that he or she feels best represent his or her creative and artistic accomplishments. Details regarding the portfolio review process will be provided in the Spring Term.

Continuance in the Program

Continuance in the program is by invitation only. Invitations are extended by the faculty based not only upon a student's grades, both artistic and academic, but also upon an assessment of the student's ability to interact appropriately and productively within the School community. Particular emphasis is placed on the “professional” demeanor and creative discipline exhibited by the student. Also, intentional or negligent violations of our policies and procedures will result in dismissal from our program.

Students who are not measuring up to the School’s rigorous and high standard of professionalism and artistic achievement, or exhibit a lack of creativity or collaborative skills, will be notified of those deficiencies before being asked to leave the program. We hold individual portfolio reviews for each student near the conclusion of their first, second, and third years, and must determine their academic and artistic status on an ongoing basis. Faculty will select those students best qualified to maximize their potential in our six individual disciplines.

Attendance

Attendance is required for all classes, production labs, required screenings, guest artist visits, and all school and individual class meetings. Failure to attend (see above list) for reasons other than written medical excuses and documented family emergencies may lead to dismissal.

Students in the School of Filmmaking are expected to come to class on time. Anyone arriving following a five-minute grace period after the start of class will be considered tardy. Two tardy appearances will result in an Unsatisfactory Progress Report issued to the student by the class instructor. Each additional tardy appearance after the first two will be considered an unexcused absence. One unexcused absence will lower your course grade by one full letter. Two unexcused absences will result in a meeting with the errant student, the class instructor, the assistant deans and the dean, and may result in dismissal from our program. Three unexcused absences will result in dismissal.

It is the student’s personal responsibility to contact the faculty member in advance of the class to notify him or her of an impending absence. Students should not leave messages on the administration voice mail if they are unable to attend class because those messages will not be forwarded. Likewise, messages should not be left on the director of academic programs’ voice mail, or that of any other individual in Administration. The message should be left on the faculty member’s campus voice mail, or a note in his or her office, or an email explaining the absence well prior to the start of class. Only advanced notification will be considered an excused absence. If the faculty member cannot be located and the start of class is imminent, only then should the student attempt to contact the assistant deans with the excuse for non-attendance. Documented medical reasons or other serious family emergencies will also serve as legitimate absences.

Other Degree Requirements

Safety Examination

Every filmmaker must understand the importance of safety in the workplace. Upon entry into the first year of training, the student must obtain the School of Filmmaking handbook which also contains the Safety Handbook. It is the student's responsibility to know and understand the contents of the Safety Handbook so that they may pass the Safety Exam. A comprehensive written and practical Safety Examination will be given to all First Year Students at the end of Fall Term. No First Year Student may work on set on a Fourth Year production until taking and passing this examination. Each student must pass both parts of this examination before they will be allowed to work on any Second, Third or Fourth Year Productions, and before they will be allowed to work on their First Year Productions. All returning Second, Third and Fourth year students must pass a similar Safety Examination upon their return to school at the beginning of Fall Term before being allowed to work on their productions during the school year.

Comprehensive Written Examination

Before the completion of the third year, all students will need to pass a three-hour written essay examination analyzing films they have seen over the course of their studies in the School of Filmmaking. The exam will be graded on a pass-fail basis, and will require student to use different films in answering three of six potential questions concerning the content, style and influence of the films in question. Students also will be asked to relate these films to the specific demands and challenges of their individual disciplines. One make-up test will be offered to students who fail to pass the initial exam. Any student who does not pass the exam will not be continued in the program.

Other Requirements

Students are required to read and abide by the policies and procedures in the "School of Filmmaking Handbook" and the "School of Filmmaking Safety Handbook." Each student must sign a Student Agreement of Understanding at the beginning of each school year verifying that they have read and accept the policies of the School of Filmmaking.

Students will be required to fully complete all course work, film production assignments, writing assignments and other work designated by faculty members in order to be recommended for graduation.

Course Descriptions

The following information is a guide to course numbers and course descriptions for the School of Filmmaking. All courses listed may not be offered each year. A list of courses available in any given year may be obtained from the School of Filmmaking office.

YEAR ONE

The first year of study in the undergraduate conservatory stresses fundamentals — each filmmaker engages in a series of courses, workshops, labs, productions and crew assignments designed to provide basic information and experience regarding the essentials of film language, the creative and physical processes of filmmaking and policies and procedures of the School of Filmmaking.

FIM 111, 112, 113: Fundamentals of Screenwriting (6 credits)

A basic immersion in and introduction to screenwriting, which will include a Screenwriters Colloquium covering Character, Conflict, Visual Story Telling, Setting, Dialogue, Emotional Tone, Stage Directions, Professional Format, the 5 Minute Short Film and The Workshop Process. The course also consists of reading feature-length screenplays, both fictional and non-fictional, and short scripts, and viewing screened films based on masterpiece screenplays.

FIM 121, 122: Fundamentals of Directing (4 credits)

A basic introduction to the art and discipline of storytelling through the directing process, with emphasis on the fundamentals of visualizing the story and directing the camera and actor. Students engage in numerous exercises - writing, directing, producing, photographing, editing within the camera, designing, etc. - to learn the fundamentals of cinema language and visual storytelling. Integrated into this course are workshops and labs to help filmmakers prepare for their first year productions and learn to collaborate with actors and other filmmakers. Students will plan, direct and edit a five-minute production in the spring term.

FIM 131, 132, 133: Critical Studies: American Cinema (9 credits)

A three term survey of America's film arts in our society from their pre-history to the present day. The chronological sequence of three terms allows for the exploration of the artistic, social and historical impact of motion pictures. The course will examine the emergence of the film form, its immediate predecessors in the other arts, the elements of film language, the significance of film form and style, the dynamics of new technology and the workings of motion pictures as a means of narrative expression. "Classic" motion pictures will be screened weekly in class followed by open discussion on the elements of filmic expression.

FIM 147, 148: Fundamentals of Producing and Production Management (4 credits)

An emphasis on budgeting, scheduling and managing a short film production. Additionally, an introduction to the role of the producer in short and feature filmmaking. Will include origination and development of material, hiring and dealing with directors, above and below the line crew, casting actors and securing financing and distribution. This will be followed by an in-depth examination of the producer's role on set, and how the assistant director's job is defined and executed. Relationships with crew, director, cinematographer and producer will be explored.

FIM 150: Year One Production (4 credits)

The students' first real production will take place in the spring term of first year, as they write, produce, direct, shoot, edit and design a 5 minute narrative film, to be shot on digital video. Each student will direct his or her film based on a script written and developed in Fundamentals of Screenwriting. Work on the soundstage will be explored from a design and storytelling perspective, along with shooting and lighting the set, recording sound with boom and microphone placement, and editing the finished film. Students will analyze their own and peers' work.

FIM 151, 152, 153: Fundamentals of Film Production and Technology (6 credits)

The fundamental aspects of physical production and the tools of the filmmaker will be covered in detail. Terminology, equipment, safety procedures and basic knowledge of the elements of production will be emphasized.

FIM 167, 168, 169: Fundamentals of Editing and Sound (6 credits)

A basic introduction to the critical role editing and sound play in the filmmaking process. The Fall term will explore an introduction to basic non-linear video, Final Cut Pro basics, time code, how TV works vs. how film works, hi-fi vs. normal audio, serial remote control, what the eye perceives. The Winter term will introduce audio recording, operations, microphones and booms, how to capture good sound on the stage, sound reports, importance of proper labeling of all film/video elements, amplitude, frequency, filtering and equalization, what the ear perceives. The Spring term will concentrate on the aesthetics of the cut, and how the ability to think as a filmmaker comes from personal imagination and a passionate grasp of aesthetics. Implementation of theory will come in the editing of the First Year Spring Productions.

FIM 177: Set Construction (2 credits)

This course offers an overview of the art department's functions and will be demonstrated through the construction of sets for student productions. Design and decoration elements in sound stage sets will also be explored.

FIM 179: The Art of Film Composition & Film Ethics (2 credits)

Part of this course will explore the dynamic impact music has on film, by looking at choices made by filmmakers and composers in using scored or source music in various films, from dramas and comedies to musicals and documentaries. The other part of this course will explore the ethical responsibilities filmmakers face, given the power and impact of their medium worldwide. Various controversial productions will be screened and discussed for their ethical impact. Personal behavior and choices will also be explored in the context of expected dilemmas filmmakers face in the entertainment industry.

FIM 599: Intensive Arts (2 credits)

Offered at the end of Fall Term, Intensive Arts is a focused series of screenings, workshops and seminars featuring a prominent Guest Artist and his or her work. Students will have an opportunity to interact with the visiting filmmaker on a personal and professional basis, discussing both the Guest Artist's work, and the work of the aspiring filmmaker. Students will have the opportunity to gain critical feedback on their own work, while learning through example from the insights of the visiting Guest Artist. Failure to attend all required Intensive Arts activities will result in the student failing Intensive Arts.

YEAR TWO

The second year of study in the undergraduate conservatory stresses the further development of essential storytelling and filmmaking skills. The curricular concentrations of Directing, Screenwriting, Editing, Cinematography, Producing and Production Design are experienced through survey workshops and a hands-on oriented Spring term.

FIM 211, 212, 213: Screenwriting Workshop (6 credits)

The Second Year Screenwriting curriculum gives the student the opportunity to further develop his/her screenwriting skills. In addition to reinforcing the concepts introduced in Year One concerning Character, Conflict, Setting, Dialogue and Visual Storytelling, there will be new explorations of Genre, Climaxes and Resolutions, the Controlling Idea and an introduction of Traditional Three Act Structure. Great emphasis will be placed on rewriting, and writing the Short Film. Students will work on scripts for the 10-minute digital video shot in FIM 250.

FIM 221, 222: Directing Workshop (4 credits)

A survey workshop exploring the visualization of script material through the directing of scenes and exercises. A special focus will be working with the actor, along with interpreting the screenplay through the camera and performance, directing the camera and the actor, and running the set.

FIM 231, 232, 233: Critical Studies: The International Cinema (9 credits)

An overview of the incredible variety of narrative film styles produced outside of the Hollywood system. Many of the major national cinemas will be explored, including those of Europe, Scandinavia, Russia, Africa, Latin America, Australia and Asia. The purpose of this class is two-fold: to help students understand these films within their cultural and historical contexts; and to discuss these films as both artistic and social statements, that is, as works of creative filmmaking that speak to the human condition.

FIM 241, 242: Producing Workshop (4 credits)

The course will concentrate on the requirements of physical production, from scheduling and budgeting a short film, to training as an assistant director and unit production manager. Both "creative" and "line" producing will be taught: how a producer finds and options material (whether in the form of original screenplays, books, plays or short stories will be covered), as well as legal option agreements and negotiating techniques. Developing raw material into successful screenplays will also be discussed, along with the contrast between studio development and independent filmmaking.

FIM 250: Year Two Production (4 credits)

Students will work on their second major production, this time of a ten-minute narrative video in Spring Term. The productions will be based on material developed in the Screenwriting Workshop. Students collaborate on the productions, and rotate through various key creative and production positions. Filming can take place either on the stage or on location.

FIM 261, 262: Editing and Sound Workshop (4 credits)

An in-depth survey and hands-on workshop on the essential elements and processes of postproduction. This will include more work in Final Cut Pro, an introduction to the AVID editing system, 16mm film editing, music and effects tracks on the editing bench and Steenbeck, in addition to more detailed non-linear editing techniques. Work will culminate with the picture and sound editing of the FIM 250 projects.

FIM 270: Production Analysis (1 credit)

A collaborative analysis class of Spring Term Second Year productions that will involve faculty from Directing, Editing, Cinematography and Producing. Dailies, rough-cuts and fine cuts will all be viewed in class and analyzed in detail from the perspective of the director, producer, editor and cinematographer.

FIM 281, 282: Cinematography Workshop (4 credits)

A hands-on workshop and lab course in which students learn video and film photography, including basic essentials such as composition, cameras, lenses, film stock, lighting and related areas. The workings of departments such as Technical Operations will be explored, as will Electric, Grip, Gaffer and lab skills.

FIM 299: Professional Internship (2 credits)

An "on the job" work experience that is required for all students prior to graduation. Students must work for a minimum of three weeks in a position in some ways relevant to their discipline, whether on a professional production, or a student production outside of the school. Students often receive credit for professional intern work they do on outside productions during the school year, or during the summer break. The validity of these experiences counting for Professional Internship credit will be decided on a case-by-case basis.

FIM 599: Intensive Arts (2 credits)

Offered at the end of Fall Term, Intensive Arts is a focused series of screenings, workshops and seminars featuring a prominent Guest Artist and his or her work. Students will have an opportunity to interact with the visiting filmmaker on a personal and professional basis, discussing both the Guest Artist's work, and the work of the aspiring filmmaker. Students will have the opportunity to gain critical feedback on their own work, while learning through example from the insights of the visiting Guest Artist. Failure to attend all required Intensive Arts activities will result in the student failing Intensive Arts.

Year Two Film Production Design Curriculum:

ARH 101, 102, 103: Art History (6 credits)

A three-term historical survey of the development of painting, sculpture and architecture.

FIM 201, 202: Film Drafting and Design (4 credits)

An introduction to the concept of film drafting in the Fall, and an emphasis on set decoration and dressing, props and simple mechanical effects during the Winter Term.

FIM 204, 205, 206: Production Design Workshop (6 credits)

A comprehensive examination of the techniques of Film Production Design, concentrating on creative problem solving, architectural styles and building structures, and architectural model-building and an introduction to special effects techniques.

FIM 207,208,209: Set Construction and Scenic Technique (6 credits)

This course starts as a review of shop safety, tool and materials use for students who have been accepted into the Production Design discipline and who have completed FIM 171. From there, the students will encounter a number of exercises that will enable them to read plans, construct the set elements specified in those plans, and perform the required scenic treatment. Students will learn about the physical properties of materials and their use. This course is also intended as a support basis for Fourth Year Fall films and Third Year Winter films as a means of integrating construction with design. Prerequisites: FIM 171 or consent of the instructor.

FIM 231, 232, 233: Critical Studies: The International Cinema (9 credits)

An overview of the incredible variety of narrative film styles produced outside of the Hollywood system. Many of the major national cinemas will be explored, including those of Europe, Scandinavia, Russia, Africa, Latin America, Australia and Asia. The purpose of this class is two- fold: to help students understand these films within their cultural and historical contexts; and to discuss these films as both artistic and social statements, that is, as works of creative filmmaking that speak to the human condition.

FIM 251, 252, 253: Drawing (6 credits)

Students learn basic techniques of drawing, including composition, perspective, shading and contrast through the study of still life using a single light source. In addition, students study the human form and life drawing with the added challenge of movement.

FIM 254, 255, 256: Production for Designers (6 credits)

A detailed exploration of how the production designer approaches and designs a film project, from conceptual drawings and blueprints to the actual implementation of design techniques and methods. Work on Second, Third and Fourth Year productions will implement techniques and procedures taught in class.

FIM 299: Professional Internship (2 credits)

An "on the job" work experience that is required for all students prior to graduation. Students must work for a minimum of three weeks in a position in some ways relevant to their discipline , whether on a professional production, or a student production outside of the school. Students often receive credit for professional intern work they do on outside productions during the school year, or during the summer break. The validity of these experiences counting for Professional Internship credit will be decided on a case-by-case basis.

FIM 599: Intensive Arts (2 credits)

Offered at the end of Fall Term, Intensive Arts is a focused series of screenings, workshops and seminars featuring a prominent Guest Artist and his or her work. Students will have an opportunity to interact with the visiting filmmaker on a personal and professional basis, discussing both the Guest Artist's works, and the work of the aspiring filmmaker. Students will have the opportunity to gain critical feedback on their own work, while learning through example from the insights of the visiting Guest Artist.

YEAR THREE

The third year of study in the undergraduate conservatory focuses on the development of individual style and vision in terms of an area of filmmaking concentration. Filmmakers work as key crew members on School of Filmmaking productions in their specific discipline.

FIM 310: Intermediate Screenwriting (6 credits)

For the student who has declared screenwriting his/her specialization, this course is an in-depth survey of various genres and writing techniques. These will include, among other course offerings, a further exploration of Traditional Three Act structure, the Family Drama, the War Movie, the Courtroom Drama, the Thriller, the Writer's Voice, Deep Character Analysis and a continued emphasis on Writing as Rewriting. A special emphasis will be put on developing short screenplays as potential scripts for the 20-minute Fourth Year productions.

FIM 320: Intermediate Directing (10 credits)

For the student who has declared directing his/her specialization, this course offers a series of topics that will fully explore the essential collaboration between the director and the various artists who work closely with the director to realize his/her vision. Such topics may include directing the camera, directing the actor, preparing the director's script, directing comedy and drama. Additional topics may include the making of narrative and non-narrative documentary films, and non-traditional and experimental films. Other topics may include the aesthetic, structural and stylistic aspects of directing. A special emphasis will be placed on developing material for Fourth Year productions.

FIM 330: Critical Studies and Film History (6 credits)

A series of courses utilizing the School of Filmmaking Archives to afford the students an opportunity to explore multiple genres and areas of film history, technology, and expression. Topics may include studies of Screwball Comedy, Film Noir, Reflexive Cinema, Lost and Forgotten Films, Academy Award Winners, the Thriller, Influential Directors and Producers, and the Hollywood Musical.

FIM 340 Intermediate Producing (10 credits)

For the student who has declared producing his/her specialization, this course will explore the many and varied duties of the producer, from finding and soliciting material to raising money and supervising the budget process. In addition, an overview of the Hollywood studio system and the major television networks may be offered. Classes on marketing, distribution and after- markets may also be featured. A special emphasis will be placed on developing, pitching and budgeting the Fourth Year Productions.

FIM 350: Year Three Production (10 credits)

This workshop will formalize and support the development, pre-production, production and postproduction of the Winter Term Third Year 15- minute 16mm film project. Also, the development and pre-production of Fourth Year productions for the following year will begin. The goal of the course is to provide hands-on experience in the making of short narrative films on both location and soundstages, on limited budgets and with extensive peer collaboration.

FIM 357: Introduction to CAD (2 credits)

An introduction to computer-assisted drafting (CAD) and its use in film. The student's basic CAD skills are developed as a foundation for intermediate and advanced study in the area of Production Design. This course will focus on one of several software applications for CAD.

FIM 359: Scenic Painting (2 credits)

This class is an introduction into the techniques and applications of scenic finishes for film stage sets and location modifications. This class will cover the responsibilities of the Film Scenic artist. This will include budgeting, paint bases, tints, thinners, glazes, brushes, application and other tools, cleaning, and painting effects. Painting effects that will be covered include paint recipes for basic finishes, patterned effects, and faux finishes.

FIM 360: Intermediate Editing and Sound (10 credits)

For the student who has declared editing his/her specialization, this course offers a series of topics that will delve into the specifics of film editing and sound recording equipment and techniques. Training on Pro Tools, Final Cut Pro and the AVID system will take place, in addition to the teaching of synching 16mm film on the editing bench and editing scenes on the Steenbeck. The sound editing of dialogue, ADR, music and FX will be explored, and splitting tracks, the preparation of confirmation and change sheets and cue sheets may be taught. Finally, editing theories, including montage and mise-en-scene, will be explored, along with the mechanics of sound design, which complement this process.

FIM 370: The Many Facets of Filmmaking (2 credits)

Course offerings on various aspects of filmmaking, which may include new media technology, story development, digital visual effects, the theory and practice of the American television commercial, directing actors for the camera, sound design, and film animation, among other interesting subjects.

FIM 380: Intermediate Cinematography (10 credits)

For the student who has declared cinematography as his/her specialization, this course offers a series of topics that will include the essential elements and techniques of film photography. These may include Scene Production, Rigging and Pre-Lighting Workshops, Commercial Production, The Professional Camera Department and training on the Arriflex SR3 camera, Film Testing and Working with the Laboratory, Digital Imaging, and Documentary Camera Techniques. Time may also be spent on looking at the work of Cinematography Masters, discussing in depth the development of the art of cinematography and how it has evolved. Some of these courses will be taught in conjunction with the Production Design discipline.

FIM 399: Professional Internship (2 credits)

An "on the job" work experience that is required for all students prior to graduation. Students must work for a minimum of three weeks in a position in some ways relevant to their discipline, whether on a professional production, or a student production outside of the school. Students often receive credit for professional intern work they do on outside productions during the school year, or during the summer break. The validity of these experiences counting for Professional Internship credit will be decided on a case-by-case basis.

FIM 599: Intensive Arts (2 credits)

Offered at the end of Fall Term, Intensive Arts is a focused series of screenings, workshops and seminars featuring a prominent Guest Artist and his or her work. Students will have an opportunity to interact with the visiting filmmaker on a personal and professional basis, discussing both the Guest Artist's work, and the work of the aspiring filmmaker. Students will have the opportunity to gain critical feedback on their own work, while learning through example from the insights of the visiting Guest Artist. Failure to attend all required Intensive Arts activities will result in the student failing Intensive Arts.

Year Three Film Production Design Curriculum:

FIM 301, 302: Film Design (4 credits)

This course will look at rendering from a Film Designer's perspective, with one term focusing on physical effects and another focusing on optical effects.

FIM 304, 305, 306: Art Direction (6 credits)

A comprehensive survey of art direction history and techniques, with one term focusing on purely design issues and questions and the use of computer modeling, the next term on set decorating strategies and techniques, and the Spring Term looking at construction of sets on location and on the stage.

FIM 307: Visual Strategies: Storyboarding (2 credits)

This course is a comprehensive workshop in the technique of developing and composing storyboards. The focus of the course will be the analysis of the narrative in terms of both visual and verbal language and how the product of that analysis, the storyboard, is used as an important tool for the filmmaker.

FIM 308, 309: Film Graphics (4 credits)

An in-depth course teaching techniques of designing and composing film graphics. This course will explore the conceptualization and preparation of storyboards, graphic elements in the visualization of film story, and signage in actual film sets and locations.

FIM 315, 316: Décor in Relation to Film (4 credits)

This course is designed to give the production design student an overview of the use of interior design. The course will cover different periods throughout history. It will explain furnishings, textiles, architectural movements, styles, and fashions of those periods. The course will also show how a production designer researches information and sources to achieve a particular setting within the overall design of a motion picture.

FIM 350: Year Three Production (10 credits)

This workshop will formalize and support the development, pre-production, production and postproduction of the Winter Term Third Year 15- minute 16mm film project. Also, the development and pre-production of Fourth Year productions for the following year will begin. The goal of the course is to provide hands-on experience in the making of short narrative films on both location and soundstages, on limited budgets and with extensive peer collaboration.

FIM 599: Intensive Arts (2 credits)

Offered at the end of Fall Term, Intensive Arts is a focused series of screenings, workshops and seminars featuring a prominent Guest Artist and his or her work. Students will have an opportunity to interact with the visiting filmmaker on a personal and professional basis, discussing both the Guest Artist's work, and the work of the aspiring filmmaker. Students will have the opportunity to gain critical feedback on their own work, while learning through example from the insights of the visiting Guest Artist. Failure to attend all required Intensive Arts activities will result in the student failing Intensive Arts.

YEAR FOUR

The fourth year of study in the undergraduate conservatory is devoted to advanced curricular work and a major thesis project production by each filmmaker according to his/her chosen area of concentration. In addition, each filmmaker works in key creative capacities in his/her discipline on School of Filmmaking productions.

FIM 410: Advanced Screenwriting (6 credits)

Screenwriting discipline students will finish developing their Fourth Year production scripts in Fall Term. They will also begin working with a mentor on an individual basis in writing a feature-length screenplay. There are also advanced genre explorations, such as the Horror Film, the Dark Comedy, and specific instruction in Writing the Low Budget Feature. Other topics may include Advanced Narrative Structure, the Business of Screenwriting and other specific topic classes.

FIM 420 Advanced Directing (10 credits)

Directing discipline students will concentrate primarily on developing and directing their Fourth Year projects. Simultaneously, they will be strongly coached in working with actors in an Advanced Performance Workshop, and with camera in specific blocking techniques for shooting on sets and practical locations. Other topics may include Political Cinema, Creative Expression, and Regional Directing, or how to express the flavor and texture of a specific region in film content and style.

FIM 430: Advanced Critical Studies and Film History (6 credits)

An advanced series of courses that will use the School of Filmmaking Archives to give students the chance to explore multiple genres and areas of film history and aesthetics. Courses may include studies of Visual Non-Fiction, Comparative Directors, The Art of Adaptation, French New Wave, American New Wave, Contemporary Asian Cinema, Science Fiction and Silent Film Classics.

FIM 440: Advanced Producing (10 credits)

Producing discipline students will concentrate primarily on producing and supervising through post production their Fourth Year productions. They will also receive detailed instruction in the intricacies of creative producing, television producing and licensing various elements of feature film production, including music, product placement and merchandising. They will receive more specialized instruction in marketing, distribution and film accounting, and will receive special preparation for their transition to the profession.

FIM 450: Production and Thesis Tutorial (10 credits)

The students selected to work on Fourth Year Productions as key creative team members will be individually mentored as their productions move through prep, shoot and post. Those students not chosen to work on a Fourth Year Production will devise individual Senior Thesis projects that will also be mentored by select faculty, but which will not be production-oriented.

FIM 460: Advanced Editing and Sound (10 credits)

In addition to editing their Fourth Year productions, editing and sound discipline students will learn how to synch 35mm film, how to match back 16mm and 35mm film from the Final Cut Pro or AVID output, and how to conform work prints. There will also be a great emphasis on getting a job and building a career. The growing market for sound designers, editors, mixers and recordists will also be explored for students interested in pursuing those crafts.

FIM 480: Advanced Cinematography (10 credits)

While shooting their Fourth Year productions, cinematography discipline students may also receive instruction in The Final Image, or the Answer Print; Special Effects cinematography including Blue and Green Screen techniques; advanced equipment training and camera operating techniques with special heads, cranes, Steadicam, etc. A cinematography reel is part of the cinematography curriculum. Some of these courses will be taught in conjunction with the Production Design discipline.

FIM 599: Intensive Arts (2 credits)

Offered at the end of Fall Term, Intensive Arts is a focused series of screenings, workshops and seminars featuring a prominent Guest Artist and his or her work. Students will have an opportunity to interact with the visiting filmmaker on a personal and professional basis, discussing both the Guest Artist's work, and the work of the aspiring filmmaker. Students will have the opportunity to gain critical feedback on their own work, while learning through example from the insights of the visiting Guest Artist. Failure to attend all required Intensive Arts activities will result in the student failing Intensive Arts.

Year Four Production Design Curriculum:

FIM 401, 402: Film Scenic Design (4 credits)

Following a class in scenic painting for film sets, students will learn painting for the cinematographer to light. The latter may include team teaching with a cinematography instructor. Computer modeling may also be taught as a tool for scenic visualization.

FIM 405, 406: Production Design Overview (4 credits)

A final comprehensive overview of all aspects of the Production Designer's responsibilities, from visualizing the look of the film to budgeting and executing the design of sets, locations, miniatures, mechanical and optical effects, props and set decoration. A transition to professional work will also be explored.

FIM 407, 408, 409: Budgeting the Art Department (6 credits)

Business and budgeting practical procedures for the Production Designer, including sourcing and pricing materials, running the art department as a business, collaborating with the director, producer, unit production manager and cinematographer, finishing effects in post-production.

FIM 450: Production and Thesis Tutorial (10 credits)

The students selected to work on Fourth Year Productions as key creative team members will be individually mentored as their productions move through prep, shoot and post. Those students not chosen to work on a Fourth Year Production will devise individual projects that will also be mentored by select faculty.

FIM 459: Transition into the Film Production Design Profession

This course is designed to prepare the Film Production Design student for the professional world. Students will prepare an artistic portfolio of their work to present to future employers upon their graduation, along with a video reel of their filmed sets, detailed sketches, blueprints of sets, and costume sketches. Resume preparation for the design field will also be discussed.

FIM 481,482: Dailies Analysis and Special Effects for Designers (4 credits)

This two-term course workshop is in collaboration with Fourth Year Cinematographers. In the Fall term students will analyze the dailies of all Fourth Year films as to lighting and composition from the Production Designer's perspective. In the Winter term students will team with Cinematographers to create and film SFX (special effects) both in camera and as composite imagery.

FIM 599: Intensive Arts (2 credits)

Offered at the end of Fall Term, Intensive Arts is a focused series of screenings, workshops and seminars featuring a prominent Guest Artist and his or her work. Students will have an opportunity to interact with the visiting filmmaker on a personal and professional basis, discussing both the Guest Artist's work, and the work of the aspiring filmmaker. Students will have the opportunity to gain critical feedback on their own work, while learning through example from the insights of the visiting Guest Artist. Failure to attend all required Intensive Arts activities will result in the student failing Intensive Arts.

Interdisciplinary Course Work

The School of Filmmaking offers course work jointly with other schools within NCSA.

Summer Session

The School of Filmmaking conducts a Summer Session in Filmmaking for high school students and students who have just graduated from high school, which stresses the conservatory approach to professional training. Students work closely with professional filmmakers and teaching assistants who are upperclass School of Filmmaking students, in a variety of areas including screenwriting, directing, editing and production. The classes have been carefully designed at both introductory and advanced levels in order to accommodate students with no prior experience as well as more advanced returning students. The curriculum includes classroom instruction, production and equipment lab time as well as film screenings. The School provides cameras, editing facilities, rehearsal and production areas as well as computer facilities.

THE SCHOOL OF MUSIC

The School of Music of the North Carolina School of the Arts prepares students for professional careers. Our goal is twofold: to enable students to attain their highest musical aspirations and to meet the challenge of succeeding in a highly competitive profession. With this in mind, we have designed a unique program of study.

In its conservatory setting, NCSA provides an artistic environment in which each student pursues personal musical development. But the School of Music is also a professional training ground in which the student actively and realistically prepares for the practical aspects of making a living as a musician.

Each student pursues a course of musical study with an outstanding artist-faculty. As professionals in their own areas, faculty members are committed to continuing their own careers while sharing a wealth of experience and knowledge with their students.

Courses of Study

The School of Music awards the Professional Artist Certificate, Master of Music, Bachelor of Music, College Arts Diploma in Music, and the High School Diploma with a concentration in music.

The Graduate Program

Master of Music (Two-year program)

The graduate program represents the School of Music at its highest level of artistry and education. Its goals and objectives are to prepare and train students for careers as professional classical musicians in the following areas of study: brass, composition, guitar performance and pedagogy, vocal performance, orchestral conducting, organ, percussion, piano, strings and woodwinds (including saxophone).

Requirements and Regulations

Admission Requirements

Admission to the graduate program is by application and audition. Candidates must have completed a Bachelor of Music or a Bachelor of Arts from an accredited conservatory, college or university (or the equivalent if the institution is located outside the United States). To apply, graduate candidates must submit the following: a completed application form and application fee, two letters of recommendation, an official transcript with a seal or registrar's signature from each college attended – copies are unacceptable (international students must submit a certified English translation for each transcript), a resume detailing the applicant's artistic experience and educational objectives, a repertoire list, a TOEFL test (if the candidate is an international student.)

The following must occur before a graduate student is officially admitted to the program: a recommendation in writing from the audition panel will be made and sent to the assistant dean of the Graduate Program. With their approval, a recommendation to that effect will be signed by the assistant dean of the Graduate Program and the application will then be sent to the dean of the School of Music for final approval.

Residency Requirements

The residency requirement for the Master of Music is one year (three consecutive terms) as a full-time student. A full-time student is one who is enrolled for a minimum of six graduate-credits per term. The degree of Master of Music must be completed within five years of the initial enrollment in the program.

Transfer Credit

The School of Music accepts transfer credit from accredited graduate programs. Transfer credit may account for up to 50 percent of the degree requirements. Transfer credit will be determined by the assistant dean of the Graduate Program in consultation with the appropriate faculty and approved by the dean of Music. To receive transfer credit a student must make a formal request by letter to the assistant dean of the Graduate Program.

Jury and Recital Requirements

Graduate students are expected to perform for all departmental juries.

Graduate students, with the exception of composition, are required to perform two recitals. Voice students may substitute a major opera role for one of their recitals at the discretion of their studio teacher. The studio teacher will notify the assistant dean of the Graduate Program in writing when a major opera role is substituted for a recital.

All required graduate recitals must be approved in advance. This approval includes the contents of the program as well as the student's preparation.

The studio teacher must approve the first recital program in advance.

The second recital must be approved in advance at a recital hearing at least one month before the scheduled recital date. The recital hearing jury will be composed of at least two faculty members from the department.

The student will be required to perform a significant portion of the scheduled program. A majority of the recital hearing jury must approve the recital request in writing by signing a Recital Authorization Form.

Graduate composition students are required to produce one recital of their works. Composers will follow the second recital guidelines listed above for their recital approval. Composers must submit the following for their recital hearing: copies of all scores and parts, personnel list, rehearsal schedule, program, biography, texts (when appropriate), and program notes.

Standards of Achievement and Evaluation

All incoming graduate students will be required to take theory, ear training and music history proficiency examinations before completing their first graduate registration.

Grades

The following grading scale will be in effect for all graduate level courses: A = Excellent, B = Good, C = Satisfactory, D = Unsatisfactory, F = Failing.

MUS 775, 776, 777: Fletcher Institute Workshop II (2 credits per term)

Preparation and public performance of opera scenes. Emphasis on movement, acting, character development and exposure to a variety of operatic and musical theatre roles.

MUS 790: Performance Class (1 credit per term)

Weekly performance class in which students will be critiqued by faculty and students for the purpose of refining their performance skills.

MUF 599: Intensive Arts Projects (2 credits)

During the two-week period immediately following Thanksgiving break, students participate in special projects, classes, seminars and performances. Students are encouraged to pursue musical studies; however, interdisciplinary interests may be considered. Students must enroll in the course each fall term they are in attendance at NCSA. The course is graded "pass/fail."

MUF 611, 612, 613, 711, 712, 713: Film Music Seminar (4 credits per term)

The Film Music Seminar focuses on the creative and technical aspects of composing music for film. Individual film scoring projects will be assigned and critiqued in a seminar setting. Various styles and genres of all music will be explored, as well as songwriting and an introduction to scoring techniques for television.

MUF 617, 618, 619: Orchestration for the Recording Studio (2 credits per term)

Students are introduced to the fundamentals of jazz harmony and arranging for small, medium and large jazz ensembles. Orchestrating for ensembles with mixed instrumentation, i.e., varied numbers of winds, strings, brass, percussion and electronic instruments are addressed, as well as basic principles of conducting for the recording studio.

MUF 621, 622, 623: Film Music Analysis (2 credits per term)

The analysis of film scores and the fundamentals of music composition as it applies to film.

MUF 631, 632, 633: Critical Perspectives: American Cinema (3 credits per term)

A three-term survey of America's film arts in our society from their pre-history to the present day. The chronological sequence of three terms allows for the exploration of the artistic, social and historical impact of motion pictures. The course will examine the emergence of the film form, its immediate predecessors in the other arts, the elements of film language, the significance of film form and style, the dynamics of new technology and the workings of motion pictures as a means of narrative expression. "Classic" motion pictures will be screened weekly in class followed by open discussion on the elements of filmic expression.

MUF 671, 672, 673: Elements of Filmmaking (2 credits per term)

A conceptual grouping of some of the key elements of filmmaking: design, music and juxtaposition of images. This course will include an overview of Film Production Design elements, including visualization techniques for storytelling, the basics of production design and art direction, the importance of costumes, hair, makeup, props and set decoration in the visual presentation of a cinematic story. Additionally, the course will explore the dynamic impact music has on film, by looking at choices made by filmmakers and composers in using scored or source music in various films, from dramas and comedies to musicals and documentaries. The course will also look at the aesthetics of the cut, and how the ability to think as a filmmaker comes from personal imagination, and a passionate and intuitive grasp of aesthetics. The creative process of editing will be compared to similar aesthetic considerations in other art forms in order to provide a strong foundation for the creative filmmaker.

MUF 691, 692, 693: Music Technology for Film (2 credits per term)

Students are introduced to the digital electronic instruments, hardware and software used in film music composition. Topics will include sequencing, synchronization, recording, sound design, digital sound editing and music notation software.

MUF 721, 722, 723: Film Music Analysis (2 credits per term)

A continuation on the analysis of film scores and the fundamentals of music composition as it applies to film. Prerequisites: MUF 621, 622, 623

MUF 731, 732, 733: Critical Perspectives: International Cinema (3 credits per term)

An overview of the incredible variety of narrative film styles produced outside of the Hollywood system. Many of the major national cinemas will be explored, including those of Europe, Scandinavia, Russia, Africa, Latin America, Australia and Asia. The purpose of this class is two-fold: to help students understand these films within their cultural and historical contexts; and to discuss these films as both artistic and social statements, that is, as works of creative filmmaking that speak to the human condition.

MUF 798: Film Music Practicum (1 credit per term)

The Film Music Practicum will focus on the business aspects of film music composition. Lectures will draw from a diverse body of artist-faculty and guest artists. Other topics covered will be demos, music budgets, scripts and screenings.

The Professional Artist Certificate (One-year program)

The Professional Artist Certificate and the Fletcher Institute Professional Artist Certificate program represent the School of Music at its highest level of artistry and education. Its goals and objectives are to prepare and train students for careers as professional classical musicians in the following areas of study: brass, composition, guitar performance and pedagogy, vocal performance, orchestral conducting, organ, percussion, piano, strings and woodwinds (including saxophone).

Requirements and Regulations

Admission Requirements

Admission to the graduate program is by application and audition. Candidates must have completed a Master of Music or a Master of Arts from an accredited conservatory, college or university (or the equivalent if the institution is located outside the United States). To apply, candidates must submit the following: a completed application form and application fee, two letters of recommendation, an official transcript with a seal or registrar's signature from each college attended – copies are unacceptable (international students must submit a certified English translation for each transcript), a resume detailing the applicant's artistic experience and educational objectives, a repertoire list, a project proposal (for instrumentalists), a TOEFL test (if the candidate is an international student.)

The following must occur before a student is officially admitted to the program: a recommendation in writing from the audition panel will be made and sent to the assistant dean of the Graduate Program. With their approval, a recommendation to that effect will signed by the assistant dean of the Graduate Program and the application will then be sent to the dean of the School of Music for final approval.

Residency Requirements

The residency requirement for the Professional Artist Certificate and the Fletcher Institute Professional Artist Certificate is one year (three consecutive terms) as a full-time student. A full-time student is one who is enrolled for a minimum of six graduate credits per term.

Jury Requirements

Graduate students are expected to perform for all departmental juries.

Grades

The following grading scale will be in effect for all graduate level courses: A = Excellent, B = Good, C = Satisfactory, D = Unsatisfactory, F = Failing.

The Undergraduate Program

Bachelor of Music (Four-year college program)

The Bachelor of Music program offers students a thorough musical foundation with the added perspective of a liberal arts education. This mixture of arts and academic (General Studies) classes creates a well-rounded musician, as well as one prepared for the demands of living in today's world. Students who may want to pursue graduate work should complete this course of study. The School of Music offers undergraduate degrees in the following areas of study: brass, composition, guitar, harp, organ, percussion, piano, saxophone, strings, voice, and woodwinds.

Requirements and Regulations

Admission Requirements

Admission to the undergraduate program is by application and audition. Candidates must hold a high school diploma or GED. To apply, undergraduate candidates must submit the following: a completed application form and application fee, two letters of recommendation, an official transcript with a seal or registrar's signature from school attended (copies are unacceptable; international students must submit a certified English translation for each transcript), a resume detailing the applicant's artistic experience and educational objectives, a repertoire list, a TOEFL test (if the candidate is an international student.)

Residency Requirements

The Bachelor of Music degree must be completed within six years of initial enrollment in the program. To qualify for a college Arts Diploma, Bachelor of Music from the North Carolina School of the Arts, the student must be registered as a full-time college student for a minimum of two years, one of which must be the student's graduating year.

Transfer Credit

The School of Music accepts transfer credit from accredited undergraduate programs. Transfer credit may account for up to 50 percent of the degree requirements. Transfer credit will be determined by the assistant dean of the Undergraduate Graduate Program in consultation with the appropriate faculty and approved by the dean of Music. To receive transfer credit a student must make a formal request by letter to the assistant dean of the Undergraduate Program.

Jury and Recital Requirements

Undergraduate students are expected to perform for all departmental juries.

Undergraduate students are required to perform a senior recital; organists are required to prepare three recitals. Required undergraduate recitals are overseen by the major teacher. The senior recital must be approved at a recital hearing at least one month before the scheduled recital date. The recital hearing jury will be composed of at least two faculty members from the department (the hearing may occur during juries, or, if a committee cannot conveniently be convened, the major teacher may videotape the hearing for departmental review). The student should be prepared at the time of the hearing to perform a significant portion of the scheduled program. A majority of the recital hearing jury must approve the recital request in writing by signing a Recital Authorization Form.

Undergraduate composition students are required to produce one recital of their works. Composers will follow the second recital guidelines listed above for their recital approval. Composers must submit the following for their recital hearing: copies of all scores and parts, personnel list, rehearsal schedule, program, biography, texts (when appropriate), and program notes.

Standards of Achievement and Evaluation

All incoming undergraduate students will be required to take theory, aural skills, and keyboard skills placement exams. Based on the results of these exams, students will be given advanced placement, or placed in honors, regular, or remedial streams of these courses.

Grades

The following grading scale will be in effect for all undergraduate level courses: A = Excellent, B = Good, C = Satisfactory, D = Unsatisfactory, F = Failing. Any student who receives a C in his/her applied music instruction will be placed on arts probation. Students remaining on arts probation for two terms may not be invited to return to the program the following year.

General Studies Requirements

The following General Studies courses are required for the Bachelor of Music:

Composers and Instrumentalists (36 credits)

GES 101, 102, 103	Critical Perspectives (6 credits)
HUM 121, 122, 123	The Arts in Context (6 credits)
GES 211, 212, 213	Foundations of Western Thought (6 credits)
Social Science Elective	2 credits
Math/Science Elective	2 credits
Literature/Philosophy Elective	2 credits
General Studies Electives	12 credits

Students are strongly advised to choose their remaining electives from at least two of the following areas: Humanities, Social Science, Mathematics/Science.

Voice Students (36 credits)

GES 101, 102, 103	Critical Perspectives (6 credits)
GES 211, 212, 213	Foundations of Western Thought (6 credits)
FRE 101, 102, 103	Elementary French (6 credits)

ITA 101, 102, 103	Elementary Italian (6 credits)
Social Science Elective	2 credits
General Studies Elective	2 credits

Arts Diploma in Music (Four-year college program)

The Arts Diploma program is designed for those who wish to concentrate entirely on musical studies. It includes all components of the music curriculum for the Bachelor of Music, but requires no courses outside the School of Music. Students may elect or audit General Studies courses after consultation with a representative of the Division of General Studies and with the approval of the Dean of the School of Music.

Undergraduate Curricula

School of Music Requirements for Students Entering After Sept. 1, 2002

N.B.: Students who entered the School of Music prior to fall term 2002 must complete the minimum requirements in effect when they entered. Copies of these requirements are available from the School of Music office. It is, however, highly recommended that all students meet the improved and strengthened curricula listed below. Satisfying these requirements will cover any requirements in effect prior to fall term 2002.

Students may elect to take some courses in a slightly different sequence. The year-by-year listings below, however, have been carefully devised to reflect a reasonable balance of study, rehearsal and performance, and are therefore the suggested sequence.

COMPOSITION

Training in composition is designed to develop skills for the "concert," rather than "popular," field of music. The study consists of the following:

Weekly private lesson: Developing a personal style through composition of original music. Specific projects will be assigned by the instructor, according to the student's artistic goals and needs. Every effort will be made to secure performances and/or recordings.

Monthly composition seminar is required for all composition majors. Students and faculty discuss technical and artistic challenges in composition. The seminar also hosts guest lecture/presentations.

Guest residency: a major guest composer or performance ensemble is engaged each year for a residency that features presentations, lessons, master classes, and a concert. Recent guests have included Bernard Rands, Eighth Blackbird, Mario Davidovsky, Ellen Taaffe Zwilich, and George Crumb.

Juries: Twice a year, students will present their work to the entire composition faculty for feedback and commentary.

High School Diploma with a Concentration in Music (Grades 9-12)

Students enrolled in the high-school music program are expected to exhibit exceptional ability or promise in their area of concentration and demonstrate appropriate progress as determined by their major teachers. Students will complement their work in the studio with ensembles, chamber music, and courses in music theory and literature designed to prepare students well for the demands of a typical undergraduate music program. All pre-college students follow the academic curriculum prescribed by the state of North Carolina for its high school diploma.

Standards of Achievement and Evaluation

Graduation Requirements

To receive a high-school diploma with a concentration in music, a student must complete the program prescribed by the state of North Carolina. This program includes academic courses in English, social studies, mathematics, science, health and physical education, as well as musical instruction, including weekly lessons and masterclasses, chamber music, and large ensembles as assigned by the major teacher. Students in 11th and 12th grade are required to enroll in either Basic Musicianship Skills or Introduction to Music Literature. NOTE: Successful completion of Basic Musicianship Skills is required for students to receive the designation Concentration in Music on their high-school diplomas.

Early Graduation

The dean, with the advice of the specialty teacher, will decide when a music student may enter into the four-year college degree or diploma program. Because of the possibility of advanced placement in some music subjects, students moving from high school to college at NCSA may be able to complete their degree in fewer than four years.

Special Students

The School of Music offers private instruction on instruments, in composition, and in voice for exceptionally gifted special students. Admission is by permission of the instructor and approval of the dean.

High School Courses

The following courses are available for students in high school:

- Private Instruction
- Chamber Music
- Large Ensembles
- Performance Attendance
- Basic Musicianship Skills
- Introduction to Music Literature

High School Course Descriptions

MUS 004, 005, 006: Basic Musicianship Skills

A college preparatory course designed to help students achieve fluency in written and aural fundamentals of music, including clef reading, intervals, major and minor scales, triads, seventh chords, and simple melodic and harmonic analysis. Class work is supplemented by required drillwork in the music lab.

MUS 013: Introduction to Aural Skills

This course is designed specifically to prepare students for undergraduate aural skills work. May be substituted for MUS 016. Instructor's permission required.

MUS 014, 015, 016: Introduction to Music Literature

A college preparatory course focusing on detailed stylistic consideration (both aurally and through score study) of selected representative works from the contrasting styles of western art music from the middle ages to the present. Works are placed in broad historical and cultural context, but the priority of the course is score study. Prerequisite: MUS 006.

MUS 0390: Performance Attendance

MUS 0400: Private Instruction

Private instruction (one hour per week) on specialty instrument, voice or composition. This also includes the required studio class (for composers, Composition Seminar). Each specialty performance teacher maintains a weekly class for his or her students. Included are in-class performance and critique in addition to specialized studies related to the particular concentration study, such as reed-making for oboists.

MUS 098: Introduction to NCSA

MUS 099: Theory Fundamentals Lab

An independent computer lab-based course designed to address deficiencies in the basic fundamentals of music theory (pitch and rhythmic notation, scales, intervals, triads). The course is graded on a pass/fail basis. Required of any student who fails High School Theory I or Basic Musicianship Skills.

MUS 599: Intensive Arts Projects

During the two-week period immediately following Thanksgiving break, students participate in special projects, classes, seminars and performances. Students are encouraged to pursue musical studies; however, interdisciplinary interests may be considered. Students must enroll in the course each fall term they are in attendance at NCSA. The course is graded "pass/fail."

Summer Session in Music

Summer Session offers lessons and master classes with NCSA's artist-faculty; courses in music theory and musicianship; performing opportunities such as the Summer Session Chamber Orchestra, Chamber Winds and Chorus. Admission is open to all interested music students. Courses are designed to meet the individual needs of each participant.

Illuminations at Manteo

The School of Music maintains a prominent presence in NCSA's summer festival at Manteo on the Outer Banks of North Carolina. Each year, 30-40 music students are chosen to represent the school in four to six weeks of chamber programs, chamber orchestra concerts, and a full-scale musical/operetta. Students are paid a weekly stipend and are housed in a spacious dorm. All of the ensembles are coached and/or conducted by NCSA faculty members.

International Music Program

The International Music Program of the School of Music allows talented students to experience foreign cultures. Since its inception in 1966, the International Music Program, or IMP, has given hundreds of NCSA students the opportunity to perform and study in and learn about various countries abroad.

Community Music School

The Community Music School of NCSA gives residents of Winston-Salem and the Piedmont Triad quality music instruction on all band and orchestra instruments, as well as in piano, voice, guitar and composition. Private lessons are taught by specialist-teachers drawn from the community and by advanced students and graduates of the North Carolina School of the Arts. There is no audition for acceptance to the Community Music School, and age presents no barrier.

Touring

School of Music ensembles and soloists are often involved in performance tours throughout North Carolina, the Southeast and beyond. These performances provide a substantial opportunity for artistic growth, placing the students in unfamiliar surroundings and challenging them to meet professional standards of excellence. Recent tours have taken groups such as the Jazz Ensemble, Cantata Singers and NCSA Symphony Orchestra to Charleston, S.C., Philadelphia and New York City, where students participated in the Lincoln Center Mozart Bicentennial celebration.

THE DIVISION OF GENERAL STUDIES

The primary mission of the North Carolina School of the Arts is to train young artists for professional careers in the arts. However, since its beginning, the School has had a strong commitment to providing a sound, supporting curriculum of general studies to ensure the broader education of the artist. This concern was expressed most eloquently by Vittorio Giannini, NCSA's founding president, as he spoke of the plans for the School in 1963:

"It is not enough to be trained as an artist, but as a person. As an artist you will express yourself as a person, and the richer you are as a person the better your expression will be. So, in this framework, you will have academic study."

The program of the Division of General Studies offers young artists (eighth grade through college) the opportunity to broaden their perspective on themselves as individuals and as part of society. The General Studies curriculum focuses on those areas of the humanities and social and natural sciences which contribute to the general cultural and intellectual awakening of the individual. Particular attention is paid to the design of academic courses relevant to the arts-oriented student.

The size of the School permits, and the philosophy of the Division of General Studies encourages, individualized attention to the academic needs and dreams of students.

High School Diploma Requirements

Standards of Achievement and Evaluation

Students must meet the course and credit requirements of the state of North Carolina for the high school diploma. Electives beyond the basic academic requirements for graduation may be chosen from available high school courses if the schedule permits. and, for qualified students, college courses. A student meeting the requirements of the North Carolina Academic Scholars Program will be designated as a North Carolina Academic Scholar. For additional information, contact the Division of General Studies, High School.

Student Responsibility for Coursework

In submitting assignments and projects for courses, students take responsibility for their work as a whole, and imply that, except as properly noted, the ideas, words, material and craftsmanship are their own. In written work, if students cite from a source of information or opinion other than themselves without giving credit, either within the body of their texts or in properly noted references and without using quotation marks where needed, or otherwise fail to acknowledge the borrowings, they have in fact presented the work, words or ideas of others as if they were their own. Failure to abide by those simple principles of responsible scholarship is dishonest, as is receiving or giving aid on tests, examinations or other assigned work presumed to be independent or original. A student whose work is found to be dishonestly accomplished and submitted as his or her own for credit will be removed from the course with a grade of "F."

Competency Testing

Students also must have passing scores on the North Carolina Competency Tests in Reading and Mathematics and the North Carolina Test of Computer Skills in order to receive a high school diploma from the North Carolina School of the Arts. These tests, which are required by North Carolina law, are given each year. Each student has several opportunities to pass the tests before the scheduled graduation date.

Class Attendance

Regular, prompt class attendance is regarded as a responsibility as well as a privilege. Each high school student is provided with a copy of the General Studies attendance policy and is responsible for knowing and abiding by the regulations.

New and currently enrolled high school students who have excessive absences during past terms and/or have failed one or more courses in a previous term may be required to participate in an individualized study plan.

Total Credits Required for High School Graduation*

English	4 units
Social Studies (1 U.S. History)	3 units

	(1 Economics/Govt.)
	(1 World History)
Mathematics	(Including Algebra I)	3 units
Science	(1 Physical Science, 1 Biology, 1 Earth/Environmental)	3 units
Health and Physical Education		1 unit
Electives	(Including arts)	6 units
Total		20 units

English Program

Development of reading and writing skills, enjoyment and appreciation of literature, and development of taste and critical judgment are the general objectives that guide the design of the program.

ENG 001, 002, 003: Eighth-Grade English

A course with emphasis on development of grammatical knowledge and writing skills. Students study plays as well as short stories, narrative poetry, and novels.

ENG 011, 012, 013: English I: Composition and Literary Forms

A course concentrating on literature, grammar, and composition. Readings include short fiction, novels, drama, and poetry. Students learn research skills and the vocabulary of literary analysis.

ENG 021, 022, 023: English II: World Literature

A course concentrating on world literature, composition, and grammar. The emphasis is on the modes of discourse and a study of selected novels, plays and films.

ENG 027, 028, 029: ESL: Reading/Writing in World Literature

A one-year high school English course in literature and writing for non-native speakers of English. The course concentrates on analyzing selections from world literature: prose, poetry, and drama. Emphasis is also on composition skills and the improvement of English vocabulary, syntax, and grammar.

ENG 031, 032, 033: English III: American Literature

A review of grammar, mechanics and vocabulary as a basis for advanced composition practice in a variety of modes. Along with regular readings and discussions of poetry and prose by American authors, the course introduces students to formal critical analysis of the literary genres.

ENG 034, 035, 036: English III: Advanced Placement English Language and Composition

A course which engages students in becoming skilled readers of American prose and poetry written in a variety of periods, disciplines and rhetorical contexts. Students work toward becoming skilled writers who compose for a variety of purposes. Both their writing and their reading make students aware of the interactions among a writer's purposes, audience expectations, and subjects, as well as the way generic conventions and the resources of language contribute to effectiveness in writing. Students can qualify for college credit in many colleges upon satisfactory completion of the College Board Advanced Placement Examination in Language and Composition.

ENG 041, 042, 043: English IV: Masterworks: Prose, Poetry, and Drama

A three-term course in which students read and discuss selected literary works from British, European, and non-Western authors. Special attention is given to the refinement of skills in written and oral communication.

ENG 044,045,046: English IV: Themes in Literature

A three-term course in which students will experience a thematic approach to literature with a concentration on the major British works and authors. Focus will be on themes like innocence and experience, conformity and rebellion, art and literature and self and society. Emphasis will be placed on composition, and a variety of critical approaches will be used.

ENG 051, 052, 053: English V: Advanced Placement English Composition and Literature

A seminar-style course in which advanced students discuss readings from major writers. A wide variety of writing experiences, close readings of poetry and prose passages, and objective testing sessions characterize the weekly procedures. Students can qualify for college credit in many colleges upon satisfactory completion of The College Board Advanced Placement Examination in English Literature and Composition.

Mathematics Program

The mathematics program in the secondary school is designed to provide the opportunity for mastery of fundamental principles and basic techniques of mathematics and to offer advanced study in college preparatory courses. Placement testing is required prior to enrollment in any mathematics course.

MAT 011, 012, 013: Discovering Algebra

An introductory algebra course designed to prepare students for Algebra I. Topics include: operations with rational numbers, order of operations, and linear equations and functions. Emphasis will be placed on the use of current technology.

MAT 014, 015, 016: Algebra I

A one-year, comprehensive algebra course for the accelerated student. Topics of study include linear, quadratic, and exponential functions. Students will use current technology in problem-solving and data analysis. Prerequisite: placement testing or Discovering Algebra.

MAT 021, 022, 023: Geometry

A Euclidean geometry course which emphasizes the properties of parallel lines, triangles, polygons, and circles. These properties are applied in problem solving and proof-writing. Prerequisite: Algebra I or Algebra IA and IB.

MAT 031, 032, 033: Algebra II

A second-year algebra course that reinforces and extends the topics begun in Algebra I. The course includes the study of linear, exponential, quadratic, logarithmic and polynomial functions. Emphasis will be placed on the use of current technology. Prerequisite: Algebra I or Algebra IA and IB.

Topics in Advanced Mathematics is a series of one-term courses which can be taken by the term or for one year.

MAT 041: Topics in Advanced Mathematics: Quantitative Reasoning

A one-term course focusing on mathematical reasoning and advanced problem solving.

The course will include such topics as the principles of mathematical logic, statistical analysis, using and understanding numbers in context, and mathematical modeling.

Prerequisite: Algebra II.

MAT 042: Topics in Advanced Mathematics: Financial and Scientific Applications

A one-term course exploring applications of mathematics in the contemporary world. This course will include such topics as financial management, exponential growth and decay, and probability and statistics.

Prerequisite: Algebra II.

MAT 043: Topics in Advanced Mathematics: Mathematics and the Arts

A one-term course that explores the dynamic connections between advanced mathematics and music, dance, visual arts, and literature. The course will examine the relationships between mathematical theory and such topics as the golden mean, Escher-like tessellations and fractals. Prerequisite: Algebra II.

MAT 044, 045, 046: Pre-Calculus

An advanced mathematics course consisting of the study of functions and their applications. The course also includes an intense study of trigonometry. Emphasis is placed on the use of current technology in problem-solving and data analysis. Prerequisite: Algebra II.

MAT 051, 052, 053: Calculus and Its Applications

An advanced course which includes the study of limits, the derivative, integration, and applications. Emphasis is placed on the use of current technology in problem-solving and data analysis. Prerequisite: Pre-Calculus or its equivalent.

Science Program

The science program in the secondary school is designed to introduce the student to the fundamental principles and basic techniques of science and to offer advanced study in specific subjects.

SCI 001, 002, 003: Eighth-Grade Science

A study of the basic topics, principles, and techniques of the physical and life sciences. Emphasis is on group cooperation and the development of the various skills necessary to gather, record, analyze, and summarize observations.

SCI 011, 012, 013: Environmental Science

The Environmental Science curriculum focuses on the function of the earth's systems. Emphasis is placed on earth as a dynamic, ever-changing system. Students will study matter, energy, crustal dynamics, environmental awareness, materials availability, and the cycles that circulate energy and material through the earth system.

SCI 021, 022, 023: Biology

A study of the basic biological topics, principles and techniques through lecture, group work, class discussion and laboratory. Topics include, but are not limited to, nature, process and history of science; cell biology; molecular basis of heredity; biological evolution; interdependence of organisms; matter, energy, and organization in living systems; behavior of organisms. When appropriate, students also explore the cultural, social, and economic and political issues embedded in the biological sciences. This course is offered to students in grades 10 and above. Prerequisite: one unit of High School Environmental or Physical Science.

Upper-Level Science Courses

A year-long course or combination of three one-term courses may be used to fulfill the third-year science graduation requirements if they meet specific course requirements.

Year Courses

SCI 031, 032, 033: Chemistry

A study of the general methods of science using chemistry as a vehicle. Students learn through lecture, discussion and laboratory work, with particular emphasis given to problem-solving techniques. Prerequisite: Algebra I and one unit of High School Biology.

SCI 034, 035, 036: Physics

A conceptual and mathematical approach to the study of matter and energy. Prerequisite: Algebra I and one unit of High School Biology.

SCI 037, 038, 039: Advanced Biology

A year-long advanced study of biology as it applies to the young artist. The content includes molecular biology, cell biology, genetics, evolution and organisms. Laboratory activities, data collection and analysis, group projects, and use of educational technologies such as the World Wide Web are an integral part of this course. Prerequisite: One unit of High School Biology and one unit of High School Chemistry or permission of the instructor.

SCI 041, 042, 043: Advanced Environmental Sciences

The curriculum focuses on the understanding that science is a process. Students will focus on: energy conversions underlie all ecological processes; the earth itself is one interconnected system; humans alter natural systems; environmental problems have cultural and social context; humans must develop practices that will achieve sustainable systems. Prerequisite: One year of High School Biology.

SCI 044, 045, 046: Advanced Earth Science

A year-long, in-depth study for juniors and seniors of planet Earth – its materials and processes. The content includes geology, oceanography, meteorology, and astronomy. Attention is paid to how humans interact with the terrestrial environment.

One-Term Courses

SCI 024, 025, 026: Topics in the Biological Sciences

A course designed for juniors and seniors who wish to continue their study of biology or who wish to complete their diploma requirement in science with a focus in biology. Various topics are selected each school year for three discrete term courses. Possible topics may include North Carolina Nature Study, Biology and Culture, Human Senses, Special Topics in Genetics, and Special Topics in Environmental Science. Assignments will include guided library research, careful reading, writing (analysis and reflection) and class discussion. Prerequisite: One unit of High School Biology.

SCI 027, 028, 029: Conceptual Physics

A conceptual approach to the study of the basic principles of physics through dance, music, and visual arts. Conceptual Physics is intended for juniors and seniors. Prerequisite: One unit of High School Biology.

SCI 047, 048, 049: Topics in Biology and Social Science

SST 047, 048, 049: Topics in Biology and Social Science

Interdisciplinary seminar for upper-level high school students (11th – 12th grades) which will look through the lenses of biology and culture at selected issues in various contemporary societies. Students will be asked to read, listen, discuss and write critically and thoughtfully. During the year, students and teachers will study the relationship of biology and culture in three areas: Human Relationships with Nature and the Environment (fall term); Biology and Culture (winter term); Human Senses and the Creative Process (spring term). The course may not be repeated for additional credit. Prerequisite: High School Biology. SCI 047, 048, 049 is cross listed as SST 047, 048, 049.

Foreign Language Program

The purpose of the high school French and Spanish programs is to achieve practical use of the language with emphasis on current speech patterns and writing style. The college French, German and Italian courses are open to high school juniors and seniors who meet placement testing requirements and the criteria for admission to a college course and whose schedules accommodate the course.

FRE 011, 012, 013: French I

Introduction to the basic sounds and speech patterns of French. Emphasis is on mastery of material studied, including the speaking, writing, reading, and aural-oral comprehension of the language in a culture-oriented atmosphere.

FRE 021, 022, 023: French II

Continued study of the language and the culture, including introduction of finer points of grammar, composition, and conversation. Further emphasis is on the four aspects of language learning introduced in French I. Prerequisite: French I; placement testing.

FRE 031, 032, 033: Advanced French

An in-depth study of the French language and culture, including advanced grammar structure, authentic French texts, music, videos, and films. The emphasis is on building vocabulary and conversational skills. The course is conducted in French. Prerequisite: French II; placement testing.

SPA 011, 012, 013: Spanish I

An introduction to the Spanish language, including speech patterns, grammar, writing, reading, and a diversity of cultural aspects related to Spanish.

SPA 021, 022, 023: Spanish II

A comprehensive study of the language and culture of the Spanish-speaking world, with emphasis on grammar, writing and conversation. The course is conducted primarily in Spanish. Prerequisite: Spanish I; placement testing.

SPA 031, 032, 033: Advanced Spanish

A course emphasizing meaning and communication, with the opportunity to improve fluency through writing, literary analysis, and the learning and understanding of the Spanish and Latin American culture. The course is conducted in Spanish. Prerequisite: Spanish II; placement testing.

Social Studies Program

The social studies program seeks to develop the student's appreciation for history and the social sciences as a foundation for any cultural study. It follows the North Carolina Social Studies Curriculum in presenting a balanced and effective program with focus on Western and non-Western cultures, the American nation, as well as the social sciences. Elective courses may not be offered each year.

SST 004, 005, 006: Eighth Grade Social Studies: NC History through the 21st Century

A study of N.C. history from the age of European discovery through contemporary times. Using U.S. History as a context, eighth grade students examine the roles of people, events, and issues in North Carolina history.

SST 011, 012, 013: World History

An historical approach to the study of human experience throughout the world from ancient to contemporary times will be the core of this survey course. The contributions and patterns of living in civilizations around the world will be examined. This course is offered for students in grade 9.

SST 021, 022, 023: Civics and Economics

An introductory course which focuses on the development of economics, legal and political knowledge and skills needed by all students so that they may become responsible citizens in an interdependent world. This course is offered for students in grade 10.

SST 031, 032, 033: U.S. History

A study of U.S. history from the end of the 18th century, with special emphasis on the uniqueness of American institutions and their importance in the world today, as well as American artistic contributions. This course is offered for high school students in grades 11 and 12.

SST 034, 035, 036: World Cultures

A course designed to enable students to study the diversity and richness of the cultures of the world and to engage them in using the geography, history, arts, literature, and artifacts of those cultures as a means of understanding them. Cultural regions, institutions and practices chosen for examination may vary, but those used might include cultures of Africa, Asia, Latin America, the Middle East, and the Commonwealth of Independent States.

SST 037, 038, 039: Advanced Civics and Economics

An advanced study of political science and economics, examining basic political, legal, and economic institutions and exploring issues facing today's citizens. Students who have completed the tenth-grade course may take this advanced course for elective credit. This course is offered for eleventh and twelfth grade students.

SST 044, 045, 046: Topics in the Social Sciences

An introduction to the social sciences (particularly psychology and sociology) as students study various topics that are selected for three distinctive term courses. The student receives one-third unit credit for each term completed and a different topic is offered each term. Some examples of the kinds of offerings might include: The Creative Process; the Psychology of Imagination; The Artist in Cultural Context. Open to qualified 11th - and 12th-graders.

SCI 047, 048, 049: Topics in Biology and Social Science

SST 047, 048, 049: Topics in Biology and Social Science

Interdisciplinary seminar for upper-level high school students (11th – 12th grades) that will look through the lenses of biology and culture at selected issues in various contemporary societies. Students will be asked to read, listen, discuss and write critically and thoughtfully. During the year, students and teachers will study the relationship of biology and culture in three areas: Human Relationships with Nature and the Environment (fall term); Biology and Culture (winter term); Human Senses and the Creative Process (spring term). The course may not be repeated for additional credit. Prerequisite: High School Biology. SCI 047,048,049 is cross listed as SST 047,048,049.

SST 051, 052, 053: Advanced Placement United States History

A challenging study of American history from the 16th century with special emphasis on the detailed analysis of political, socio-economic, artistic, and literary topics. Frequent research and writing assignments, readings of historical materials and scholarly interpretations, and objective testing are all regular components of the class. Students can qualify for college credit in many colleges upon the satisfactory completion of The College Board Advanced Placement Examination in United States History. Placement will be confirmed by the instructor.

SST 054, 055, 056: Advanced Placement European History

A course that will provide a basic narrative of events and movements in European history from the High Renaissance to the recent past. Themes will include intellectual and cultural history, political and diplomatic history, as well as social and economic history. Students can qualify for college credit in many colleges upon the satisfactory completion of The College Board Advanced Placement Examination in European History. Placement will be confirmed by the instructor.

Health and Physical Education Program

The goal of the health and physical education program is to instill in each student a lifelong commitment to individual wellness and fitness and to equip each student with the skills and knowledge to make informed decisions regarding his/her well-being. Age-appropriate health courses are offered; the physical education requirement for junior and senior high school students is met in the case of dance and drama students through their regularly scheduled arts courses. For music and visual arts students, a program is offered by the Division of General Studies.

HEA 001, 002, 003: Eighth-Grade Health

A study of the basic principles of health as they apply to the young student-artist, including such topics as substance abuse, nutrition, interpersonal skills, first aid and safety.

HEA 011, 012, 013: Health

An introductory study of physical, mental, emotional and environmental health, including units in substance abuse prevention, human sexuality, interpersonal skills, disease control, and first-aid and emergency care.

PHE 001, 002, 003: Eighth-Grade Physical Education

An individually prescribed fitness course designed to meet the needs and interests of the eighth-grade student-artist and to complement the physical dimension of the arts training. Workouts are supervised by trained fitness personnel. Initial and follow-up evaluations are required to assess gains in fitness.

PHE 011, 012, 013: Physical Education

An individually prescribed fitness course designed to meet the needs and interests of the high school student-artist and to complement the physical dimension of the arts training. Workouts are supervised by trained fitness personnel. Initial and follow-up evaluations are required to assess gains in fitness.

Policy for Admission of High School Students to College Courses

Eligibility

Only those students who meet the following criteria will be allowed to apply for admission to college General Studies courses; approval is not automatic.

Grade level – 11 or 12

Test Scores

Grade 11 – PSAT/SAT I or achievement test score required

Grade 12 – PSAT/SAT I/ACT scores required

High school credits

Grade 11 – 12 units completed, including 8 required courses

Grade 12 – 13 units completed, including 10 required courses

Grade average in required courses (English, social studies, math, science) — at least a “B,” with no failing grades in these areas.

Acceptable reasons for enrollment include:

- I. Advanced study beyond that which is offered in the high school curriculum.
- II. Elective credit in areas not offered in the high school curriculum.
- III. Early college credit; high school credits completed.

A completed application must be on file in the General Studies College Office prior to the beginning of the term in which the student seeks enrollment.

Available Courses

Eligible high school students may enroll in one college course per term, if approval is granted and space permits. Courses may be selected from any of the college General Studies offerings except GES 101, 102, 103, GES 211, 212, 213, and courses restricted to specific student groups. The instructor’s permission is required for admission to certain advanced-level courses.

Course Credit

High school students have the opportunity to take college courses for which college credit can later be awarded. High school students who later enroll in the North Carolina School of the Arts College Program may receive advanced placement credit for college courses completed successfully with a grade of “C” or better when these courses are not part of the basic high school requirements. Those high school students who leave the North Carolina School of the Arts upon completion of their secondary education may submit for transfer credit the college courses taken at NCSA for which a grade of “C” or better was achieved. Final decisions regarding the granting of transfer credit from the School are, as always, made by the receiving institution. In addition to the transcript of all work done at NCSA, a separate letter of explanation regarding the college-level work will be supplied, upon request of the student, to the receiving institution for those high school students who have successfully completed college courses for which they may qualify to receive college credit.

College Degree Requirements

Standards of Achievement and Evaluation

During each term of the academic year, the usual General Studies program of the college student consists of four semester hours, each course usually carrying two semester hours of credit. The student will thus have earned 12 semester hours at the end of each year. Independent study courses or special seminars may vary from one semester hour to two semester hours of credit depending upon the nature of the course.

Student Responsibility for Coursework

In submitting assignments and projects for courses, students take responsibility for their work as a whole, and imply that, except as properly noted, the ideas, words, material and craftsmanship are their own. In written work, if students cite from a source of information or opinion other than themselves without giving credit, either within the body of their texts or in properly noted references and without using quotation marks where needed, or otherwise fail to acknowledge the borrowings, they have in fact presented the work, words or ideas of others as if they were their own. Failure to abide by those simple principles of responsible scholarship is dishonest, as is receiving or giving aid on tests, examinations or other assigned work presumed to be independent or original. A student whose work is found to be dishonestly accomplished and submitted as his or her own for credit will be removed from the course with a grade of "F."

Satisfactory General Studies Progress Requirements

Students who have completed half the General Studies requirements for their degree must maintain a 2.0 cumulative average and a 2.0 term average each term in General Studies courses. A student who fails to achieve either a 2.0 cumulative or a 2.0 per term average will be placed on General Studies probation for the following term. The student whose cumulative average in General Studies courses falls below 2.0 for two consecutive terms will be dismissed from the degree program and placed in the arts diploma program.

Students who have not completed half the General Studies requirements for their degree must maintain a 1.8 cumulative average and a 1.8 term average each term in General Studies courses. A student who fails to achieve either a 1.8 cumulative or a 1.8 term average for a given term will be placed on General Studies probation for the following term. The student whose cumulative average in General Studies courses falls below 1.8 for three consecutive terms will be dismissed from the degree program and placed in the arts diploma program.

When the student's General Studies cumulative average improves to the required level, the student may apply to re-enter the baccalaureate degree program.

Transfer Students

College students who wish to transfer from other institutions of higher education must comply with the School's audition and entrance requirements. College courses carrying a grade of "C" or better may be considered for transfer credit.

Special Students

The General Studies Program will accept as Special Students only those students who have:

- 1) Finished their Arts Diploma and have returned to NCSA to finish their Degree;
or
- 2) Withdrawn temporarily from their arts program with the special recommendation of their arts dean due to financial, catastrophic, or highly unusual circumstances, and whose GPA in General Studies is 2.0 or higher. Those students who have withdrawn from their arts program with a cumulative General Studies GPA less than 2.0 may not choose this option under any circumstance.

Exceptions to this policy may only be made with the written approval of the dean of General Studies.

Basic Requirements for the Bachelor of Fine Arts and Bachelor of Music

Qualified college students who wish to pursue a bachelor's degree while receiving professional arts training may enroll in the college degree program. The major portion of the degree student's work is in applied training in the individual arts area; the remaining study toward the degree is classified as non-applied and consists of the following school-wide requirements:

- * Clear demonstration of competence in reading, writing, and oral communication skills.

Writing and oral discussion are stressed throughout the General Studies program; proficiency in oral communication is particularly encouraged in each of the arts areas.

College-level training in reading, writing, and oral communication is provided in General Studies 101, 102, 103. Entering students who present test scores or high school records that indicate below-average work in English and related subjects are required to take an English Placement Test. Those who perform satisfactorily on the test enroll in General Studies 101; those who do not must also enroll in ENG 100, a non-credit tutorial course stressing reading, writing and study skills. The student's progress will be reevaluated at the end of each term.

General Studies (GES) 101, 102,103: Critical Perspectives

The goal of Critical Perspectives is to develop students' powers as critical, creative and active (rather than passive) thinkers. Students will achieve this goal by reading works by American, European and Third-World writers, most of which focus upon issues in the arts. While the readings are tailored to shed light on ways that artists perceive issues in art and the community of which they are a part, emphasis will be placed on the students' writing of critical, analytical, argumentative and persuasive essays. The students will explore definitions of art and artists, and develop the capacity to view every work of art as a "text" that is available for analysis. As writers they will learn to effectively articulate that analysis and to question the authority of the text itself.

GES 101: Critical Perspectives: Art as Argument (2 credits)

An introduction to argumentative and persuasive writing and thinking. Students will read argumentative and persuasive essays by artists from a variety of disciplines and write argumentative essays in response to issues raised in the readings. The students will, in each essay, be required to incorporate at least one element of research, and learn basic research and citation skills.

GES 102: Critical Perspectives: Literature as Argument (2 credits)

An introduction to plays, short stories and novels about artists whose visions reflect shifting and evolving social concerns or who have provocative ideas about the meaning of art. The students will assume that literary texts carry within them arguments or debatable truths—some overt, some embedded or sub textual. Students are expected to continue to argue, in their essays, issues about these texts that are based upon analytical thinking. Prerequisite: GES 101 or equivalent.

GES 103: Critical Perspectives: Poetry as Argument (2 credits)

An introduction to analytical thinking and writing about poetry as an art form. Students will learn to listen critically to poetry and "unpack" a poetic text, and argue their interpretation of a poem persuasively. A significant part of the term will concern applying basic theoretical perspectives to textual interpretation. Students will consider poetry itself as a form of argumentation. Prerequisite: GES 101 or equivalent.

GES 190: Freshman Seminar (2 credits)

Selected interdisciplinary topics that cross boundaries between performing, visual, and moving image arts in the context of liberal arts modes of inquiry, analysis, discussion and evaluation. Attendance at specified NCSA events and performances is required. Intended primarily for first-year college students. May be taken only once for elective credit. Prerequisite: Concurrent enrollment in GES 101; completion of GES 101; or the equivalent.

An awareness of major concepts that have shaped the intellectual tradition in the humanities and the arts.

GES 211, 212, 213: Foundations of Western Thought

A three-term course that builds on and extends the close reading, writing, and analytic skills addressed in the Critical Perspectives sequence. The course invites students to develop an informed and critical understanding of some of the major ideas, thinkers, and works that have shaped our culture in the past or show promise of making a significant contribution in the future. The primary focus is on the Western intellectual and artistic tradition, but significant attention is also given to texts or ideas of non-Western origin. Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, 103 or permission of instructor.

GES 211: Religious World Views (2 credits)

Concerned with concepts about the divine and the human condition as expressed in the Epic of Gilgamesh, Homer, the Bible, Sophocles, writings from the Buddhist tradition, and others.

GES 212: Self and Society (2 credits)

Explores various theories about the best form of society and the optimum development of human nature as found in the writings of such thinkers as Plato, Confucius, Machiavelli, Shakespeare, Marx and Engels, Freud, and others.

GES 213: Concepts of Style (2 credits)

Examines works of art and ideas derived from the Enlightenment, Romanticism, and various strands of Modernism, e.g., "Tartuffe," Goethe's "Faust," "The Rite of Spring," works by T.S. Eliot, Borges, and others.

An informed sense of the individuality of the inter-relatedness of major areas of knowledge, through study in each of the following three divisions:

- Fine Arts/Humanities
- Social/Behavioral Sciences
- Mathematics/Natural Sciences

Each arts area, in cooperation with the Division of General Studies, sets more specific, sometimes additional non-applied requirements appropriate to the particular field of study. See the descriptions of degree requirements in each arts area for further information.

HUM 122: The Medieval and Renaissance Worlds

HUM 123: The Modern World

HUM 290: Topics in the Humanities (2 credits)

One-term intensive studies in which the instructor and students are challenged to examine some facet of the Western humanistic tradition. Prerequisite: permission of the instructor.

History and Criticism of Art and Theatre

Art History (ARH) 101, 102, 103 (2 credits per term)

A three-term historical survey of the major styles in painting, sculpture, and architecture in Western civilization; non-Western styles as time allows.

ARH 101: Ancient and Christian
ARH 102: Medieval through Renaissance
ARH 103: Baroque to Modern

Theatre History (THH) 241,242,243: Theatre History (2 credits per term)

THH 241: Dramatic Theory and Criticism

This course is designed to explore significant contributions to dramatic theory and criticism from the Greeks to the present. Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, or equivalent.

THH 242: Design and Performance

This course is designed to move from the Greeks to the present by focusing on significant contributions to design and performance theory and technique. Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, or equivalent.

THH 243: Performance Forms

This course is designed to explore various non-literary performance forms from the ancient to the contemporary. It will include not only European forms, but also present theatrical developments in China, Japan, Africa and Indonesia. Prerequisite: GES 101,102, or equivalent.

English Courses

English (ESL) 100: Academic English for Non-Native Speakers (No credit)

Offered only to non-native speakers of English, this course concentrates on improving academic skills. Particular emphasis is given to practicing college-level reading and writing.

ENG 100: Learning and Academic Skills Laboratory (No credit)

A course designed to assist students in improving learning skills through application of the basic principles of learning, and in overcoming deficiencies in analysis, reading and writing.

Literature Courses

The single-term elective literature courses extend the critical thinking, reading and writing skills developed in the prerequisite Critical Perspectives courses (GES 101, 102, 103). The literature courses also extend students' familiarity with the topics, themes and ideas that emerge from the required Foundations of Western Thought courses (GES 211, 212, 213). Literature courses are offered to enhance areas of the programs of the five arts schools, to respond to student interest in timely material and to take advantage of faculty research and expertise. Individual courses are repeated on average no more often than every three years so that students have access to a fresh variety of course offerings each term they are enrolled. The literature courses are designated by one of the following course titles:

Literature (LIT) 104: Introduction to World Literature (2 credits)

A study of literature from a variety of world traditions. Topics alternate between Introduction to World Literary Traditions and Introduction to World Folktales. The course focuses on the development of skills in text analysis, writing and discussion. Offered to first-year students who have completed GES 101.

LIT 220: Literature in English (2 credits)

The study of a variety of texts from American, British and other literatures written in English. Each course focuses on the work of a writer, group of writers, region, period, style, genre or theme. Representative titles from courses offered in recent years: Romantic Art, Romantic Lives; Contemporary Popular Fiction; Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales"; Recent American Poetry; Women Writers of the Harlem Renaissance. Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, 103 or equivalent.

LIT 230: Literature in Translation (2 credits)

The study of a variety of texts from world literature translated into English. Each course focuses on the work of a writer, group of writers, region, period, style, genre or theme. Representative titles from courses offered in recent years: Women In the Ancient World; Italo Calvino, Storyteller; French and German Fairy Tales; Classical Lyric Poetry. Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, 103 or equivalent.

LIT 240: Comparative Literature (2 credits)

The study of a variety of texts from world literature translated into English. Course topics are selected for correspondence of themes, subjects, forms, styles or critical issues regardless of boundaries of nation or language. Representative titles from courses offered in recent years: Narratives of Madness; Don Juan; Fantasy Literature. Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, 103 or equivalent.

LIT 290: Topics in Dramatic Literature (2 credits)

A series of courses that focus on the work of individual playwrights or groups of playwrights, or on dramatic works representing various periods, nations, styles or themes. Representative titles from courses offered in recent years: Ibsen & Shaw; Epic Theatre; Theatre of the Absurd; Tragedy in Athens; The Blood Tragedies, Shakespeare & the Other; Postmodern Drama. Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, 103 or equivalent.

Writing Courses

The single-term elective writing courses provide opportunities for students who write correctly and fluently to extend their skills at creative or professional writing in directions of particular interest. Literary and journalistic texts may be assigned, primarily as models for writing. The work of these courses is accomplished by frequent critiqued and graded assignments, presented in class. A high value is placed on student participation and peer discussion of in-progress and completed assignments. Instruction is given in appropriate and effective techniques for peer critique and for revision. The writing courses are designated by one of the following course titles:

Writing (WRI) 150: Introduction to Creative Writing (2 credits per term)

A first course in creative writing or personal narrative. The course focuses on the development of skills for effective use and understanding of language choices in writing. Topics alternate between Introductory Creative Writing and Personal Narrative: Letters, Journals, Memoirs. Offered to first-year students who have completed GES 101. Prerequisite: completion of GES 101.

WRI 250: Topics in Practical and Professional Writing (2 credits per term)

Representative course topics: Arts Reviewing and Criticism, The Art of the Interview. Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, 103 or the equivalent.

WRI 260: Topics in Creative Writing (2 credits per term)

Representative course topics: Fiction Writing, Poetry Writing, Dramatic Writing, Writing Adaptations, Writing for Solo Performance. Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, 103 or the equivalent.

WRI 360: Advanced Topics in Writing (2 credits per term)

Greater student initiative and independence is expected than for WRI 250 and 260. Representative course topics: Fiction, Poetry or Dramatic Writing. Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, 103 plus WRI 250 or 260 and permission of instructor.

Modern Foreign Languages

French (FRE) 101, 102, 103: Elementary French (2 credits per term)

An introduction to the French language with the goal of oral proficiency. The major emphasis is on spoken French, basic grammar and vocabulary building, which will provide the student with necessary language skills to function on a basic level in a French-speaking country. The student will also learn about cultural elements of the country and its people. Prerequisite for FRE 102: FRE 101 or permission of instructor. Prerequisite for FRE 103: FRE 102 or permission of instructor.

FRE 201, 202, 203: Intermediate French (2 credits per term)

Continuation of structural skills and vocabulary as needed for expanded understanding and production of the French language. Reading of contemporary literature, which will help familiarize the student not only with the everyday language, but also with current issues and the way French people feel, think, and act. Prerequisite: FRE 101, 102, 103 or equivalent.

Note: Advanced-level tutorials are available in French conversation, literature or culture, tailored to the interests of the individual student. By permission of the instructor.

German (GER) 101, 102, 103: Elementary German (2 credits per term)

An introduction to the German language with the goal of oral proficiency. The major emphasis is on spoken German, basic grammar and vocabulary building, which will provide the student with necessary language skills to function on a basic level in a German-speaking country. The student will also learn about cultural elements of the country and its people. Prerequisite for GER 102: GER 101 or permission of instructor. Prerequisite for GER 103: GER 102 or permission of instructor.

GER 201, 202, 203: Intermediate German (2 credits per term)

Continuation of structural skills and vocabulary as needed for expanded understanding and production of the German language. Reading of contemporary literature, which helps familiarize the student not only with the everyday language, but also with current issues and the way German people feel, think and act. Prerequisite: GER 101, 102, 103 or equivalent.

Note: Advanced-level tutorials are available in German conversation, literature or culture, tailored to the interests of the individual student. By permission of the instructor.

Italian (ITA) 101, 102, 103: Elementary Italian (2 credits per term)

An introduction to Italian, with the goal of oral proficiency. Attention is given to pronunciation, conversation skills, basic grammar, and the culture from which the language derives. Prerequisite for ITA 102: ITA 101 or permission of instructor. Prerequisite for ITA 103: ITA 102 or permission of instructor.

ITA 201, 202, 203: Intermediate Italian (2 credits per term)

Continuation of structural skills and vocabulary as needed for expanded understanding and production of the Italian language. Reading of current literature and additional cultural materials that will help familiarize the student with the language and concerns of contemporary Italy. Prerequisite: ITA 101, 102, 103 or equivalent.

Note: Advanced-level tutorials are available in Italian conversation, literature or culture, tailored to the interests of the individual student. By permission of the instructor.

Philosophy

The single-term elective philosophy courses utilize the reading, writing and analytic skills developed in the Critical Perspectives courses (GES 101, 102, 103) to begin further exploration of ideas examined in the Foundations of Western Thought courses (GES 211, 212, 213) or to investigate alternative intellectual options. The electives presented during any given year are taken from either the history of philosophy or topics in philosophy offerings.

Philosophy (PHI) 101 Introduction to Philosophy (2 credits)

An introduction to some central philosophical debates about the nature of the self, the constitution of ultimate reality, and the foundation of value.

PHI 211: Readings in Ancient Philosophy (2 credits)

An examination of the birth of philosophical thought in the West, culminating in the work of Plato and Aristotle. Attention is given to non-Western thinkers and traditions. Prerequisite: GES 101 or permission of instructor.

PHI 212: Readings in Medieval Philosophy (2 credits)

Investigations of some of the major philosophical traditions of the Middle Ages, with some attention given to the cultural and social context of the philosophers to be studied. Prerequisite: GES 101 or permission of instructor.

PHI 213: Readings in Modern Philosophy (2 credits)

A study of some of the representative thinkers in the period from Descartes to the present. Prerequisite: GES 101 or permission of instructor.

PHI 214: Readings in Contemporary Philosophy (2 credits)

A study of contemporary thinkers representative of current important trends in philosophical thought. Prerequisite: GES 101 or permission of instructor.

PHI 224: Metaphysics and Mysticism (2 credits)

Various perspectives on what is ultimately real and how it can be known. Readings and authors studied will vary but usually include Plato, Descartes, Berkeley and representatives of Daoism, among others. Prerequisite: GES 101 or permission of instructor.

PHI 225: Moral and Political Philosophy (2 credits)

What are a good life and a good society? What is right and wrong? Why be moral? These and similar questions provide the points of departure for this course. Prerequisite: GES 101 or permission of instructor.

PHI 226: Philosophy of Religion (2 credits)

An examination of Western and non-Western religious ideas, with a large segment of the course given to problems concerning the nature of religious knowledge, the nature and existence of God, and the problem of evil. Prerequisite: GES 101 or permission of instructor.

PHI 227: Philosophy of Art (2 credits)

An examination of classical and contemporary theories of the nature of art and artistry. Prerequisite: GES 211 and 212.

PHI 290: Special Topics in Philosophy (2 credits)

In-depth examinations of particular thinkers, movements or philosophical problems. Prerequisite: GES 101 or permission of instructor.

Social Sciences

Social Science (SOS) 124, 125, 226: American Cultural Studies (2 credits per term) (Offered as needed.)

SOS 124: A survey of American culture and society from 1776 through the Civil War era, with emphasis on the development of distinctively American ideas, institutions and art.

SOS 125: A topical survey of American culture from 1880 to the present, with emphasis on what happens to American ideas, institutions and arts as the United States becomes an industrial and urban world power.

SOS 226: Specialized topics focusing on one facet of American culture. A different topic is chosen each term. Examples have included The American Political Tradition, The American South, Democracy in America. Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, 103 or equivalent.

SOS 154: Archaeology and Human Evolution (2 credits)

A survey of the origins of ourselves and our cultures since human beings appeared on Earth. The biological and environmental forces that influenced the ways our ancestors lived are reviewed. Methods by which this information has been learned and likely directions for our future as a species will be considered.

SOS 155: Cultural Anthropology (2 credits)

A consideration of the interrelated parts of cultures, reasons for their creation, and why and how they change. The course also examines the functions of a culture's major symbolic systems, with special attention to the arts.

SOS 156: World Cultures (2 credits)

An exploration of human cultures in one of the following regions: Africa, Asia, North or South America, Europe, or the Pacific, to reveal common and unique features in lifestyles from each region. The cultures are placed in an ecological and evolutionary framework. Regional focus rotates; subjects vary each term and year. Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, 103; SOS 155 recommended.

SOS 236: European Cultural Studies (2 credits per term) (Offered as needed.)

Special topics (a focus on one facet of European culture; a different topic is chosen each year). Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, 103 or equivalent.

SOS 244, 245, 246: Contemporary World Issues (2 credits per term) (Offered as needed.)

An examination of contemporary issues of global, national and individual importance.

SOS 244: Global Perspectives (2 credits)

An examination of major contemporary and world problems including population and food supply, war, the impact of technology, and the role of modern science. Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, 103 or equivalent.

SOS 245: The Western World in the Contemporary Age (2 credits)

An examination of the major national and international problems of the Western industrial nations, with emphasis on domestic political issues, economic trends and social issues. Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, 103 or equivalent.

SOS 246: The Non-Western World in the Contemporary Age (2 credits)

Problems of the Third-World countries. The course will include a broad treatment of non-Western cultures as well as a special focus each year on a single non-Western culture. Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, 103 or equivalent.

SOS 290: Contemporary Issues in Anthropology (2 credits)

A special topics course in which specific material may be changed according to class interest, but which will deal with an area of concern in anthropology and the other social sciences today. Prerequisite: GES 101, 102, 103 or equivalent.

Mathematics and Science

A student wishing to fulfill the all-school science/mathematics requirement may choose from the following options:

Satisfactory completion of at least one 200-level mathematics course

Satisfactory completion of at least one science course

Note: MATHEMATICS (MAT) 100 may be used to make up mathematics deficiencies determined by the UNC minimum course requirements (MCR)

Mathematics (MAT) 100: Foundations of Mathematics: Algebra (No credit)

A study of the properties of real numbers, linear equations and inequalities, graphing, polynomials and quadratic equations.

MAT 100: Foundations of Mathematics: Geometry (No credit)

A study of parallel lines and transversals, quadrilaterals, regular polygons, similarity, ratio and proportion, right triangle theorems, distance, mid-point formulas, circles, area and volume, prisms, cones, proof exercises. Prerequisite: MAT 100: Foundations of Mathematics: Algebra or equivalent.

MAT 100: Foundations of Mathematics: Trigonometry (No credit)

A study of right-triangle trigonometry, trigonometric ratios and applications, the Unit Circle, fundamental identities, Law of Sines, Law of Cosines and application. Prerequisite: MAT 100: Foundations of Mathematics: Geometry or equivalent.

MAT 101: Foundations of Mathematics: Trigonometry (2 credits)

A study of right-triangle trigonometry, trigonometric ratios and applications, the Unit Circle, fundamental identities, Law of Sines, Law of Cosines and applications. Prerequisite: Mat 100: Foundation of Geometry or equivalent.

MAT 201: College Algebra (2 credits)

A study of real and complex numbers, linear, quadratic, absolute value equations and inequalities, functions and their graphs. Prerequisite: Algebra I, Geometry and Algebra II.

MAT 202: College Trigonometry (2 credits)

A study of the six trigonometric functions; the Unit Circle; radians and degrees; graphing trigonometric functions; data analysis using the TI-82 calculator; scatter plots; curve fitting; solving right triangles; oblique triangles; applications. Prerequisite: Mathematics 201 or equivalent.

MAT 203: Fundamentals of Calculus (2 credits)

An introduction to calculus for students who have completed College Algebra and Trigonometry. Among the topics studied are limits, the derivative, applications, extrema, antiderivatives, area and the definite integral. Prerequisite: Mathematics 201 and 202 or permission of instructor.

Science (SCI) 102: Light and Sound (2 credits)

A study of the wave characteristics of light and sound with emphasis on the application of concepts to music, lighting and color. Attention will be paid to the processes of seeing and hearing.

SCI 134: Geology of the American Landscape (2 credits)

A study of the surface processes (rivers, glaciers, groundwater, winds, waves, etc.) that have created the diverse landscapes of the United States. Attention is paid to the artist's response to the landscape.

SCI 135: Volcanoes and Earthquakes (2 credits)

A geologic study of two major catastrophic natural phenomena – volcanic eruptions and earthquakes, their impacts on society, and what they tell us about the Earth's interior and the dynamic process of plate tectonics.

SCI 136: Fossils: A History of Life (2 credits)

From trilobites to dinosaurs to woolly mammoths – this course follows the fossil evidence of the origins, evolutionary patterns and mass extinctions of life on Earth from its first appearance to the present day.

SCI 137: Birds and Birding (2 credits)

An introduction to the biology and identification of birds, including the origin of birds, their anatomy and physiology, their classification and evolution and their behavior as associated with feeding, reproduction, etc. Learning to identify birds, particularly during spring migration will be an essential part of the course.

SCI 154: Stars and Galaxies (2 credits)

A study of stars – their births, lives and deaths; the groupings of stars into galaxies; and the origin and history of the universe.

SCI 155: The Solar System (2 credits)

A study of the planets, moons, and other objects that make up our solar system. The internal structures, external features and surface conditions of these bodies, and an examination of their origins and histories will be considered.

SCI 210: Nutrition, Behavior and Culture (2 credits)

A study of the normal nutritional requirements of the human body, the relationship of diet to health, and the impact of behavior and cultural influences on food choices. Students will analyze their own diet relative to recommended standards for young adults. Whenever available, community resources will be utilized for content enrichment.

SCI 221, 222, 223: Studies in Human Anatomy and Physiology I, II, III (2 credits per term)

A three-term sequence of study designed to provide a basic understanding of the structure and function of the human body, with an emphasis on aspects that support, produce, and control human movement. Anatomical study and occasional laboratory exercises are an integral part of the course.

SCI 221: Studies in Human Anatomy and Physiology I, introduces the basic organization and structure, terminology, physiological concepts and begins study of major organ systems of the body.

SCI 222: Studies in Human Anatomy and Physiology II, continues with focused study of organ systems responsible for movement. (Prerequisite: SCI 221)

SCI 223: Studies in Human Anatomy and Physiology III, continues study of major organ systems relevant to arts students. (Prerequisites: SCI 221 and SCI 222)

SCI 227: The Biology of Movement (3 credits)

An opportunity for students to apply a knowledge of human anatomy and physiology to a more detailed study of the musculoskeletal system and its function in producing human movement. Injury and the prevention of injury will be considered; other activities are designed to help develop an accurate self-perception. Prerequisites: GES 101, 102, 103; SCI 221, 222 and 223 (SCI 223 may be a co-requisite with permission of instructor).

SCI 240: History of Science (2 credits)

An exploration of the work of major scientists and the contributions of various ages and cultures to the development of scientific thought. Topics vary from year to year. Topics have previously included: Charles Darwin and Evolution, History of Astronomy, Scientific Explorations. Prerequisite: GES 101 or permission of instructor.

SCI 290: Contemporary Issues in Science (2 credits)

A one-term course with flexible content, exploring each year a limited number of physical and biological topics/issues of current interest. Prerequisite: GES 101 or permission of instructor.

SUMMER SESSION

The North Carolina School of the Arts offers summer programs in dance, visual arts, filmmaking, drama and music. Specialized workshops, seminars and classes are offered for junior high school, high school and college students. These summer programs afford an excellent opportunity for in-depth study with NCSA faculty and guest teachers. Students who are interested in a performing art, but undecided as to whether to pursue a full-time professional training program leading to a career in the arts, will find the summer session valuable.

Administration

Director, Summer Session (Vacant)

Dance

The School of Dance offers a summer session for students 12 years or older or who have completed sixth grade. The five-week program provides extensive, disciplined training in classical ballet and contemporary dance. It includes a minimum of three dance classes a day. Selected students participate in additional repertory classes culminating in a workshop presentation. Students who demonstrate substantial growth and talent may be asked to audition for the academic year at the close of the session.

Drama

The Summer Session in drama will challenge an aspiring actor and introduce him or her to the craft and technique of professional training for theatre, film and television. A blend of full-time and guest faculty from around the world teach classes. Students will be in class at least six hours a day, five days a week.

Filmmaking

Have you ever wanted to direct, write, produce, shoot or edit a video? The School of Filmmaking's Summer Session is your opportunity to learn the creative and technical methods of moviemaking. High School students, and those students who have just graduated grade 12, have the opportunity to work with professional faculty and experienced School of Filmmaking teaching assistants. In the process students develop their talents and skills by immersing themselves in the exciting world of filmmaking.

Music

The School of Music offers large ensembles, chamber music, and solo performance along with private instruction from an internationally recognized faculty of artist-teachers. Also offered are chamber music coaching's and daily large ensemble rehearsals. A fast-paced, two-week program is offered for particular instruments in addition to a regular five-week program. It is the ideal environment for artistic and technical growth.

Visual Arts

The Visual Arts Program, which offers a five-week program for high school and beginning college students, is designed to train students in the skills and tools of visual communication. Studio classes have been carefully planned to explore the mechanical, philosophical and intellectual aspects of the arts experience in terms of the individuality of each student. The curriculum includes instruction and practice in drawing two- and three-dimensional design, sculpture and ceramics, supplemented by introductory lectures in art history, field trips and intensive work in the art laboratory.

Information and Applications

All students interested in the Summer Session, including those students who are already enrolled in the regular School program, are required to submit an application to the Summer Session office and a $50 application fee. Complete information about NCSA Summer Session, as well as specific requirements for admission, fees, and tuition to the various programs is published separately. For further information, contact:

DIVISION OF STUDENT LIFE

Each student adds a unique contribution to the meaning of community in our close-knit artistic village. Since the campus community includes five distinctly different conservatory programs and students from junior high to graduate school, a special effort is made to offer programs and services appropriate and helpful to artists at various stages of their personal and professional development.

Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Life

Anne White, Interim Vice Chancellor for Student Life (1980)
B.A., M.Ed., Ed. S., University of North Carolina at Greensboro

The vice chancellor for student life directs and coordinates the division's five departments:

- Counseling Services
- New Student Orientation/Special Projects
- Residence Life
- Student Activities
- Student Health Services

As student advocates for a healthy environment, the vice chancellor and her staff work with all aspects of campus life and continually evaluate student needs, interests and services.

International Student Office

International students receive assistance with language skills and processing American culture in ways that will help them make the most of their educational experiences at NCSA.

Special Projects and New Student Orientation

Deborah Foster, Special Projects and New Student Orientation (2003)

The Office of Special Projects and New Student Orientation manages the annual publications for the campus including the Campus Life Handbook, The Summer Session Handbook, the student planner, and the Fall Orientation Schedules. Other duties of the office include Family Weekend activities and student orientation for both the high school and college divisions.

Residence Life

C.D. Merricks, Director of Residence Life / Director of College Life (1997)
B.A., Radford University; M.E., University of Missouri - Columbia; Ph.D., University of Virginia, Charlottesville

Carol Cooper, Director of High School Life (1992)
B.S., Longwood College; M.Ed., College of William and Mary

The Residence Life program at the North Carolina School of the Arts is designed to provide a rich living and learning experience in an institution where high school, undergraduate and graduate students are on one campus, training for professional careers in the performing arts.

Residence Life cooperates with the campus at large to provide a community environment conducive to personal and professional growth. Developmental programming, residential safety, an inviting physical environment and enhancement of positive self-esteem for students are means through which the Residence Life program promotes the sense of community.

College students are housed either in a six-building complex where there are double and single rooms or in the Bailey Street apartments. Students of the various arts areas are mixed to enable them to learn from one another the rigors of the different arts disciplines. Professional residence life staff members live in the residence halls to provide support and maintain rapport with the students.

High school students live in two residence halls. Each hall has two apartments for live-in professional staff. This staff gives special attention to the legal responsibilities that the North Carolina School of the Arts bears in its "in loco parentis" role with high school students. The residence life staff works with the campus community in the administration of the Student Code of Conduct.

A staff of student peers (PAs in high school and RAs in college) are trained to assist the professional staff in providing recreational and educational programs. The PAs/RAs live on the halls and give support and assistance to the other students in residence.

Both the college and high school halls have lounge areas for recreational and educational programming, TV viewing, and informal contact with students and staff. Each area has kitchen and laundry facilities.

Students are responsible for and are expected to manage their own time, attend class regularly, do homework, maintain personal well-being, and observe the campus social rules and regulations as outlined in the Student Code of Conduct in the Campus Life Handbook.

All high school students who do not live locally with parents or guardians must live on campus and participate in the meal plan.

All freshman and sophomore college students MUST reside in on-campus student housing provided by the School and participate in the board plan for a minimum of two years unless they are members of one of the following groups:

- Students who are married or living with a dependent;
- Students who are domiciled with family within 40 miles of the campus at the time of their enrollment; and
- Special students.

Any student who is in one of the above classifications may apply to live off campus. All college students who are not in the above categories will be assigned to on-campus housing and the meal plan. The Director of Residence Life will hear appeals from college students who are required to live on campus and may grant exemptions in cases of medical, psychological or other highly exceptional reasons.

* The CENTER STAGE APARTMENTS are not considered on-campus student housing.*

Office of the Hanes Student Commons and Student Activities

Douglas Patterson, Director of the Student Commons (1984)
B.S., Union College; M.Ed., University of Virginia

Lauren Whitaker, Director of Student Activities (1990)
B.J., University of Missouri

The Office of the Hanes Student Commons and Student Activities manages three campus facilities, provides transportation services, and offers social, educational, cultural and recreational activities to meet student needs and interests outside the arts studio and the academic classroom.

Recreational opportunities at NCSA are abundant. Dances, films, concerts, comedy shows and other performances are among the campus entertainment opportunities available. Students volunteer to be involved in organizing such events, allowing them opportunities to develop leadership and planning skills.

The Office of the Hanes Student Commons operates the Fitness Center that has a full range of free weights, body building equipment, state of the art cardiovascular machines, a 25 meter indoor pool, and classes such as kickboxing, aerobics, spinning and yoga. A full-size gymnasium with a climbing wall will be available in 2004.

The newly-remodeled Hanes Student Commons reopened in Fall 2003, and feature a dining hall, food court, mail center, campus store, computer lab, programming and lounge spaces, and student life offices including a Wellness Center.

The Coffeehouse, also known as “The “What”, is where college students gather for relaxed conversation and entertainment by their fellow students and nationally touring performers.

Student Activities organizes local, overnight and weekend trips. These range from trips downtown for professional dance and theatre performances or gallery hops, to one-day ski trips or weekends at Myrtle Beach. Regular trips to local shopping centers and movie theatres are scheduled.

This department coordinates the publication of a weekly calendar, the ETC. The staff also coordinates student organizations.

Student Wellness and Counseling Services

Student Health Wellness Center

Ann B. Potter, Certified Family Nurse Practitioner, Director (1991)
B.S.N., F.N.P University of North Carolina–Chapel Hill; M.S.N. University of North Carolina–Greensboro

Joanne Clinch, MD (2001)
B.S., College of the Holy Cross, Doctorate of Medicine, Robert Wood Johnson Medical School

“The Mission of Student Wellness and Counseling Services at North Carolina School of Arts is to promote the lifelong physical and emotional well-being of our student artists through the provision of quality, accessible, comprehensive, and cost –effective health care and educational outreach.”

Walk-in or scheduled appointments are available to currently enrolled students free of charge. Services are available Monday through Friday while school is in session, emergency on-call, after-hours care is also available. Students are charged at cost for medications, laboratory procedures and certain treatments. Ongoing relationships have been established with various medical specialists in the community to assure prompt quality care when specialty care is indicated. The operations are governed by guidelines and regulations established by the NC Medical Board, NC Board of Nursing, the NC Board of Pharmacy and the NC Department of Health.

All students are required to be covered by personal health and accident insurance. Health and accident insurance is not included in the Student Health Services fee. Information regarding the school insurance policy or an insurance waiver may be obtained through the office and web site. International students are required to purchase the school’s insurance policy prior to enrollment.

Counseling Services

Chris Burris (LPC, LMFT), Director of Counseling (2000)
B.S., Wingate College, M.Ed., University of North Carolina at Greensboro

Rebecca Somerville, Learning Specialist (1994)
B.A., Warren Wilson College; M.A., University of North Carolina at Greensboro

Elizabeth Klaimon Sklenar, International Student Advisor/ESL Instructor (1998)
B.A., Virginia Tech; M.A., George Mason University

Joanna Hardison (N.B.C.C), Counselor
B.S., UNC-Chapel Hill, M.Ed., UNC-Charlotte

Counselors assist student artists in developing skills that facilitate growth as a person and as a performer. Students may make individual appointments with counselors, or participate in various groups that are offered. Issues frequently addressed by our counselors include self-esteem, stress management, performance anxiety, relationship issues, dealing with crises, depression, anxiety, and grief. Consultations are confidential except where health or safety may be threatened. The counselors bring a wide variety of experiences and expertise to share with the NCSA community, and make referrals to community resources as needed.

Student Services for Students with Disabilities

All students or prospective students are urged to contact counseling services for assistance with any disability that may affect living or studying on the NCSA campus.

Learning Assistance Program

The Learning Assistance Program serves students who have learning disabilities, ADD, or other conditions that may adversely affect their academic success. They may be referred by the Officer for Students with Disabilities or the Assistant Deans in General Studies. Students are given individualized coaching in areas such as learning styles, attention building skills, writing, language arts, and time management. When special accommodations are determined to be necessary, consultations are held with appropriate faculty, arrangements are made, and support provided.

THE INSTITUTIONAL INFORMATION SEMANS LIBRARY

The Library, located in the Workplace, is named in honor of Dr. and Mrs. James H. Semans, who have been friends and supporters of the North Carolina School of the Arts since its inception.

The mission of the Library is to support the academic and artistic programs of the School. Among the services offered by the staff are group and individual bibliographic instruction, reference assistance, Internet access and assistance (for research and reference purposes), and inter-library loan. The Library has a computerized catalog and circulation system that offers on-site and remote access to library holdings as well as connections to other state and national library catalogs. The Library provides access to several arts related indices and reference sources via the World Wide Web, as well as on-site and remote access to NC LIVE, the state of North Carolina's gateway to an extensive collection of full-text journals, indices and information resources. The Library also houses the NCSA School Archives.

The Library maintains a core collection of materials in most subject areas, although special emphasis has been placed on developing collections in the performing and visual arts. The 106,000-volume book collection is particularly strong in drama, film, theatre history and design, costume, dance, the fine arts, and the literature of music. The Library subscribes to more than 480 periodicals and holds more than 9,500 bound volumes of back issues of magazines and journals. The moving image collection includes more than 3,800 videotapes and DVD's. The music library holds approximately 46,000 scores, including critical editions of the works of the great composers, and 42,000 sound recordings. A viewing room provides facilities for studying films in both video and DVD formats. Listening facilities for sound recordings in a variety of formats are provided in the music library area. Archive materials include photographs, paper records, and audio and visual recordings documenting the history of NCSA and its artistic productions.

The mission of the North Carolina School of the Arts is to train students for professional careers in the arts. The School of the Arts, therefore, seeks to enroll students with demonstrated talent and potential in dance, design & production, drama, filmmaking, music or the visual arts at the college and high school levels, and at the master's level in design & production and music. In addition, eighth grade students who live within commuting distance of the campus may audition in dance or music. Consideration is given to the applicant's ability to meet the graduation requirements and standards of performance set by the North Carolina School of the Arts.

The Admissions Committee consists of the Director of Admissions, the appropriate arts dean, the Dean of General Studies and the Vice Chancellor for Student Life. This committee bases its admissions decisions on the results of the audition/interview/portfolio evaluation plus the applicant's arts and academic achievements, potential for future artistic development, and character. In addition, applicants for the college degree program must satisfy the North Carolina School of the Arts' institutional academic requirements, as well as the Minimum Course Requirements (MCR) for the University of North Carolina.

While the North Carolina School of the Arts complies with a legislative mandate to maintain an enrollment of 50 percent in-state (North Carolina) residents, it is important to recognize that the other 50 percent of the enrollment represents talented students from throughout the United States and many foreign countries. The North Carolina School of the Arts encourages applications from talented students regardless of their residence status.

Programs Of Study

Bachelor of Fine Arts, Bachelor of Music, College Arts Diploma

The NCSA college division is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and is one of the sixteen constituent campuses of the University of North Carolina. The undergraduate curriculum includes majors in dance, design & production, drama, filmmaking and music. Students in these majors may enroll in a program that leads to a bachelor's degree or a college arts diploma. In addition, applicants for the undergraduate division must submit official proof of high school graduation or a General Equivalency Diploma (GED).

Applicants applying to the bachelor's degree program must meet the North Carolina School of the Arts' academic requirements, as well as the Minimum Course Requirements (MCR) of the University of North Carolina.

All freshman and sophomore college students MUST reside in housing provided by the School and participate in the board plan for a minimum of two years. All college students are automatically assigned housing and the meal plan. A student who is married or living with a dependent, domiciled with family who live within a forty-mile radius of the campus at the time of their enrollment, or is a special student, may apply to live off campus.

The Housing Review Board will hear appeals from college students who are required to live on campus and may grant exemptions in cases of medical, psychological or other highly exceptional reasons. This board meets at the end of each term to hear appeals for the subsequent term.

Master of Fine Arts and Master of Music

The School of Design & Production offers a Master of Fine Arts degree, and the School of Music offers a Master of Music degree. Applicants must audition and/or interview or, where appropriate, present a portfolio of visual arts/design works for admission consideration. Applicants for the graduate division must show completion of an appropriate undergraduate degree.

High School Program

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools accredits the high school program. Students receive concentrated training in dance, drama, music or the visual arts while taking the traditional academic coursework to fulfill the high school diploma requirements of the State of North Carolina.

The dance and music programs may begin at grade 8, the visual arts program at grade 11, and the drama program at grade 12. The drama and visual arts programs are primarily open to North Carolina residents with limited space for out-of-state students. An audition/interview and, where appropriate, a review of the applicant's portfolio is required for admission. A North Carolina School of the Arts Board of Trustees policy requires that all students, beginning at ninth grade, live on campus in the School's residence halls or with parents and/or legal guardians. On-campus housing is not available for eighth grade students. Students accepted into the eighth-grade program must live at home and within a forty-mile radius of the campus.

ACADEMIC REQUIREMENTS

Minimum Course Requirements (MCR) of the University of North Carolina

The following admission requirements apply only to applicants who apply for admission into the COLLEGE DEGREE PROGRAM (BFA or BM). They do not apply to high school applicants or to applicants for the college diploma program.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES OF 2004 AND BEYOND, the following courses will be required for admission in addition to passing the audition/interview and submitting SAT or ACT scores:

ENGLISH -- four (4) course units emphasizing grammar, composition and literature;

MATHEMATICS -- three (3) course units including Algebra I, Algebra II and Geometry, or a higher-level mathematics course for which Algebra II is a prerequisite, or integrated Math I, II and III;

SCIENCE -- three (3) course units including one unit in physical science (physical science, chemistry, physics), one unit in life or biological science and at least one (1) laboratory course;

SOCIAL STUDIES -- two (2) course units, including one (1) U.S. History - an applicant who does not have the unit in U.S. History may be admitted on the condition that at least three (3) semester hours in that subject are passed by the end of the sophomore year;

FOREIGN LANGUAGE -- two (2) course units in the same language other than English

It is recommended that prospective degree applicants take a mathematics course unit in the twelfth grade.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES FROM CLASSES OF 1990 to 2003, the following courses will be required for admission, in addition to passing the audition/interview and submitting SAT or ACT scores:

ENGLISH -- four (4) course units emphasizing grammar, composition and literature;

MATHEMATICS -- three (3) course units including Algebra 1, Algebra II and Geometry, or a higher-level mathematics course for which Algebra II is a prerequisite;

SCIENCE -- three (3) course units including one unit in physical science (physical science, chemistry, physics), one unit in life or biological science and at least one (1) laboratory course;

SOCIAL STUDIES -- two (2) course units, including one (1) U.S. History - an applicant who does not have the unit in U.S. History may be admitted on the condition that at least three (3) semester hours in that subject are passed by the end of the sophomore year.

In addition, it is recommended that prospective college degree applicants complete at least two (2) course units in a foreign language, and take one (1) foreign language course unit and one (1) mathematics course unit in the 12th grade.

SPECIAL NOTE: College freshman applicants and transfer applicants who do not meet the University Minimum Course Requirements (MCR) listed above may be admitted, under special consideration, as an exception to the University Minimum Course Requirements, in accordance with the criteria established by the Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina. All questions pertaining to special consideration and/or exceptions should be directed to the North Carolina School of the Arts Office of Admissions. Special consideration is based on previous academic record and demonstrated exceptional artistic talent and potential.

Graduate majors are also offered in voice performance, orchestral conducting, and film music composition.

Transfer Students

College students who wish to transfer from other institutions of higher education must comply with the School's audition and entrance requirements. Academic college courses carrying a grade of "C" or better may be considered for transfer credit.

High school transfer students are given full credit value for high school units satisfactorily earned in grades nine through twelve from an accredited secondary school.

Upon enrollment in the North Carolina School of the Arts, the transfer student, whether high school or college, is placed at the appropriate arts instruction level. The School makes every effort to place the student at the arts level that best reflects his or her proficiency at the time of admission. Upon placement, the student proceeds through the remaining sequence of arts courses, regardless of age or academic level. College students who complete all requirements in the arts area are eligible for the Arts Diploma.

Required General Studies courses in grades eight through twelve are the same as those in other accredited schools throughout the State of North Carolina. A high school diploma, Bachelor of Fine Arts or Bachelor of Music may be awarded upon completion of all arts and General Studies courses required for the specific program.

International Students

International applicants should plan on applying no later than March 1 of the year they intend to enroll in the North Carolina School of the Arts. In addition to passing the audition/interview process and obtaining two letters of recommendation, the following materials are required of all international applicants:

- Transcripts from previous schools (elementary schools if applying for the high school program, high school if applying for college, or college if applying to transfer to the NCSA college program or to the graduate program) must bear a seal of validation or signature by a school official. Each original transcript must have an English translation provided by a certified translator and must have the seal or certification of the translator. The transcript must include course titles and indicate the number of credits earned as well as the grade (letter or percentage) achieved.
- Since English is the language of instruction at the School of the Arts, applicants coming from outside the United States whose native language is not English must prove proficiency in the language, both written and spoken, to succeed in course work at the School. Prospective high school students must take the SLEP (Secondary Level English Proficiency Test). Undergraduate degree (B.F.A, B.M.), Arts Diploma candidates, and graduate degree candidates (M.F.A., M.M.) must take the TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language). Dates and locations for these tests are obtainable from either the school guidance counselor or the Educational Testing Services representative in the student's home country.
- All prospective international students must also submit an affidavit of financial support. The affidavit should be issued by the student's or his/her family's bank, and it must be stated in United States Dollars (USD) and officially translated into English if necessary. The document must clearly demonstrate that the applicant has sufficient financial support to meet tuition costs as well as living expenses for the first year in the United States. It should also indicate that sufficient funding is available to maintain the student for the duration of study at the North Carolina School of the Arts. The document should include the name of the parent, guardian, sponsoring agency, or other person who accepts full financial responsibility for the student while at the School of the Arts.
- A special health insurance policy is required of every International Student except those applicants from Canada. This policy is obtained through the North Carolina School of the Arts and the premium will be billed on the student's tuition bill. The coverage is required even if the student carries health insurance in their home country. The United States Federal law mandates this particular coverage.
- United States Immigration and Naturalization Law requires that a student carry a document designated as an "I-20" at all times while studying in this country. This form is issued by North Carolina School of the Arts only after the following requirements have been met:
 - 1) The applicant has been fully admitted to the School, i.e. has received a formal letter of acceptance and an "Advance Tuition and Housing Form" from the Office of Admissions.
 - 2) The applicant has paid the required housing and tuition deposits in a timely fashion (within the requested three-week period).
 - 3) Has submitted satisfactory SLEP or TOEFL scores.
 - 4) Has provided the required affidavit of support as described above.
 - 5) Has provided a request for I-20 clearance from their present American learning institution (in the case of transferring international students).
 - 6) Has submitted any other documents required by the School.
- In the case of students attending the school for the first time, the I-20 will be sent to the home country so that the student may obtain the F-1 (non-immigrating student) visa.
- In the case of transferring students, the "Transfer I-20" will be mailed to the address within the United States indicated by the prospective transfer student. It is imperative that the student keep the Office of Admissions informed of changes of address at all times so that important documents will not become lost in the mail.
- The earlier that application is made and acceptance issued the better for the student. In the case of new students this is especially true as many United States Consulates, Honorary Consulates and other visa-issuing office close for periods of vacation during the summer. This makes obtaining the required F-1 visa very difficult and may cause the student to miss deadlines for registration and other required pre-class activities.

Special Students

A student who does not wish to pursue a degree or diploma may be admitted as "special student" and take courses in the arts or General Studies areas or both. Credit is given for courses successfully completed and may later be applied toward a degree or diploma should the student matriculate into a regular program. Courses in the General Studies curriculum are open to special students with the approval of the Dean of General Studies. Admission to arts courses requires an audition and approval of the arts dean. The applicant who wishes to enter as a special student should follow the regular admissions process.

The General Studies Program will accept as Special Students only those students who have:

- 1) Finished their Arts Diploma and have returned to NCSA to finish their Degree;
or
- 2) Withdrawn temporarily from their arts program with the special recommendation of their Arts Dean due to financial, catastrophic, or highly unusual circumstances, and whose GPA in General Studies is 2.0 or higher. Those students who have withdrawn from their Arts program with a cumulative General Studies GPA of less than 2.0 may not choose this option under any circumstance.

Exceptions to this policy may only be made with the written approval of the Dean of General Studies.

Advanced Placement

Students may qualify for advanced standing through placement tests. A student who participates in the Advanced Placement (AP) Program of the College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB) may have his/her record considered for advanced placement or credit or both in the college program when a score of three or above has been achieved on the official examination.

College Level Examination Program (CLEP) test scores in areas which correspond to courses in the NCSA curriculum also may be presented for evaluation for possible credit.

International Baccalaureate Diploma students may have their records considered for advanced placement or credit in the college program with a minimum score of 5 or higher on the official score for each subject. Credit awarded will vary for higher level or standard level subjects.

Application and Admissions Procedures

Guidelines for applying to the high school program, undergraduate and graduate program vary. Applicants should follow the guidelines provided with the application. Applicants must submit the following:

- 1) A completed application and non-refundable application fee. The application must indicate the discipline area to which the student is applying and list the date the applicant wishes to audition and/or interview.
- 2) Two (2) letters of recommendation.
- 3) Official transcript(s) and test scores of high school or previous college work. These documents must bear the seal or registrar's signature of the school attended. Each applicant to a college program must present proof of high school graduation or receipt of a General Equivalency Diploma (GED). Graduate program applicants must submit a certified or sealed college transcript showing proof of graduation. High school applicants to grades eight, nine and ten must provide standardized test scores.
- 4) A copy of SAT or ACT scores. These scores are required for admission into the college bachelor's degree program. These scores are not required for admission to the high school program, college arts diploma program or graduate program.
- 5) A photograph and a resume.

Auditions/Interviews

Admission to the North Carolina School of the Arts is based on demonstrated talent, achievement and career potential. Faculty members of the school to which the applicant is applying assess these areas at the audition and/or interview. The dean and faculty of each school set performance standards and levels of achievement for its professional training program.

Specific audition/interview dates, instructions and information are provided with the Application for Admission and are available from the Office of Admissions. Auditions and interviews are scheduled on the North Carolina School of the Arts campus in Winston-Salem and at selected locations throughout the United States.

Acceptance Procedure

Applicants who pass the audition and have been accepted by the Admissions Review Committee into the high school, college degree, college arts diploma program or graduate program will be notified by letter of their acceptance.

Special Note: Tuition and fees are subject to change. Each full-time student is required to have health insurance. If the student does not have coverage, he/she is covered under a policy through the School at an added cost to the student.

Tuition and Fees Charges

Tuition and fees must be paid before the beginning of each term for which the student is enrolled. Students may not attend classes until such payment is received. The health fee covers basic services provided by NCSA's Student Health Services. This fee does not cover laboratory work and doctor's office visits. Those charges are billed directly to the student.

The North Carolina School of the Arts reserves the right, with the approval of the proper authorities, to make changes in tuition and other fees at any time.

Questions concerning payment of tuition and fees should be directed to the Student Accounts Office in Financial Services.

Withdrawal and Refund Policy

Students (excluding in-state high school students) who officially withdraw from NCSA may be entitled to a proportionate refund of tuition and fees. To receive the refund to which a student is entitled, if any, the student must submit the appropriate withdrawal form, available from the registrar. In order for the student to be eligible for consideration for a refund, the student must be in good standing at the time of withdrawal.

Withdrawal Time Frame (for Non-Title IV Federal Aid Recipients)

Percentage of total tuition, fees, room and meal plan to be refunded (minus nonrefundable advance payments) (excluding in-state high school students)

Through 1 st week	90 percent
Through 2 nd week	80 percent
Through 3 rd week	60 percent
Through 4 th week	40 percent
After 4 th week	0 percent

Attendance is counted from the first day of required attendance in a term. Fractions of a week count as a full week. No refunds will be made following the fourth week. Exceptions to the policy may be reviewed by the Tuition and Fees Appeals Committee. Refunds of less than $1 will not be issued.

NCSA will prorate institutional charges for Federal Title IV aid recipients based on the percentage of the term completed, calculated by dividing the number of calendar days the student attended in the term by the total number of calendar days in the term. Title IV financial aid recipients will be charged for a percentage of the term equal to the percentage of aid they "earned." After completing more than 60 percent of the term as calculated above, the student will have "earned" 100 percent of his/her institutional charges, as well as his/her Title IV financial aid.

If a student withdraws or cancels registration before the first day of classes, no financial aid will be disbursed, and the student will be responsible for any charges he/she may owe.

The following exception to the refund policy will be applicable to students receiving funds from the Veterans Administration under the provisions of Title 38, United States Code. The amount charged to such persons for tuition, fees, and other charges for a portion of the course will not exceed the approximate pro-rata portion of the total charges that the length of the completed portion of the course bears to its total length.

Suspension of Unofficial Withdrawal

Students who are suspended for disciplinary reasons or who do not formally withdraw are not eligible for a refund of tuition, fees, room, or meal plan.

In-State High School Students

In the Fall of 2001, the State Legislature approved funding for residents to attend the North Carolina School of the Arts High School free of charge. This makes attending NCSA possible for many young people who may not have been able to consider this option. Predictably, this benefit has stimulated an increase in applications. To assist us in planning for everything from residence halls to class schedules, we must know whether an accepted student plans to attend when the academic year begins in the fall. With this in mind, we have put the following new policies in place.

All in-state high school students will pay a $300 Refundable Placement Deposit to hold a space in the high school program. This deposit will be refunded approximately thirty days after your student registers for classes.

The $300 Refundable Placement Deposit is due in May for returning students and within three weeks of acceptance for new in-state students.

Should a student decide not to attend NCSA, the Placement Deposit will be refunded upon written notification prior to June 30 to the Office of Admissions for new students or the Office of the Registrar for returning students. Students who notify us after June 30, but before July 31, will receive a 50% refund of the deposit. No refunds will be issued to students who notify us of a change of plans after July 31.

Students living within a radius of forty miles of the school are not required to live on campus; however, they will be granted campus housing by completing a housing contract and remitting the Placement Deposit prior to May. After this date, students living within a twenty-mile radius of the campus will be provided campus housing only if space is available.

Advance Tuition Payment - New Students

New students (excluding in-state high school students) accepted for admission to NCSA are required to submit an advance tuition payment of $200, which is applied as a partial payment of the student's tuition and fees for the academic term for which the student is accepted. This advance tuition payment must be paid within three weeks of the student's letter of acceptance. If the advance tuition payment is not paid within this period, NCSA reserves the right to withdraw the offer of admission and offer the space to another qualified applicant. In addition, any scholarship or financial aid may be forfeited if the advance tuition payment is not paid within the specified period of time.

If an applicant for the fall term pays the required advance tuition payment and then decides not to enroll, the applicant shall be afforded a full refund, providing the applicant notifies the Office of Admissions by May 1. Students accepted after May 1 must notify the Office of Admissions by July 1 to be afforded a refund. Students accepted after July 1 must notify the Office of Admissions by August 1 to be afforded a refund. Requests must be made in writing.

If a student has paid an advance tuition payment and decides not to enroll and fails to notify the admissions office by the specified deadline, the student shall forfeit any advance tuition payment paid.

Advance Tuition Payment - Returning Students

Currently enrolled students (excluding in-state high school students) who intend to return to NCSA for the next academic year are required to pay a $200 advance tuition payment. This payment is due during the spring term of the current school year. If the payment is not made prior to the end of the school year, it will be assumed that the student does not intend to return, and any financial aid or scholarship awarded will be forfeited. In the event of hardship, the advance tuition payment may be waived, at the discretion of the registrar, in consultation with the director of Student Financial Aid.

The advance tuition payment shall be applied against the student's tuition and fees. If the student decides not to return to the School and gives notice of the decision within 30 days after the day the advance tuition payment is due, or if the School determines that the student is not eligible to return, the advance tuition payment shall be refunded. Payments made by students who decide not to enroll and fail to notify the Registrar's Office by June 30th shall be forfeited to the School.

Advance Housing Payment - New and Returning Students

All students (excluding in-state high school students) are required to pay a $300 advance housing payment to reserve a space in an on-campus residence hall.

New students (excluding in-state high school students) are required to pay the $300 advance housing payment at the same time the advance tuition payment is paid. When a new student is fully accepted for admission to NCSA, he or she is notified by the Office of Admissions that the tuition and housing payments are due and payable. The advance housing payment shall be applied against the student's housing fee. Procedures for refund are the same as for the advance tuition payment.

Returning students (excluding in-state high school students) are required to pay the $300 advance housing payment during the spring term in order to reserve a residence hall space for the following fall term. This advance payment shall be applied against the student's fall housing fee. Procedures for refunds are the same as for the advance tuition payment.

OFFICE OF THE REGISTRAR

June R. Putt, Registrar (1974)
B.A., University of Connecticut; M.A., Cornell University

Mary Koscher, Student Services Assistant (1994)
Lynne Stumpf, Processing Assistant (1998)

Registration

Registration takes place at the beginning of each term. Students must show evidence of payment of tuition and fees prior to enrolling in courses. All students are required to register and will not be granted entry to classes without having done so. New students will receive instructions regarding times and places of registration, orientation and placement testing during the summer before their arrival at the School.

College

All undergraduate and graduate college students must register at the appointed time and show evidence of payment of tuition and fees prior to enrolling in classes. Students will not be granted entry to classes without having completed registration.

High School

High school students (grades 8-12) are required to meet certain attendance standards set by the state of North Carolina to receive credit for courses.

While NCSA high school students enroll in year-long courses at the beginning of each academic year, all students are required to register at the beginning of each term. High school students are required to attend classes continuously and are not permitted to miss classes at the beginning of the term. Arrangements for payment of tuition and fees for high school students must be made on a timely basis each term, and students must be cleared by the business office for class attendance by either:

- * presenting a receipt to reflect that all tuition and fees have been paid at the time of registration
- or
- * in exceptional cases, making arrangements with the business office to pay the tuition and fees on a schedule to be determined in consultation with the vice chancellor for finance and administration.

High school students who fail to make the necessary arrangements within one week after the beginning of classes in any term may be asked to withdraw, and will not be able to receive credit for classes.

Students who appear for registration at a time later than specified in the School calendar are subject to a late fee of $20.

No one will be permitted to register as a full-time student after the completion of the fifth day of classes for a given term. Any exception will be by petition to the dean of the arts school involved, in consultation with the dean of General Studies.

Class Designation

A student's status is officially determined on the basis of progress in the major arts area. Level designations are, therefore, based upon a combination of the number of arts course requirements which have been met and the level of artistic proficiency which has been achieved.

Credit Definitions

Students enrolled in high school programs receive credit in terms of standard Carnegie high school units. College credit is awarded in semester hours.

Course Numbering

In general, courses are numbered such that the first digit reflects the level of the course, with the number one indicating an introductory level. A course with hyphens indicates a three-term course for which credit is not allowed until the three terms are completed. Courses with commas indicate the courses which are to be taken in sequence.

Course Requirements

It is the responsibility of the student to know the requirements for his or her particular program and, where specific General Studies courses are required, to include these courses in the program. Individual program requirements are outlined in the appropriate sections of this Bulletin.

Residency Requirements

To qualify for a college Arts Diploma, Bachelor of Fine Arts or Bachelor of Music from the North Carolina School of the Arts, the student must be registered as a full-time college student for a minimum of two years, one of which must be the student's graduating year.

An undergraduate college student must carry eight or more credit hours per term to be classified as a full-time student. A graduate student must carry six or more credit hours to be considered full-time.

Transfer Students

College transfer students will be placed according to ability and experience at the discretion of the appropriate dean and faculty following review of prior courses and interviews with faculty members. Where applicable, placement tests will be administered and appropriate advanced placement credit awarded. Normally, a transfer student spends at least two years at the School of the Arts to qualify for the Bachelor of Fine Arts, Bachelor of Music or Arts Diploma. (See Residency Requirements.) In the Division of General Studies, comparable college courses carrying a grade of "C" or better may be considered for transfer credit.

Part-time Degree Students

Under certain circumstances, a matriculated college student may enroll as a part-time degree or diploma student for a given term. This status generally is reserved for college seniors in their last term and is only granted by special permission of the appropriate dean. Part-time degree or diploma students may carry fewer than eight credits and are charged by the credit, according to the schedule of fees for special and part-time students.

Course Audit

A regularly registered student may, with the consent of the appropriate dean and the instructor, audit one or more courses or classes outside the major area in addition to his or her regular program. Attendance must be regular. No credit is given.

Course Planning and Program Advising

Each student is assigned an adviser when he or she enters the School. The advising system varies from one arts school to another. In some schools the dean or assistant dean acts as the student adviser; in others, members of the faculty are assigned as advisers.

Students meet with their advisers during designated weeks toward the end of each term to plan their programs for the following term. The courses each student selects must be approved by the adviser. Students who complete course planning in the prescribed manner will receive a preprinted course schedule at registration.

Add/Drop Policy

For one week after registration, a student may add or drop courses. Course changes during this week do not appear on the student's permanent record. Students who wish to add courses should seek permission from the instructors of the courses to be added and from their advisers, who sign the Change of Schedule forms available from the registrar. Courses for which students have not registered must be added in order for credit to be given.

No high school student will be permitted to drop or add General Studies courses after registration is completed except with the approval of the assistant dean of General Studies (high school) and the instructor of the course.

Course Withdrawal

A student may withdraw from courses for the first six weeks of each 10-week term with the signed approval of the adviser, who will meet with the student to discuss the reasons for the request to withdraw. In some cases, the student will withdraw from a course on the recommendation of the course instructor or the insistence of the arts dean or the dean of General Studies. Students are advised to withdraw from courses when successful completion appears impossible. The mark "W" is assigned for courses from which students have withdrawn. Students withdraw from courses by using the Change of Schedule form, available from the registrar.

Course withdrawal without permission and processing of the appropriate form will result in an automatic grade of "F" for the course.

Attendance

Students are expected to attend all their class meetings, rehearsals and performances, and to arrive on time, prepared to participate fully. Attendance regulations for each program and for individual courses within the program are communicated to students and kept on file in the appropriate school or dean's office. Students who violate the attendance regulations will be referred to the appropriate dean or director, who will counsel or discipline the students. Students who miss class frequently must be prepared to receive a low or failing grade or be advised to withdraw from that course.

Final Examinations

Final examinations are given during a three-day period at the end of each term. An unexcused absence from a final examination will result in the student's receiving a "zero" for that activity and loss of makeup privileges.

Early Departure from School at the End of a Term

While early departure before the end of the term is discouraged, NCSA recognizes that, from time to time, extenuating circumstances will necessitate approval for such early departure. Students seeking permission to leave school early should meet with their arts dean and with the dean of General Studies to obtain permission.

Students who leave campus before the end of a term without having been granted the appropriate permission will be considered to have unexcused absences.

Withdrawal from School

Students who wish to withdraw from school during a term must file the appropriate form, which is available through the registrar's office. Students who withdraw from school during a given term receive no credit for courses taken during that term. Students who leave school without officially withdrawing will receive grades of "F" for all courses for which they are registered and will forfeit eligibility for refund of tuition or fees.

Students who have terminated their enrollment for any reason must apply for readmission before registering for another term.

Reenrollment

Former students who reenroll at NCSA, after an interruption two years or more, will be held responsible for the program requirements in effect at the time of reentry. Students who reenroll within two years of their last enrollment may continue under their original requirements.

Delayed Graduation

A student who does not graduate on schedule may seek permission from the faculty of his/her school to complete his/her requirements at a later date. These requirements must be successfully completed within seven years after the student's last enrollment at NCSA.

Leave of Absence

A leave of absence may be granted for a specific period of time for a valid educational purpose. Permission for such a leave must be sought by processing the appropriate form, available in the registrar's office. Such permission may be granted by the appropriate arts dean, with the understanding that no credit can be given for studies or projects undertaken by the student while not officially enrolled in school. No tuition is paid for a term during which a leave of absence has been granted and no application for readmission is required if the student reenrolls for the term immediately following the leave period.

Grading System

Final grades for courses are sent to students and, when applicable, to their parents or guardians at the end of each term. Indication of student achievement is provided by the following grades and quality points:

A+	=	4.5	C+	=	2.5	F	=	0
A	=	4.0	C	=	2.0	I	=	Incomplete
A-	=	3.8	C-	=	1.8	W	=	Withdrew
B+	=	3.5	D+	=	1.5	P	=	Pass
B	=	3.0	D	=	1.0	S	=	Satisfactory
B-	=	2.8	D-	=	0.8	U	=	Unsatisfactory

Retention

Students should consult the Bulletin section for their respective arts programs and for the Division of General Studies to learn the specific grade and quality point requirements for continuance in their programs and for graduation.

Incomplete Coursework

Occasionally, because of personal, medical or other emergencies that may arise, a student may be unable to take final examinations or juries or complete the final assignments for a course. In such cases, a grade of "Incomplete" may be requested for one term so that the student may complete the courses in which satisfactory progress was being made at the time of the request. The normal time limit to complete the work for a course in which a grade of "Incomplete" has been given is the end of the term immediately following the term in which the "Incomplete" was given. However, an individual faculty member, with the permission of the appropriate dean, may designate an earlier deadline for making up the incomplete work. Failure to complete the coursework by the end of following term will result in a grade of "F" for the course.

Student Responsibility for Coursework

In submitting assignments and projects for courses, students take responsibility for their work as a whole, and imply that, except as properly noted, the ideas, words, material and craftsmanship are their own. In written work, if students cite from a source of information or opinion other than themselves without giving credit, either within the body of their texts or in properly noted references and without using quotation marks where needed, or otherwise fail to acknowledge the borrowings, they have in fact presented the work, words or ideas of others as if they were their own. Failure to abide by those simple principles of responsible scholarship is dishonest, as is receiving or giving aid on tests, examinations or other assigned work presumed to be independent or original. A student whose work is found to be dishonestly accomplished and submitted as his or her own for credit will be removed from the course with a grade of "F."

Student Records

All educational records for students are maintained in the registrar's office and are available for student examination, as outlined by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). Students are informed at regular intervals of their current grade point averages and credits accumulated. Students having questions about their progress are encouraged to address these questions to the registrar.

The School keeps records of progress on veteran and non-veteran students alike. Progress records are furnished to students at the end of each scheduled school term.

Transcripts

Transcripts are released only at the written request of the student or parents of high school students who are under 18 years of age, except in cases as outlined by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act. Requests should be sent directly to the Office of the Registrar.

Official transcripts bear the signature of the registrar and the School seal and are normally sent directly to other institutions or agencies in sealed envelopes. Unofficial transcripts may be requested for students' personal use.

High school students, while enrolled at NCSA, will be allowed transcripts free of charge. The charge for all other transcripts is $5 each.

Transcripts will not be released for students who have an outstanding financial obligation to the School or for students who have been declared in default of institutional, state or federal loans or who have failed to complete the federally required exit interview for National Direct Student/Perkins Loan borrowers.

Definition of In-State Residency

The North Carolina School of the Arts defines "In-State Residency," when referring to an academic program and/or tuition rate, as outlined and defined in the North Carolina General Statute 116-143.1. The term is defined in detail in "A Manual to Assist the Public Higher Education Institutions of North Carolina in the Matter of Student Residence Classification for Tuition Purposes." This manual may be found in most North Carolina libraries and/or any admissions or financial aid offices at any of the 16 constituent campuses of the University of North Carolina.

All students, especially graduate and/or independent students, are encouraged to contact the offices of Admissions, Registrar or Student Financial Aid to inquire about fulfillment of state requirements for classification as in-state residents for tuition purposes. Staff members are happy to advise and assist any students who wish to be considered for in-state tuition status.

OFFICE OF STUDENT FINANCIAL AID

The Office of Student Financial Aid at North Carolina School of the Arts is here to serve prospective students and currently enrolled students by providing information, assistance and guidance on ways to plan for and meet the cost of a college education. This office administers a full range of Federal, State, university, and private aid programs.

Financial aid is provided to supplement what the student and parents can contribute toward the costs of the student's education. The Federal government and NCSA believe the primary responsibility for paying for education rests with the student and their parents, who are expected to meet as much of the cost as possible.

Instructions for Applying for Financial Aid

Both high school and college students may apply for financial assistance. However, high school students are not eligible for Federal and State aid, therefore, the types of possible aid vary.

Out-of-state high school students wishing to be considered for financial aid should complete and submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Although high school students are not eligible for Federal aid, the information provided on the FAFSA will enable the arts dean, in conjunction with the Office of Student Financial Aid, to make some decisions about eligibility for some scholarships, based on a combination of talent and demonstrated need. Other scholarships, based on talent only, are awarded by the arts dean.

College students wishing to be considered for financial aid should complete and submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Priority consideration will be given to new students whose applications (FAFSA) are received at the Central Processing Service (CPS) by March 1. Returning students should submit the FAFSA to the CPS by March 15. Students who submit applications after the priority deadline will be considered as time and funds permit.

Note: Students wishing to be considered for need-based financial aid must submit a FAFSA each year.

North Carolina residents who wish to be considered for the N.C. Student Incentive Grant Program and the UNC Need-Based Grant should have their FAFSA filed no later than March 15. Out-of-state students who are interested in receiving funds through their state grant program should be aware of their state deadline date; these dates are listed in the FAFSA instruction booklet and at <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov> (click on "Check Deadlines").

Types of Financial Aid

The financial aid program at NCSA offers Federal and State grants, loans, employment, and scholarships. Financial aid is awarded on the basis of a student's demonstrated need. Demonstrated need is determined by subtracting the estimated family contribution (based on the FAFSA calculation) from the cost of attendance (a budget determined by the institution, according to Federal guidelines). A student who demonstrates financial need and applies on time can expect to receive a financial aid award letter from NCSA, which may include funds from one or more of the following sources.

Grants (gift aid)

Federal Pell Grant Program is designed to provide financial assistance to needy undergraduate college students seeking a first bachelor's degree. For the 2003-04 academic year, the Federal Pell Grant Program provides grants ranging from $400 to $4,050 per year, depending on your financial circumstances and Federal appropriations.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG) awards are reserved for undergraduate students with exceptional financial need. The award amount varies, depending on the student's financial situation and Federal appropriations.

North Carolina Student Incentive Grant (NCSIG) is from matching Federal and State funds. Eligibility is determined by the FAFSA, and the program is administered by the College Foundation, Inc. (CFI).

UNC Need-based Grants are subject to final appropriations decisions by the North Carolina General Assembly. Need is determined by data supplied on the FAFSA, applied to a special formula. The program is administered by the College Foundation, Inc. (CFI)

Other states award grants, and some allow students to "take them out of state." In addition to the FAFSA, a separate state application may be necessary to receive this grant. Students should contact their state education department.

Federal Work-Study Employment (self-help)

Federal Work-Study (FWS) is a Federal program through which undergraduate college students are provided with jobs, so that they may earn money to meet expenses. Students participating in this program work an average of four to five hours per week. New students awarded FWS must attend an orientation program during the first week of fall term.

College and high school students who want to work on campus but do not qualify for the FWS program may be interviewed and hired by specific departments. These positions are not administered by the Office of Student Financial Aid; students should contact the specific departments directly regarding openings.

Loans (self-help)

Federal Perkins Loan is a low interest (5%) loan awarded to undergraduate college students. Students must sign a promissory note but do not have to start repayment until nine months after leaving school or dropping below half-time status.

Federal Direct Loan Program provides low interest loans directly from the U.S. Department of Education to college students. Students may qualify with at least half-time enrollment. There are a variety of loans available for the student borrower and the parent borrower. Subsidized student loans are based on demonstrated need, but Unsubsidized student loads and PLUS (parent) loans are available to students and parents regardless of need. Grace period, interest rates, deferments and repayment terms differ for each loan. Information regarding the terms of the loan will be provided at the time the student receives their award letter.

Subsidized Federal Direct Loans are Federally-insured loans available to the student borrower. Interest is covered by the Federal government during the in-school period and for a six-month grace period. The interest rate is variable with a cap of 8.25%.

Unsubsidized Federal Direct Loans are loans with the same terms as the Subsidized Federal Direct Loan, except the student is responsible for paying the interest, which begins accruing from the date of the first disbursement. Quarterly interest statements will be sent. Any unpaid interest will be capitalized when the student goes into repayment. This loan can be used to replace expected family contribution or for students who do not demonstrate eligibility for need-based aid (based on the FAFSA), up to the maximum allowed per grade level.

Under the student loans, the maximum annual loan limits are $2,625 for freshmen, $3,500 for sophomores, $5,500 for juniors and seniors, and $8,500 for graduate students. Students classified as independent according to FAFSA guidelines may be eligible for additional unsubsidized loan amounts not to exceed $4,000 for freshmen and sophomores, $5,000 for juniors and seniors, and $10,000 for graduate students.

Federal Direct PLUS Loan is a Federal loan available to provide additional funds for educational expenses to parents of dependent college students at a variable low interest rate, with a 9% interest cap. A parent may borrow up to the cost of attendance minus estimated financial aid per academic year. No demonstration of need is necessary to borrow under this program, however the borrower must be credit worthy – a credit check will be performed.

Note: First-time borrowers of Federal Direct Loans at North Carolina School of the Arts are required to attend Entrance Counseling. According to Federal regulations, first-year undergraduate loan borrowers can expect their first loan disbursement to be held for the first 30 days of the program before it can be credited to their account.

Students who borrow under any of the loan programs offered at NCSA are also required to attend Exit Counseling before leaving campus at the time of graduation or withdrawal from the institution. Any student who fails to complete Exit Counseling can expect to have a “hold” placed on their academic record, pending completion of this Federal requirement.

Scholarships (gift aid)

All students who apply for financial aid with the FAFSA are automatically considered for scholarships based solely on demonstrated financial need. Other scholarships may be awarded by the arts dean, based on talent determined at the time of audition or evaluations. Students who want to apply for talent scholarships may wish to complete the FAFSA, since the arts dean may use this information in combination with talent qualifications to make scholarship awards. All scholarships are packaged as part of a student’s financial aid award by the Office of Student Financial Aid.

The following scholarships are provided in conjunction with The University of North Carolina:

The C.M. and M.D. Suther Scholarship is awarded annually to a full-time North Carolina resident undergraduate student on the basis of academic standing and financial need. Recipients are chosen by the Office of Student Financial Aid. Awards are nonrenewable and vary in amount according to income available from the trust.

The A.P. and Frances Dickson Scholarship is awarded annually to a full-time undergraduate student who permanent residence is in Hoke County, N.C. Recipients are chosen by the Office of Student Financial Aid on the basis of academic standing and financial need. Awards are nonrenewable and vary in amount according to income available from the trust.

The James Lee Love Scholarship is awarded annually to a full-time North Carolina resident undergraduate student. Recipients are chosen by the Office of Student Financial Aid on the basis of academic standing and financial need. Awards are nonrenewable and vary in amount according to income available from the trust.

Outside Scholarships

Scholarship information may be available from private foundations, religious organizations, community organizations, and civic groups, as well as professional organizations related to your field of interest. Be sure to explore these opportunities in your local community.

The World Wide Web offers a wide range of free information and resource listings for students and prospective students in all areas of study. In addition, students can also find free information in the reference section of local libraries (usually under "student aid" or "financial aid"). These materials typically include information about Federal, state and institutional resources, as well as private scholarships.

Note: Students receiving need-based financial aid are required to report all outside sources of aid they receive to the Office of Student Financial Aid.

Other Sources

Department of Veterans Affairs

A student who is a veteran or a dependent of a deceased or disabled veteran may be eligible for benefits. Students should contact the Department of Veterans Affairs for more information.

Vocational Rehabilitation

Students with a handicap may wish to contact the Vocational Rehabilitation Office in their state for more information.

Financial Aid Determination and Award

Awards are made to full-time students who are pursuing high school diplomas, undergraduate degrees or arts diplomas and masters degrees during the academic year. (Special students are not eligible for need-based aid; students needing assistance for Summer Session attendance should contact the arts dean.) Because of limited funding, financial aid will be awarded to part-time students only after full-time student needs have been met. Students wishing to be considered for Federal financial aid must be U.S. citizens or eligible non-citizens (see FAFSA for definition). Financial aid at NCSA is awarded without discrimination against a student's race, religion, color, national origin, sex, age, sexual orientation, or handicap.

It is important that students understand that all financial aid awards are dependent upon institutional, private, state and/or Federal funding. Although NCSA fully intends to be able to adequately fund offers made and provide accurate information, there is always a possibility that a program may be discontinued, funds may not be appropriated to NCSA, or a computational error may be made. If this happens, students will be notified immediately regarding any change in an award

Verification of Student Aid Application Information

The U.S. Department of Education may select a student's application for a process called "verification." This process requires the student to submit certain documents to verify the information supplied on the FAFSA. If selected, the student may be asked to submit copies of his/her Federal income tax return, his/her parent(s)'s federal income tax return(s) and other documents. The Office of Student Financial Aid will contact the student regarding these forms. Prompt responses assure eligibility.

Failure to provide verification information means the student will not receive aid from the U.S. Department of Education and may not receive need-based aid from other sources. Also, any person who intentionally makes false statements or misrepresentations on a Federal aid application is violating the law and is subject to fine or imprisonment or both.

Renewal of Financial Aid

Applicants must file a new financial aid application for each year of enrollment. Students who filed a FAFSA in the prior year will receive a Renewal Application form for the upcoming year. The Renewal Application can be updated and submitted as the FAFSA for the upcoming year. Awards may vary from year to year as family circumstances and availability of funds change. To be eligible for the renewal of aid, a student must continue to have demonstrated need and be maintaining satisfactory academic progress at NCSA. A student is not eligible for financial assistance if he/she owes a refund of Federal grant aid or is in default on a Federal loan.

Applicants can also choose to complete "FAFSA on the Web" at the following Internet address:
<http://www.fafsa.ed.gov>

Student Responsibilities

Students have the responsibility to:

- Apply for admission;
- Complete all financial aid forms accurately and submit them in a timely manner;
- Reapply for financial aid each academic year;
- Provide any additional information as requested by the Office of Student Financial Aid or any other NCSA office;
- Inform the Office of Student Financial Aid of any personal changes (increase or decrease in your financial resources, change in name, address and/or Social Security Number, withdrawal or transfer from NCSA);
- Enroll for the necessary number of credit hours;
- Honor the policies and procedures set forth in the NCSA Bulletin and the Campus Life Handbook;
- Request any information you feel is necessary;
- Perform the work that is agreed upon in accepting work-study; and
- Attend required loan counseling and repay your loans in accordance with your repayment schedule.

Student Rights

Students have the right to:

- Obtain information about the student aid programs available at NCSA;
- Apply and be considered for assistance;
- Request an explanation of any phase of the financial aid process;
- Request special consideration if your family's financial circumstances change significantly (students/families must take the initiative in notifying the Office of Student Financial Aid of these changes);
- Request an appointment with the Director of Student Financial Aid concerning financing your education;
- Request information concerning academic programs, costs and refunds, physical facilities, student retention, etc.; and
- Appeal financial aid awards or denials based upon academic progress or enrollment requirements.

Refunds of Charges and Return of Financial Aid Due to Withdrawal from NCSA

If a student withdraws from NCSA during a term, a refund is calculated according to NCSA refund policies. These policies vary according to whether or not the student is a recipient of Title IV Federal Aid such as the Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG), Federal Perkins Loan, and Federal Direct Loans (Subsidized, Unsubsidized, and PLUS). A determination is then made as to whether any aid must be returned to the Title IV Federal Aid Program, any state program or any institutional funds. Required return of funds to all financial aid programs must be made prior to the refund to the student.

Financial aid funds are to be used for expenses related to attendance at NCSA. Therefore, if you withdraw from or stop attending NCSA after receiving funds from a Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG), Federal Perkins Loan, and Federal Direct Loans (Subsidized, Unsubsidized, and PLUS), you may be required to repay all or a portion of the financial aid given to you from a credit balance on your student account. The repayment amount will be calculated on the basis of the calendar days remaining in the term at the time of your withdrawal from or failure to attend NCSA. You will be notified of any repayments for which you are responsible.

A copy of the "Withdrawal from NCSA – Refund of Charges and Return of Financial Aid" is available from the Office of Student Financial Aid upon request.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

To be eligible for Federal aid programs, a returning college student must maintain "satisfactory academic progress." Satisfactory academic progress is determined using the three areas listed below:

Qualitative (grade point average)

To be progressing satisfactorily, a student at NCSA must maintain a specific minimum cumulative grade point average (combined arts and general studies). The grade point average is monitored at the end of each academic year. The acceptable cumulative grade point average (GPA) for each increment is listed below:

Undergraduate		Graduate
1st year	1.75 GPA	Every Year	2.5 GPA
2nd through 9th year	2.00 GPA

Quantitative (hours attempted vs. hours completed)

The following graduated scale will be used to monitor the number of hours completed for each academic year:

1st year	65% of hours attempted
2nd year	70% of hours attempted
3rd year	75% of hours attempted
4th through 9th year	80% of hours attempted
Graduate	80% of hours attempted

Maximum Timeframe (to complete a program)

Normal Length:	Maximum Timeframe:
	Full-time	Part-time
Undergraduate 4-year program	5 years	8 years
Undergraduate 5-year program	6 years	9 years
Graduate program (2 or 3 yrs.)	4 years	6 years

This policy applies only to students who have been asked to return officially by the arts dean and who are applying for Federal financial aid. (Any student who appeals and is reinstated after a notice of "Not Invited to Return" must appeal for reinstatement of financial aid eligibility as well.) A complete copy of the "NCSA Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy — College Only" is available upon request from the Office of Student Financial Aid.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA HISTORY

In North Carolina, the public educational institutions that grant baccalaureate degrees are part of the University of North Carolina. The North Carolina School of the Arts is one of the 16 constituent institutions of the multi-campus state university.

The University of North Carolina, chartered by the N.C. General Assembly in 1789, was the first public university in the United States to open its doors and the only one to graduate students in the 18th century. The first class was admitted in Chapel Hill in 1795. For the next 136 years, the only campus of the University of North Carolina was at Chapel Hill.

In 1877, the N.C. General Assembly began sponsoring additional institutions of higher education, diverse in origin and purpose. Five were historically black institutions, and another was founded to educate American Indians. Several were created to prepare teachers for the public schools. Others had a technological emphasis. One is a training school for performing artists.

In 1931, the N.C. General Assembly redefined the University of North Carolina to include three state-supported institutions: the campus at Chapel Hill (now the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill), North Carolina State College (now North Carolina State University at Raleigh), and Woman's College (now the University of North Carolina at Greensboro). The new multi-campus University operated with one board of trustees and one president. By 1969, three additional campuses had joined the University through legislative action: the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, the University of North Carolina at Asheville, and the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.

In 1971, the General Assembly passed legislation bringing into the University of North Carolina the state's 10 remaining public senior institutions, each of which had until then been legally separate: Appalachian State University, East Carolina University, Elizabeth City State University, Fayetteville State University, North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University, North Carolina Central University, the North Carolina School of the Arts, Pembroke State University, Western Carolina University, and Winston-Salem State University. This action created the current 16-campus University. (In 1985, the North Carolina School of Science and Mathematics, a residential high school for gifted students, was declared an affiliated school of the University; and in 1996, Pembroke State University was renamed the University of North Carolina at Pembroke through legislative action.)

The UNC Board of Governors is the policy-making body legally charged with "the general determination, control, supervision, management, and governance of all affairs of the constituent institutions." It elects the president, who administers the University. The 32 voting members of the Board of Governors are elected by the General Assembly for four-year terms. Former board chairmen and board members who are former governors of North Carolina may continue to serve for limited periods as non-voting members emeriti. The president of the UNC Association of Student Governments, or that student's designee, is also a non-voting member.

Each of the 16 constituent institutions is headed by a chancellor, who is chosen by the Board of Governors on the president's nomination and is responsible to the president. Each institution has a board of trustees, consisting of eight members elected by the Board of Governors, four appointed by the governor, and the president of the student body, who serves as ex-officio. (The North Carolina School of the Arts has two additional ex-officio members.) Each board of trustees holds extensive powers over academic and other operations of its institution on delegation from the Board of Governors.

POLICIES REGARDING PROBATION, SUSPENSION, EXPULSION, READMISSION

Probation

The faculty evaluate students each term for professional growth in their major. Any student not demonstrating sufficient progress may be placed on probation. Students who, at the end of the probation period, have not improved, may not be invited to continue in the program. College students in a degree program must also meet the standards outlined for progress in their General Studies work. Individual standards for each area are as follows:

Dance

As previously described in the School of Dance section of this Bulletin, students must maintain a "B-" (2.80) average in dance to continue in the program. Students earning an average of 2.79 or below in dance classes for a given term are placed on arts probation for the following term. A student must achieve a 2.80 average by the end of the term to be removed from arts probation.

There are no unexcused absences allowed in the School of Dance. An unexcused absence may result in arts probation.

Students on arts probation are not permitted to perform during that term and are not to be considered for merit scholarship funds. Students on arts probation for two or more terms may not be asked to return to the School.

Design & Production

Students must maintain a 2.0 average through the first year and a 2.5 average for subsequent years. Students who fail to maintain these levels for a given term are placed on arts probation for the following term.

Visual Arts

Students in the high school Visual Arts Program must maintain a 3.0 average in studio art classes each term. Failure to meet this requirement will result in a one-term probation period in which the student must attain a 3.0 average in each studio art class to continue in the program.

Drama

The freshman year is a probationary year, during which students are expected to maintain a 2.5 average each term. Students at subsequent levels must achieve a cumulative average of at least 3.0. After grades have been considered at the end of each term, the faculty determines if a student should be placed on arts probation for the following term based on these criteria:

- Ability to absorb instruction
- Assessment of basic talent
- Ability to work and produce a performance

Filmmaking

Refer to Standards of Achievement and Evaluation in the School of Filmmaking section of this Bulletin.

Music

Students must earn at least a 3.0 ("B") average in Applied Music and an average of 2.0 ("C") in their other music courses. Those failing to meet both these requirements will be placed on arts probation. Based on criteria of artistic potential, professional growth and productive attitudes, as judged by the major teacher and subject to the dean's approval, a student may be placed on arts probation at any time. Although one term of probation may be sufficient for a student not to be invited to continue, in special cases probation may be extended to three terms. In addition to the student's talent, potential and progress in his or her major, grades earned in music courses are taken into serious consideration for determination of arts probation, retention and dismissal.

General Studies

College degree students are subject to the following General Studies standards:

- Students who have completed half of the General Studies requirements for their degree must maintain a 2.0 cumulative average and a 2.0 term average each term in General Studies courses. A student who fails to achieve these standards will be placed on General Studies probation for the following term. The student whose cumulative average in General Studies courses falls below 2.0 for two consecutive terms will be dismissed from the degree program.
- Students who have not completed half of the General Studies requirements for their degree must maintain a 1.8 cumulative average and a 1.8 term average each term in General Studies courses. A student who fails to achieve these standards for a given term will be placed on General Studies probation for the following term. The student whose cumulative average in General Studies courses falls below 1.8 for three consecutive terms will be dismissed from the degree program.

Invitations to Return

All students in all arts programs must be invited to continue in their programs periodically. Students who, in the judgment of the faculty, fail to demonstrate sufficient progress toward professional standards in the arts will not be invited to return.

Readmission

Students who have terminated their enrollment at NCSA for any reason, including failure to be invited to continue in a program, must apply for readmission prior to being allowed to reenroll. Such students must meet admission standards outlined for all entering students. A student whose enrollment has been interrupted for two years or more will, upon reentry, be responsible for the program requirements outlined in the Bulletin in effect at the time of reentry.

Suspension

Policy: Administrative Hearing Prior to Suspension

In certain highly sensitive situations and in cases related to disorderly or disruptive conduct by a student(s) which significantly affects the ability of other students, faculty or staff to maintain a campus environment conducive to individual growth and to have a secure campus, the vice chancellor for Student Life may convene an administrative hearing to consider allegations of student misconduct. A few examples of conduct which might result in such a hearing are:

- Disorderly, disruptive or potentially dangerous behavior which disturbs, disrupts or prevents students, faculty, and staff from enjoying an environment which promotes individual and group growth and learning;
- Repeated failure to comply with arts school and/or General Studies attendance policies and/or to complete assignments as assigned; or
- Any other behaviors which indicate that the student(s) is engaging in activities which are preventing the student(s) from being productive in the student's arts or General Studies work.

The purposes of the hearing before the administrative committee shall include (1) to examine the allegation against the student(s), (2) to give the student(s) opportunity to speak in her/his own defense, and (3) to reach a conclusion about penalties or consequence including any recommendations which need to be made to the chancellor (i.e., penalties such as expulsion or suspension). Expulsion means permanent dismissal from the North Carolina School of the Arts.

The hearing of the administrative committee shall be chaired by the vice chancellor for Student Life. The committee members shall be:

- The dean of the school in which the student is enrolled,
- The dean of General Studies (optional if the student is non-degree seeking), and
- Any other individuals deemed appropriate by the vice chancellor whose involvement is germane to the situation under consideration and whose presence would be in the best interest of the student(s) involved as well as the campus community.

The procedures of the administrative committee hearing shall include (1) listening to the charges involving the student(s), (2) hearing from the student(s) about their experience in the situation, (3) deliberating on what actions are called for in the situation, and (4) following through with the conclusions reached through deliberations.

The NCSA Student Code of Conduct procedures for penalty assessment may not apply to administrative hearing recommendations. Committee decisions regarding penalties shall be determined by the information presented in the hearing regardless of whether the student(s) has any Student Code of Conduct violations on his/her social rules record.

If the committee decides that the allegations against the student(s) are unwarranted, that shall be reported to the student(s), to the school staff on a need-to-know basis and, when necessary, to the chancellor. If the committee decides that evidence supports the allegations, then the committee may recommend expulsion or suspension to the chancellor, and/or determine other appropriate action that shall be required of the student(s).

Appeals of Academic/Arts Decisions

A student who wishes to appeal an academic/arts decision should first address his/her concern to the person initially making the decision. In the case of a question concerning a specific course, for example, the concern would be addressed to the course's instructor. If the situation warrants, the student may then carry his/her concern to the head of the school/division (the dean or the dean's delegate), and finally to the provost. The matter should be addressed first within the school/division in which it originated, and then it may be addressed by the appropriate supervisor, who is the provost.

Annual Notification Of Rights Under The Family Educational Rights And Privacy Act

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. They are:

(1) The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the University receives a request for access.

Students should submit to the registrar, dean, or other appropriate official, written request that identify the record (s) they wish to inspect. The School official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.

(2) The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading.

Students may ask the School to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should write the School official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading.

If the School decides not to amend the records as requested by the student, the School will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his her or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

(3) The right to consent to disclosure of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the School in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personal and health staff); a person or company with whom the School has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.

A School official has legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

Upon request, the School discloses education records without consent to officials of another school, in which a student seeks or intends to enroll. [Note: FERPA requires an institution to make a reasonable attempt to notify the student of the records request unless the institution states in its annual notification that it intends to forward records request.]

(4) The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department Education concerning alleged failures by State University to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office

U.S. Department of Education

400 Maryland Avenue, SW.

Washington, DC 20202-4605

Notice of Directory Information

In accordance with the Family Educational Rights & Privacy Act (FERPA), Directory Information at the North Carolina School of the Arts is defined to include: the student's name, parents' names, addresses, telephone listings, date and place of birth, major field of study, class level, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended by the student, e-mail address, class schedule, and full-or part-time status. Some of this information, including name, mailing address, field of study, class level, telephone number and e-mail address may be included on NCSA's website.

Directory information is considered public information and will be released unless the student requests a "privacy hold." All other information is considered private, and will not be released outside the School without the written permission of the student, unless a specific exception under FERPA applies. Students may request a Privacy Hold by submitting a letter or appropriate form to the Registrar by the end of the first week of the school year or initial period of enrollment. Such requests must be filed annually.

Grades will be mailed to the parents of high school students each term. Grades will not be mailed to the parents of college-level students without a signed, written request by the student. Grades will be sent to parents of a college student without the student's permission only if the parents provide written documentation of the fact that the student is listed as a dependent on federal income tax returns.

Questions concerning Student Records and FERPA should be addressed to the Registrar's Office.

GRADUATION RATE

Our data shows that 45.5% of the first-time full-time freshman students who entered the North Carolina School of the Arts in Fall 1996 have received a baccalaureate degree or Arts Diploma from this institution as of Fall 2002. This information is provided pursuant to requirements of the Student-Right-to Know and Campus Security Act.

RESIDENCE STATUS FOR TUITION PURPOSES

Definition of In-State Residency

The North Carolina School of the Arts defines "in-state residency," when referring to an academic program and/or tuition rate, as outlined and defined in North Carolina General Statute 116-143.1. The term is defined in detail in A Manual to Assist the Public Higher Education Institutions of North Carolina in the Matter of Student Residence Classification for Tuition Purposes. This manual may be found in most North Carolina libraries and/or any admissions or financial aid offices at any of the 16 constituent campuses of the University of North Carolina. The basis for determining the appropriate tuition charge rests upon whether a student is a resident or nonresident for tuition purposes. Each student must make a statement as to the length of his or her residency in North Carolina, with assessment by the institution of that statement to be conditioned by the following.

Residence

To qualify as a resident for tuition purposes, a person must become a legal resident and remain a legal resident for at least 12 months immediately prior to classification. Thus, there is a distinction between legal residence and residence for tuition purposes. Furthermore, 12 months legal residence means more than simple abode in North Carolina. In particular it means "maintaining a domicile (permanent home of indefinite duration) as opposed to maintaining a mere temporary residence or abode incident to enrollment in an institution of higher education." The burden of establishing facts which justify classification of a student as a resident entitled to in-state tuition rates is on the applicant for such classification, who must show his or her entitlement by the preponderance (the greater part) of the residentiary information.

Initiative

Being classified a resident for tuition purposes is contingent on the students seeking such status and providing all information that the institution may require in making the determination. Admissions office staff members are eager to assist students who desire to discuss and/or initiate action which may allow an applicant to be considered for "in-state status for tuition purposes."

Parents' Domicile

If an individual, irrespective of age, has living parent(s) or court-appointed guardian of the person, the domicile of such parent(s) or guardian is, prima facie, the domicile of the individual; but this prima facie evidence of the individual's domicile may or may not be sustained by other information. Further non-domiciliary status of parents is not deemed prima facie evidence of the applicant child's status if the applicant has lived (though not necessarily legally resided) in North Carolina for the five years preceding enrollment or re-registration.

Effect of Marriage

Marriage alone does not prevent a person from becoming or continuing to be a resident for tuition purposes, nor does marriage in any circumstance ensure that a person will become or continue to be a resident for tuition purposes. Marriage and the legal residence of one's spouse are, however, relevant information in determining residentiary intent. Furthermore, if both a husband and his wife are legal residents of North Carolina and if one of them has been a legal resident longer than the other, then the longer duration may be claimed by either spouse in meeting the 12-month requirement for in-state tuition status.

Military Personnel

A North Carolinian who serves outside the state in the armed forces does not lose North Carolina domicile simply by reason of such service. Students from the military may prove retention or establishment of residence by reference, as in other cases, to residency acts accompanied by residential intent.

In addition, a separate North Carolina statute affords tuition rate benefits to certain military personnel and their dependents even though not qualifying for the in-state tuition rate by reason of 12 months legal residence in North Carolina. Members of the armed services, while stationed in and concurrently living in North Carolina, may be charged a tuition rate lower than the out-of-state tuition rate to the extent that the total of entitlements for applicable tuition costs available from the federal government, plus certain amounts based under a statutory formula upon the in-state tuition rate, is a sum less than the out-of-state tuition rate for the pertinent enrollment. A dependent relative of a service member stationed in North Carolina is eligible to be charged the in-state tuition rate while the dependent relative is living in North Carolina with the service member and if the dependent relative has met any requirement of the Selective Service System applicable to the dependent relative. These tuition benefits may be enjoyed only if the applicable requirements for admission have been met; these benefits alone do not provide the basis for receiving those derivative benefits under the provisions of the residence classification statute reviewed elsewhere in this summary.

Grace Period

If a person (1) has been a bona fide legal resident, (2) has consequently been classified a resident for tuition purposes, and (3) has subsequently lost North Carolina legal residence while enrolled at a public institution of higher education, that person may continue to enjoy the in-state tuition rate for a grace period of 12 months measured from the date on which North Carolina legal residence was lost. If the 12 months ends during an academic term for which the person is enrolled at a state institution of higher education, the grace period extends, in addition, to the end of that term. The fact of marriage to one who continues domiciled outside North Carolina does not by itself cause loss of legal residence, marking the beginning of the grace period.

Minors

Minors (persons under 18 years of age) usually have the domicile of their parents, but certain special cases are recognized by the residence classification statute in determining residence for tuition purposes.

(a) If a minor's parents live apart, the minor's domicile is deemed to be North Carolina for the time period(s) that either parent, as a North Carolina legal resident, may claim and does claim the minor as a tax dependent, even if other law or judicial act assigns the minor's domicile outside North Carolina. A minor thus deemed to be a legal resident will not, upon achieving majority before enrolling at an institution of higher education, lose North Carolina legal residence if that person (1) upon becoming an adult "acts, to the extent that the person's degree of actual emancipation permits, in a manner consistent with bona fide legal residence in North Carolina" and (2) "begins enrollment at an institution of higher education not later than the fall academic term next following completion of education prerequisite to admission at such institution."

(b) If a minor has lived for five or more consecutive years with relatives (other than parents) who are domiciled in North Carolina and if the relatives have functioned during this time as if they were personal guardians, the minor will be deemed a resident for tuition purposes for an enrolled term commencing immediately after at least five years in which these circumstances have existed. If under this consideration a minor is deemed to be a resident for tuition purposes immediately prior to his or her 18th birthday, that person on achieving majority will be deemed a legal resident of North Carolina of at least 12 months duration. This provision acts to confer in-state tuition status even in the face of other provisions of law to the contrary; however, a person deemed a resident of 12 months duration pursuant to this provision continues to be a legal resident of the state only so long as he or she does not abandon North Carolina domicile.

Lost but Regained Domicile

If a student ceases enrollment at or graduates from an institution of higher education while classified a resident for tuition purposes and then both abandons and reacquires North Carolina domicile within a 12-month period, that person, if he or she continues to maintain the reacquired domicile into reenrollment at an institution of higher education, may reenroll at the in-state tuition rate without having to meet the usual 12-month durational requirement. However, any one person may receive the benefit of this provision only once.

Change Of Status

A student admitted to initial enrollment in an institution (or permitted to reenroll following an absence from the institutional program which involved a formal withdrawal from enrollment) must be classified by the admitting institution either as a resident or as a nonresident for tuition purposes prior to actual enrollment. A residence status classification once assigned (and finalized pursuant to any appeal properly taken) may be changed thereafter (with corresponding change in billing rates) only at intervals corresponding with the established primary divisions of the academic year.

Transfer Students

When a student transfers from one North Carolina public institution of higher education to another, he or she is treated as a new student by the institution to which he or she is transferring and must be assigned an initial residence status classification for tuition purposes.

POLICY ON ILLEGAL DRUGS

I. Purpose

The North Carolina School of the Arts is a residential educational community dedicated to the artistic, personal and intellectual growth of students interested in training for careers in the performing arts. The NCSA Board of Trustees is committed to the maintenance and protection of a drug-free workplace in which students and faculty members may responsibly pursue these goals. It is the obligation of all members of the School community – students, faculty, administrators and other employees – to help maintain a drug-free workplace where academic and artistic freedom flourish and in which the rights of each member of the community are respected.

Illegal drugs in American society present a threat to the health and safety of members of the School community and endanger the attainment of its goals. This policy seeks to address the problem of illegal drugs by eliciting the cooperative efforts of all members of the School community.

II. Program Coordination

The vice chancellor for Student Life shall be responsible for coordinating and supervising the various elements of the Drug Abuse Prevention and Education Program including all educational activities and record-keeping.

III. Education, Counseling, Rehabilitation

The School's drug prevention program will emphasize education and rehabilitation. Specifically, these techniques will include information concerning the incompatibility of the use or sale of illegal drugs with the goal of the School; legal consequences of involvement with illegal drugs; medical implications of the use of illegal drugs; and ways in which illegal drugs jeopardize an individual's present accomplishments and future opportunities.

A. Students

The vice chancellor for Student Life will be responsible for developing the primary education methods designed specifically to prevent substance abuse problems, including the following:

- 1) Statements in the Campus Life Handbook;
- 2) Drug information sessions during the academic year;
- 3) Distribution of drug information literature by the Student Health Services and the counselors;
- 4) Special mini-lectures and discussions by residence hall groups and the counselors;
- 5) Annual training program for Residence Life staff and resident assistants, and others that could profit from such training; and
- 6) Referral to drug counseling services in the Winston-Salem community (for example, Step One).

B. Employees

1. No later than Sept. 1, 1988, this policy was distributed to all faculty and staff along with a letter which communicated the incompatibility of the use or sale of illegal drugs with the goals of the School; the legal consequences of involvement with illegal drugs; the medical implications of the use of illegal drugs; and the ways in which illegal drugs jeopardize an individual's present accomplishments and future opportunities. The letter will be reissued at least once a year.

2. A pamphlet designed to educate the campus about the health hazards associated with drug abuse will be distributed at least once a year to all employees.

3. Supervisors will be encouraged prior to Sept. 1, 1988, and at least once a year thereafter to remind faculty and staff of the School's program. Human resources office will remind supervisors of their responsibilities toward SPA employees; the vice chancellor for Arts and Academic Affairs will remind deans and other supervisors of their responsibilities toward faculty and other EPA employees.

C. Referrals

The community mechanisms mentioned above will include information regarding community counseling medical and rehabilitation resources dealing with substance abuse and information on health insurance benefits associated with substance abuse. Because most supervisors do not have the professional qualifications to judge whether an employee or a student has a drug problem, special training and information will be provided supervisors that will enable them to be alert, in an informed way, to substance abuse at an early stage of development.

Through the referral mechanisms noted, an employee or student with a possible substance abuse problem will be encouraged to seek confidential diagnosis and treatment. The seeking of help in such matters should not, in and of itself, interfere with enrollment or job status or promotional opportunities. Persons who voluntarily seek counseling shall be assured that applicable professional standards of confidentiality will be observed.

IV. Enforcement and Penalties

Students, faculty members, administrators and other employees are responsible, as citizens, for knowing about and complying with the provisions of North Carolina law that make it a crime to possess, sell, deliver, or manufacture those drugs designated collectively as "controlled substances" in Article 5 of Chapter 90 of the North Carolina General Statutes. Any member of the School community who violates that law is subject both to prosecution and punishment by the civil authorities and to disciplinary proceedings by the School. It is not "double jeopardy" for both the civil authorities and the School to proceed and punish a person for the same specified conduct. The School will initiate its own disciplinary proceeding against a student, faculty member, administrator, or other employee when the alleged conduct is deemed to affect the interests of the School.

Penalties will be imposed by the School in accordance with procedural safeguards applicable to disciplinary actions against students as specified in the Campus Life Handbook, and "covered employees" as specified in Section 111-D of "Employment Policies for University Employees Exempt from the State Personnel Act." Other employees subject to the State Personnel Act will be subject to disciplinary proceedings and procedural safeguards according to regulations of the State Personnel Commission. [Where this policy is in conflict with regulations of the State Personnel Commission for SPA employees, the policies of the commission supersede.]

The penalties to be imposed by the School may range from written warnings with probationary status to expulsion from enrollment and discharge from employment. However, the following minimum penalties shall be imposed within 30 days of the notification of any drug statute conviction for the particular offenses described: Compliance with the drug policy is a condition of employment. Anyone working under a federal grant must report within five working days any conviction.

A. Trafficking in Illegal Drugs

- 1) For the illegal manufacture, sale or delivery or possession with intent to manufacture, sell or deliver, of any controlled substance identified in Schedule I, N.C. General Statutes 90-89, or Schedule 11, N.C. General Statutes 90-90 (including but not limited to, heroin, mescaline, lysergic acid diethylamide, opium, cocaine, amphetamine methaqualine), any student shall be expelled and any faculty member, administrator or other employee shall be discharged.
- 2) For a first offense involving illegal manufacture, sale or delivery, or possession with intent to manufacture, sell or deliver, of any controlled substance identified in Schedules III through VI, N.C. General Statutes 90-91 through 90-94, (including but not limited to, marijuana, Phenobarbital, codeine) the minimum penalty shall be suspension from employment or enrollment for a period of at least one term or its equivalent. For a second offense, any faculty member, administrator, or other employee shall be discharged and any student shall be expelled.

B. Illegal Possession of Drugs

- 1) For a first offense involving the illegal possession of any controlled substance identified in Schedule I, N.C. General Statutes 90-89, or Schedule 11, N.C. General Statutes 90-90, the minimum penalty shall be suspension from employment or enrollment for a period of at least one term or its equivalent, consistent with The University of North Carolina Policy on Illegal Drugs.
- 2) For a first offense involving the illegal possession of any controlled substance identified in Schedules III through VI, N.C. General Statutes 90-91 through 90-94, the minimum penalty shall be probation, for a period to be determined on a case-by-case basis. A person on probation must agree to participate in a drug education and counseling program, consent to regular drug testing, and accept such other conditions and restrictions, including a program of community service, as the chancellor or chancellor's designee deems appropriate. Refusal or failure to abide by the terms of probation shall result in suspension from enrollment or from employment for any unexpired balance of the prescribed period of probation.
- 3) For second or other subsequent offenses involving the illegal possession of controlled substances, progressively more severe penalties shall be imposed, including expulsion of students and discharge of faculty members, administrators or other employees.
- 4) After completing the prescribed period of suspension from enrollment or employment under sections 4 (a) 2 and 4 (b) 1, students, faculty or other employees who return to enrollment or employment will be subject to probation. All such probationary terms will include drug education and counseling, at a minimum, and may include such other conditions and restrictions as the chancellor or the chancellor's designee deems appropriate, including community service.

C. Suspension Pending Final Disposition

When a student, faculty member, administrator or other employee has been charged by the School with a violation of policies concerning illegal drugs, he or she may be suspended from enrollment or employment before initiation or completion of regular disciplinary proceedings if, assuming the truth of the charges, the chancellor or the chancellor's designee concludes that the person's continued presence within the School community would constitute a clear and immediate danger to the health or welfare of other members of the School community. If such a suspension is imposed, an appropriate hearing of the charges against the suspended person shall be held as promptly as possible thereafter.

V. Implementation and Reporting

Annually, the chancellor shall submit to the board of trustees a report on campus activities related to illegal drugs for the preceding year. The report shall include:

- 1) A list of the major education activities conducted during the year,
- 2) A report on any illegal drug-related incidents, including any sanctions imposed;
- 3) An assessment by the chancellor of the effectiveness of the campus program; and
- 4) Any proposed changes in the policy on illegal drugs.

VI. Effective Date

This policy, as amended, was adopted by the North Carolina School of the Arts Board of Trustees at its April 10, 1990, meeting.
