TECHNOLOGY | AUGUST 2024

Sarah Iler said, “Nicole is nothing short of amazing. She is one of the most helpful people I have worked with on campus. Nicole responds to my questions quickly and helps resolve my issues almost as fast as they arise, making her my go to for all tech related questions. Most recently, she helped set up a new computer. During the more than 2-hour session, she patiently answered my questions, taught me how to access and use new features, and took care of every last-minute software installation request, all with a smile and a great attitude. Even before I walked in the door, Nicole had anticipated and addressed some recurring technical issues I had been having to make sure they did not carry over to this new machine. I quite literally could not have done any of this without her and am so grateful she made what could have been a miserable task quick, easy, painless, and (dare I say) a little fun. There is nothing she can’t do and I am so thankful she is part of the UNCSA family.
